

WHAT'S UP WITH MY Gut?

ENDORSED BY

Royal College of General Practitioners

Every day people across the UK visit their GP to find out why they have tummy trouble or problems with their poo.

Your GP can help and may suggest that you need some tests.

We know this can feel overwhelming, so we've created step-by-step guides to support and empower you.

The information includes:

- Which conditions the GP may look into
- The tests your GP may consider
- What to do once you have your results
