MARY, MOTHER OF GOD

Holy Day of Obligation, Thursday January 1st

The Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God, celebrated on January 1, honors one of the Church's most profound and ancient truths: that the Virgin Mary is truly the Mother of God because her Son, Jesus Christ, is fully divine and fully human. This title, affirmed at the Council of Ephesus in 431, safeguards our faith in the Incarnation: God truly entered human history, not as an idea or symbol, but as a person born of a woman. By honoring Mary under this title, the Church ultimately proclaims who Christ is: Emmanuel, God-with-us.

Vigil Mass | 7pm, Wednesday December 31st

Jan 1st Masses | 8:15am, Noon, 5:30pm

Celebrating the Whole Christmas Season

Many people are surprised to learn that Catholics celebrate Christmas not just a single day but as an entire season. The Christmas Season begins with the Nativity of the Lord on December 25 and continues until the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord, which is celebrated on January 11th this year. This extended season allows the Church to linger over the mystery of the Incarnation, rejoicing that God has entered our world and remains with us.

At the heart of the Christmas Season is the Christmas Octave, the eight-day period from December 25 through January 1. During these days, the Church celebrates Christmas as one continuous feast, as if every day were Christmas Day itself. Each day of the Octave highlights a different aspect of the mystery.

Within the Octave, the Church celebrates the Feast of the Holy Family, usually on the Sunday after Christmas, today. This feast invites families to look to Jesus, Mary, and Joseph as a model of love, patience, and faithfulness in everyday life. It is a beautiful opportunity to pray together as a family, ask God's blessing on the home, and reflect on how Christ dwells in the ordinary moments of family life.

The Octave concludes with the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God, on January 1st, a Holy Day of Obligation. This feast is not placed on January 1 to mark the civil new year, but liturgically as the culmination of the Octave of Christmas. On this day, Catholics honor Mary's unique role in God's plan of salvation and reflect on her faithful response to God in bearing His Son.

Catholics are invited to celebrate and live the Christmas Season from December 25th through the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord by keeping the joy and wonder of the Nativity alive in their homes and hearts. How can we do this? During the Octave of Christmas, December 25th through January 1st, the Church encourages feasting and rejoicing each day as if it were Christmas itself. You might also leave up Nativity scenes and decorations until the Baptism of the Lord on January 11th and continue to pray with Christmas devotionals and scheduling time to perform acts of charity and hospitality.

By intentionally savoring this extended celebration, we allow the mystery of the Incarnation to deepen in our lives, bringing the light, peace, and love of Christ into ordinary daily moments and strengthening our relationship with God and with others.

ON THE COVER

The Nativity of Jesus, Caravaggio, 1609

Caravaggio's The Nativity of Jesus, painted in 1609, presents the birth of Christ with striking humility and theological depth. Unlike idealized Renaissance depictions filled with celestial splendor, Caravaggio places the mystery of the Incarnation firmly within the poverty of the real world. The scene unfolds in deep shadow, illuminated only by a soft light, reminding us that Christ enters history quietly, without spectacle, yet with saving power. This visual restraint invites the viewer into both adoration and contemplation.

At the center of the painting lies the Christ Child, resting not in a manger but directly on the ground, laying on simple cloth. This powerful detail reflects the Catholic understanding of kenosis, Christ's self-emptying love (Philippians 2:6–7). The ground beneath Him symbolizes the world He comes to redeem, while His vulnerability foreshadows the sacrifice of the Cross. Caravaggio thus unites Christmas and Calvary, reminding us that the Child born in Bethlehem is the same who will offer Himself for our salvation.

Hovering above the scene, an angel descends bearing a banner inscribed with the words "Gloria in excelsis Deo"... Glory to God in the highest. This heavenly proclamation contrasts with the poverty below. The angel's presence reminds us that the Nativity is both an earthly event and a cosmic one, and that God's presence and activity abound even in the most hidden and humble places and moments.

Mary is depicted not as a queen but as a weary young mother. Seated low, her posture is subdued and reflective. Her quiet presence embodies the humility and obedience of the "handmaid of the Lord." St. Joseph stands protectively nearby, partially in shadow, representing faithful guardianship and trust in God's plan. Also present are St. Francis of Assisi and St. Lawrence, saints known for their radical poverty and service to the poor, reinforcing the Gospel message that Christ is most clearly encountered among the lowly.

The use of chiaroscuro, Caravaggio's dramatic contrast between light and darkness, carries rich theological meaning. The darkness surrounding the figures evokes a world wounded by sin, while the gentle light falling upon Christ signifies the true Light that "shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it" (John 1:5).

As we reflect on this sacred image, we are invited to seek Christ not in grandeur, but in humility, simplicity, and loving service, where God still chooses to dwell.

St. Francis of Assisi (L) and St. Joseph (R)
