

How Revive Can Get more homeowners on the phone

Hint:
Hero doesn't explain
the concept

Before

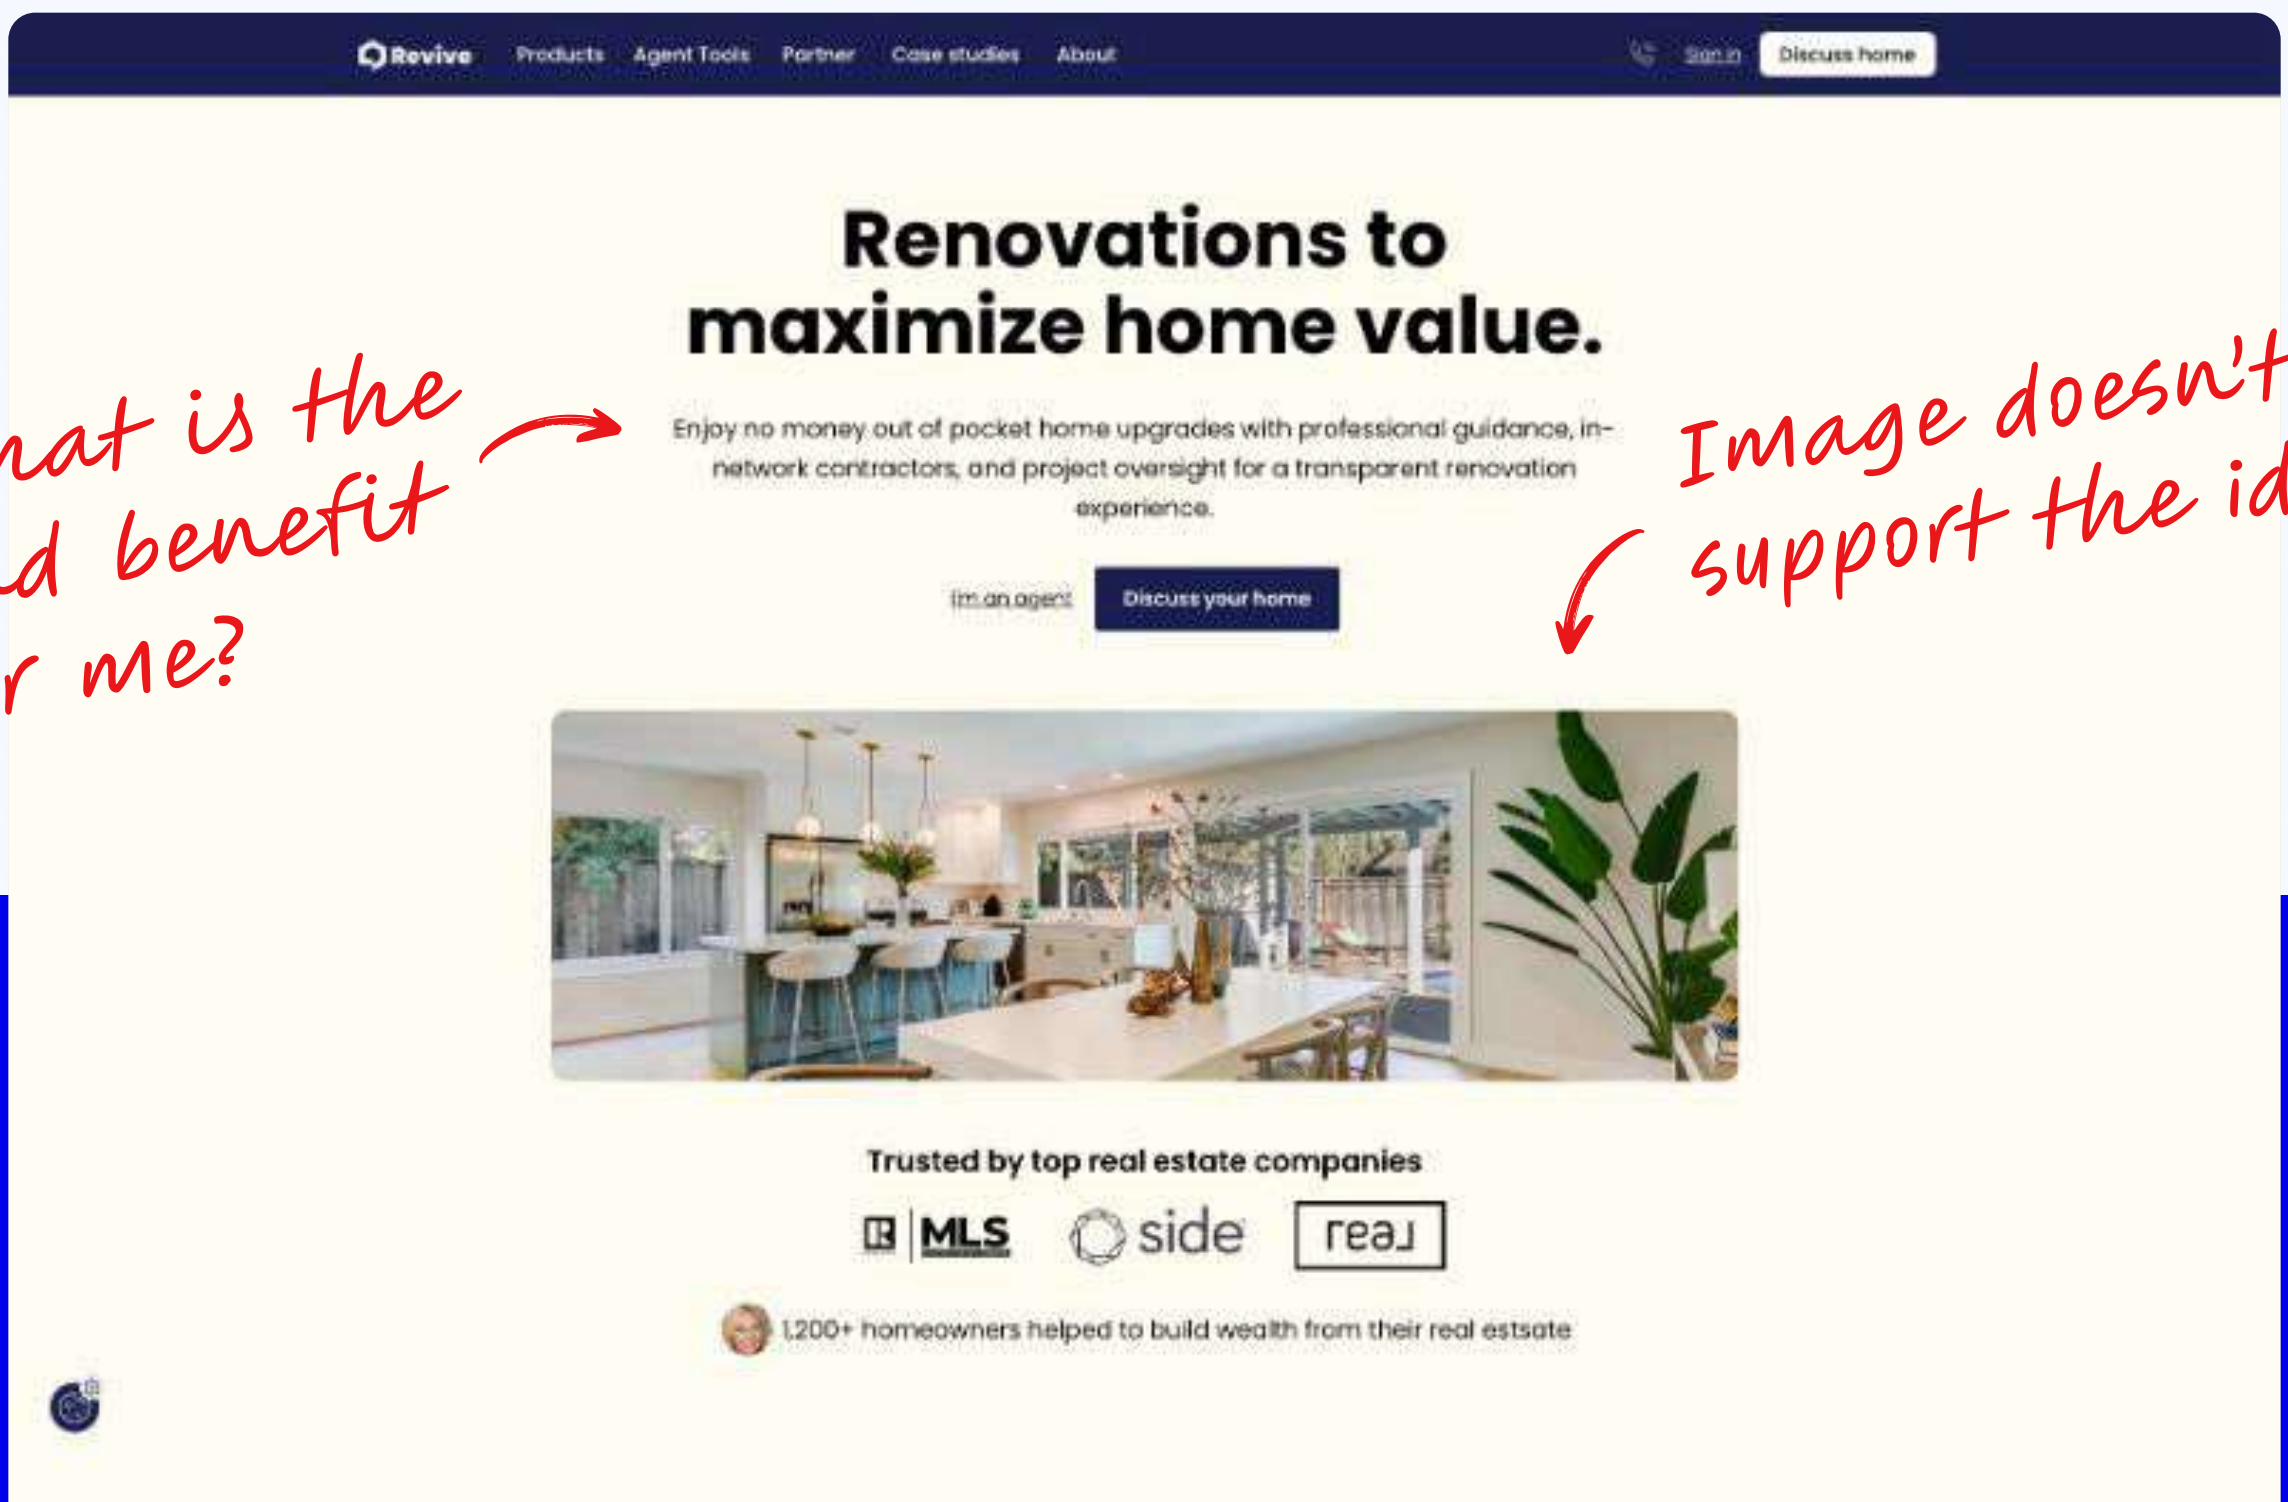

After

THE PROBLEM

1. It takes too much brain power to breakdown the value prop

What is the end benefit for me?

Image doesn't support the idea

The right solution for any situation

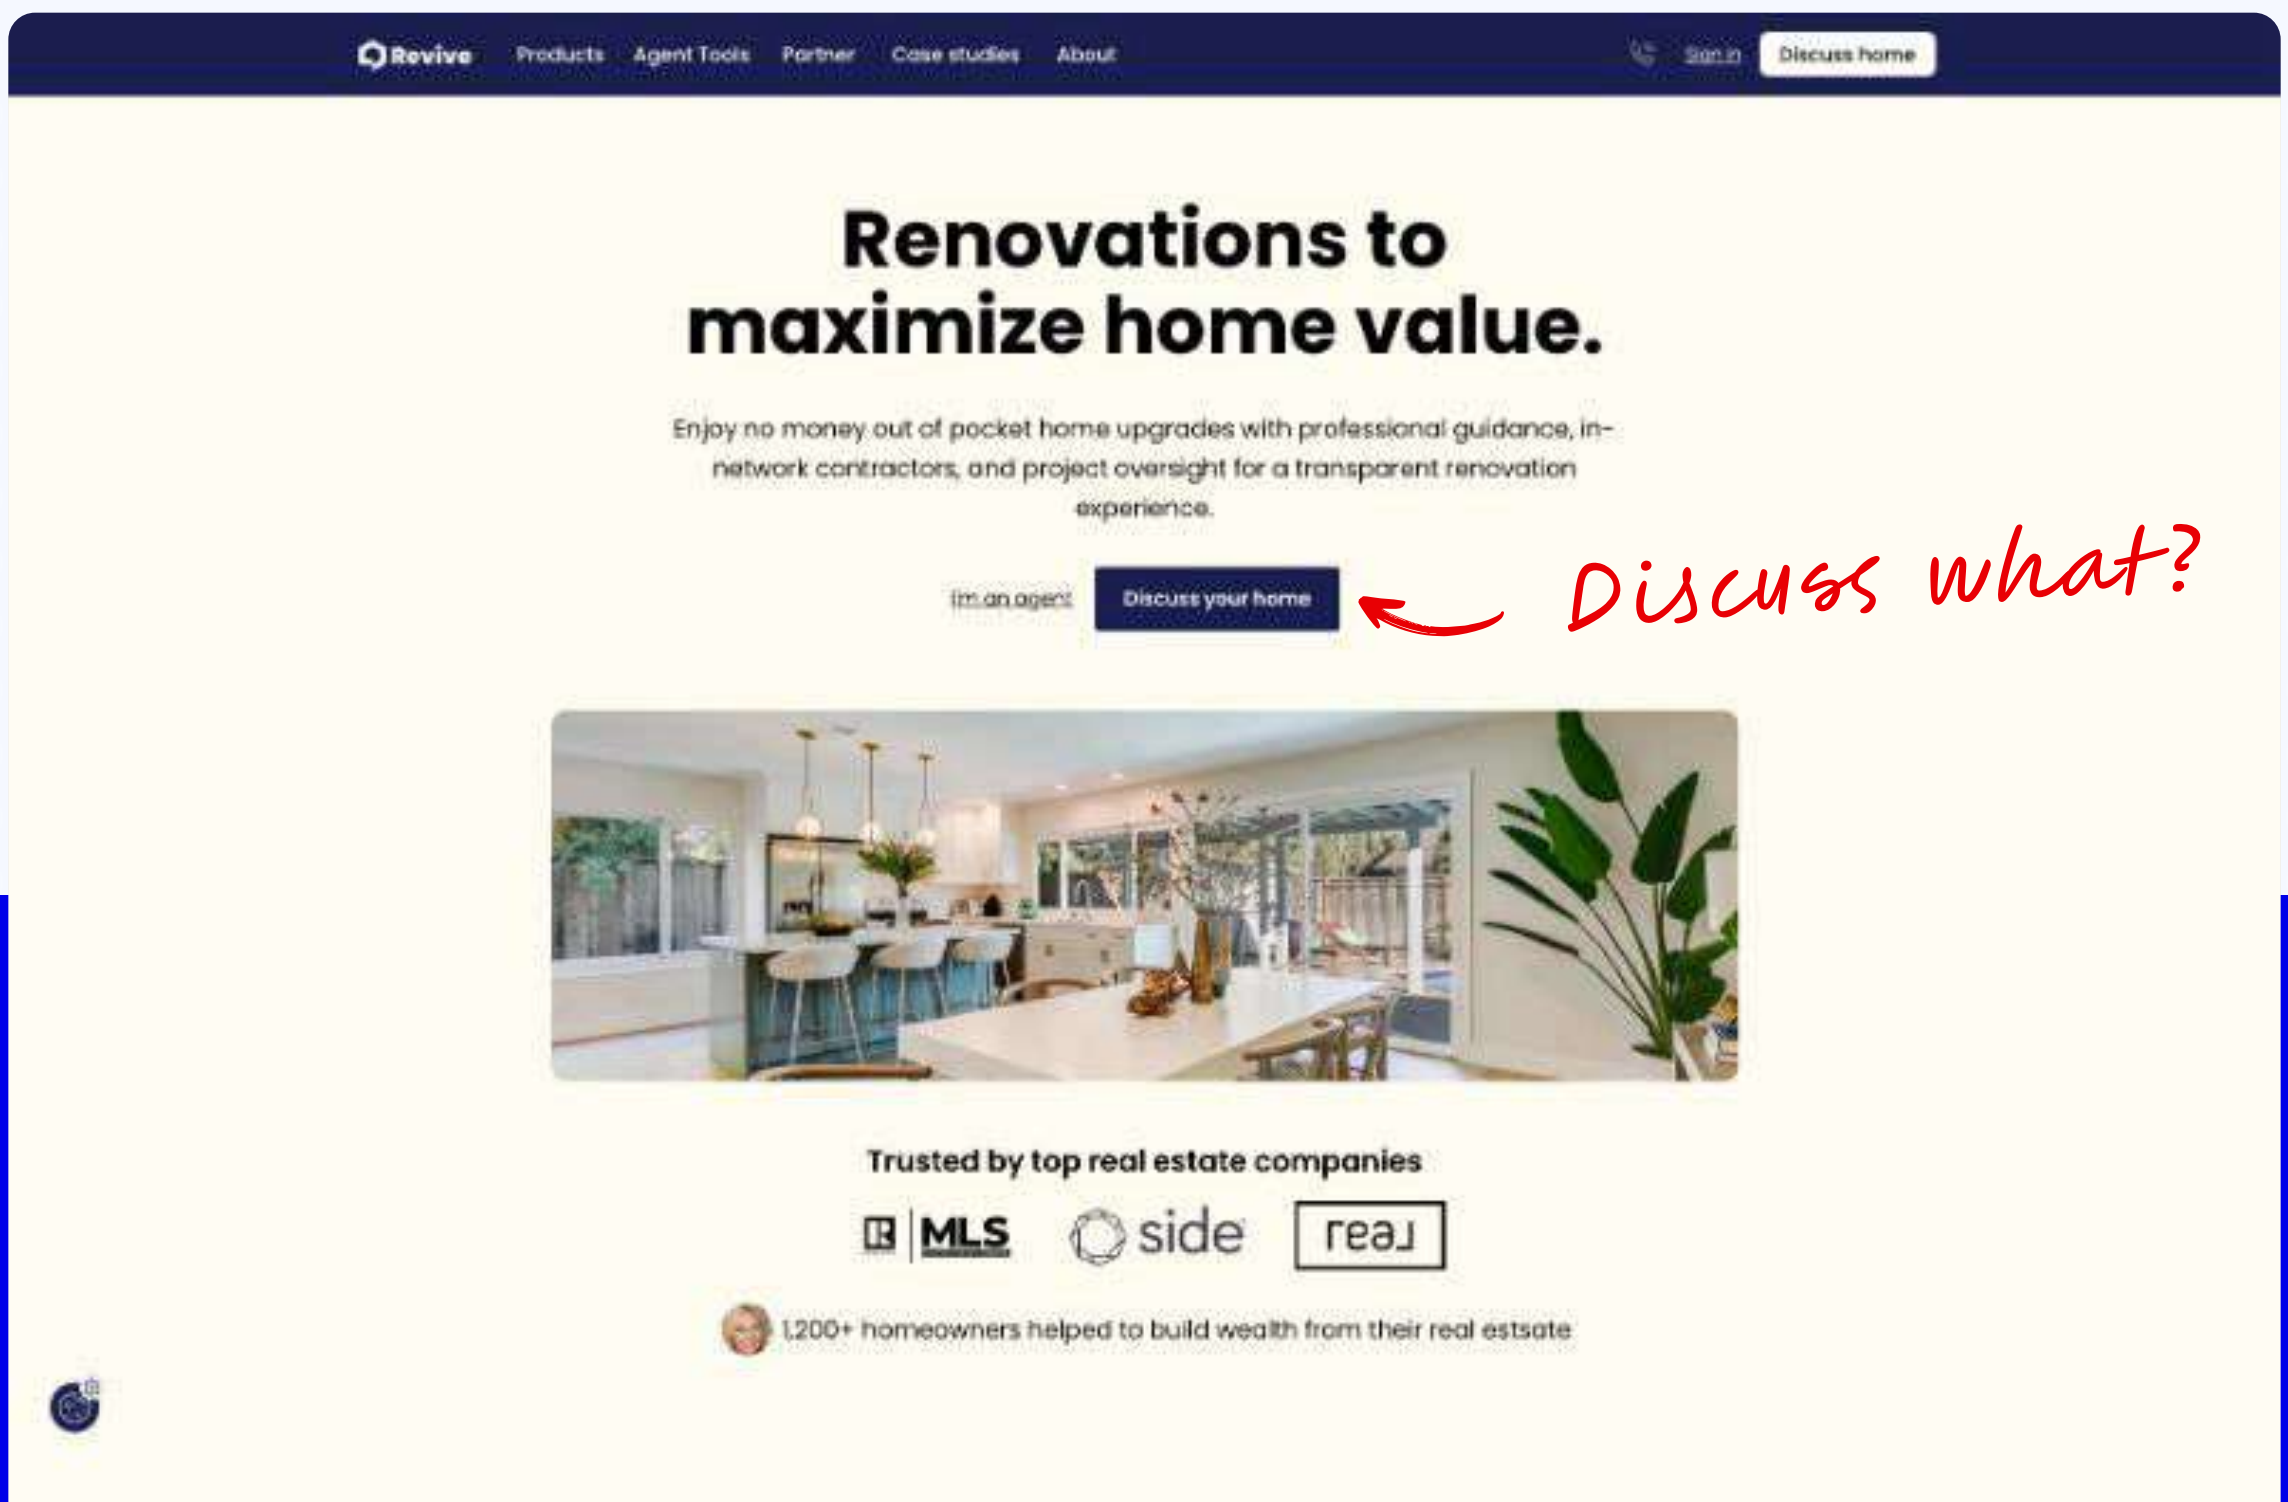

With Revive your home could be worth more... a lot more.

Access the all-in-one renovation platform to make the process easy & predictable.

THE PROBLEM

2. No clear path from value prop to call to action

THE SOLUTION

The first few sections should all sell the same idea in the value prop

The collage displays three mobile app screens for 'Revive', a home renovation platform. The top screen shows a 'Before' image of a dining room and a 'Sold at $4,700,000 +$725,155 profit' callout. The middle screen features the 'Revive' logo, a 'Calculate how much you could get from a fully renovated home!' section with a zip code input (19678) and a 'Calculate profits' button, and a 'Home upgrades with an average 28% increase in value—No Money out of pocket!' claim. The bottom screen shows a 'Before' image of a dining room and an 'As-is Price $3,650,000' callout. The bottom of the collage includes a 'The #1 Home Renovation Platform' badge and a 'The Right Solution For Any Situation' section with three options: 'Sell Immediately' (Total profit: $800,000), 'Renovate to Sell' (Total profit: $800,000, 28% increase in value), and a partially visible 'Renovate to Stay' option.
