MONTHLY REVIEW

The fund gave back some of its outperformance versus the MSCI world index for the month due to its lack of exposure to US momentum stocks (Magnificent 7 in particular) but still posted a nice positive return. The sharp recovery in many of the hardest hit US stocks makes absolutely no sense to us at all especially given their sharp decline in earnings which of course makes them even more expensive than before. To us this seems like an episode of FOMO (fear of missing out) which can only end tragically once momentum turns. We continue to find compelling opportunities that have been overlooked by the market in the short term and believe that they will deliver in what we believe is a market that has become increasingly complacent to risks.

From the 10 largest holdings within the fund the best 3 performers were

1. Harbour Energy +10.06%
2. Forvia +4.06%
3. Indra Sistemas +1.71%

The worst 3 performers were

1. Stellantis -5.09%
2. Avolta -2.50%
3. Whitbread -2.45%

RISK LEVEL

The rating is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Sub-Fund is to increase the value of its investments by offering an exposure mainly to blue chip equities and equity related securities which are growing faster than the market but trading at a discount to it.

"Blue Chip" companies are considered as those with leading market position and strong financial fundamentals, generally with a minimum market capitalization level of EUR 10 billion following Investment Manager's view.

The fund may also invest substantially in other funds (UCITS or eligible UCIs) with or without equity exposure and, to a lesser extent, in debt securities and financial derivatives instruments.

The Compartment is actively managed. The Compartment has no benchmark index and is not managed in reference to a benchmark index.
