

PRESENTER

Ulrich Brechbuhl

Ulrich Brechbuhl is the former Counselor of the U.S. Department of State and currently serves as President of Appenzeller Point, LLC. A graduate of West Point and Harvard Business School, he brings decades of experience spanning military service, business leadership, and diplomacy. He co-founded Thayer Aerospace alongside Mike Pompeo and held senior executive roles in both the aerospace and healthcare sectors. At the State Department, he led major diplomatic efforts and played a key role in strategic hiring and morale-building initiatives. Raised in New York, he is known for his commitment to ethical leadership and his passion for strengthening international cooperation.
