*30 October 2009

The Forager Australian Shares Fund’s unit price increased 0.39% in May. The Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index rose 2.03% while the All Ordinaries Accumulation Index increased 1.22%.

It was an eventful month for the portfolio as a handful of portfolio businesses reported results for the period ending March 2026.

Sports technology business Catapult (ASX:CAT), once again a large investment for the Fund, reported a continuation of growth for the year to March. The business continues to deliver on all metrics. Annualised contract value, a measure of run-rate revenue, rose 28% or 18% when adjusted for recent acquisitions. Churn remains at about 4%, a sign of how sticky Catapult’s products are with clients. Management’s preferred measure of profits rose by 67%, with nearly half of incremental revenue from the core business flowing through to profits.

The cross sell of video solutions into the existing wearable devices customer base continues uninterrupted with a 52% increase in the number of teams buying from multiple segments. With the two recently purchased solutions, in scouting and gym monitoring, customers will now have the choice of an attractive suite of products from Catapult. Growth and continued operating leverage make for a particularly attractive valuation for this impressive business.

Meanwhile, operational performance at foreign exchange provider OFX (ASX:OFX) deteriorated during the year. Net operating income fell 9%, leaving the business roughly breakeven.

Top 5 holdings (as % of NAV)

Tyro Payments Limited	(TYR AU)	5.9%
Bravura Solutions Limited	(BVS AU)	5.9%
Praemium Limited	(PPS AU)	5.9%

OFX retains a valuable client base, licenses around the world, and a new platform which has seen non-foreign exchange revenues grow. With a strategic review well advanced, and due to conclude by the end of June, we will see what interest this competitive sales process will uncover.

About Forager

With over 2,000 long-term investors and a focus on investing for the long-run, Forager Funds is a unique Australian asset management company. Following a strong 15-year track record, Forager is a sustainable business but is nimble enough to invest in smaller listed companies not accessible to many investment managers.

The company is majority owned by staff. Forager's shareholders support the desire to place performance before revenue. That means capping the size of funds before too much money becomes an impediment to performance. Key investment staff are strongly aligned with investors through co-investment and / or equity in the Forager business.

Fund Characteristics

- Concentrated portfolio of ASX-listed stocks
- Long track record in identifying unloved gems
- Restricted fund size allows investment in smaller businesses
- Strong focus on managing portfolio risks
- Daily applications and redemptions
