

Alight Global Health Fund

The crisis below the surface,

A mother goes into labor in a field hospital surrounded by shellfire.
A child in a transit camp fights a preventable infection.
A young woman seeks help after trauma but finds none.

In conflict zones, settlements, migrant paths, and regions affected by climate disaster, complex health crises continuously threaten displaced communities.

These aren't isolated stories. They are daily realities for millions, especially women and girls, whose futures are deeply shaped by access to health care. But health is more than a basic need; it's the foundation for resilience, for restoring self-reliance, and for building stronger, more vibrant communities. These challenges demand more than emergency relief. They call for a compassionate way of delivering care that treats people not just as patients, but as whole human beings with the potential to thrive. Alight has been answering the call of medical response since 1978 – and we have no intention of stopping now.

What makes Alight different?

We're rooted.

Even when others pull out, Alight is still delivering care, oftentimes emergent, in places like Sudan, the Somali Peninsula, and Rwanda.

We co-create.

From the first conversation to the final service, we design with, not for, our customers.

We go beyond clinic walls.

Bringing maternal care, mental health support, and nutrition services directly into communities, homes, and safe spaces.

We restore agency.

Through community-led systems and human-centered design, we give people the power to shape their own health futures.

Every number is a life touched.

Every life is a story of resilience, dignity, and hope.

Reputation.

"At Alight we're recognized by our agility. We've been asked to lead in the most fragile contexts others cannot operate in."

Relationships.

"Partnerships aren't just strategic; they're human. We're trusted by communities and institutions alike."

Resilience.

"What resonates most with communities is our consistency, they know Alight, they name us. We stay and build together."

Rising preventable deaths

Collapsing trust in health systems

Women & girls left without care

Limited self-reliance

What's at Stake?

From surviving to thriving.

We respond in emergencies. But we also look ahead.

Alight's Programs :

- Reduce maternal deaths and increase skilled deliveries
- Lower malnutrition and disease outbreaks in displacement contexts
- Expand culturally-relevant mental health access where stigma exists
- Empower women, adolescent girls and youth to access sexual and reproductive healthcare services with dignity, while fostering equality and rebuilding resilience in their lives and communities
- Train youth leaders and equip peer educators in displacement contexts

We walk with displaced communities not only to survive, but to rebuild lives of dignity, health, and hope.

Let's build a world where everyone, everywhere, has the access and opportunity to live in health:

$50,000 expands integrated care networks - linking maternal health, mental health, nutrition and protection across refugee and host communities to ensure lasting, high-quality access to care

$100,000 provides flexible, rapid-response funding to address urgent health emergencies, resolving critical supply chain disruptions, supporting outbreak containment, and supplementing collapsed health systems

$250,000 launches multi-country initiatives focused on health and community-led innovation, impacting entire regions
