The aim of this Policy is to give a clear picture on why, how and how long we process the personal data we receive through our Website or from our Partners when concluding an agreement or when someone visits us at our registered seat office or regarding those data we receive through other channels.

I. Some privacy related definitions in order to better understand this Policy means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (‘data subject’); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person;

Processing

means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organization, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction;

Controller

means the natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data;

where the purposes and means of such processing are determined by Union or Member State law, the controller or the specific criteria for its nomination may be provided for by EU or Member State law;

The Controller of your personal data is the Service Provider.

Processor

means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which processes personal data on behalf of the controller;

Third party

means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or body other than the data subject, controller, processor and persons who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorized to process personal data;

Data forwarding

Means the disclosure of personal data to specific third parties;

Data subject

Everybody who shares his/her personal data with the Service Provider through the Website or via other channels or whose personal data is processed by the Service Provider otherwise. For example, you who reads this Policy;

Consent of the data subject means any freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject's wishes by which he or she, by a statement or by a clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data relating to him or her; personal data referring to racial origin, nationality, political opinions or membership in any political party, religious or other beliefs, membership of an advocacy organization, sex life, personal data concerning health, pathological data;

Genetic data

means personal data relating to the inherited or acquired genetic characteristics of a natural person which give unique information about the physiology or the health of that natural person and which result, in particular, from an analysis of a biological sample from the natural person in question;

Biometric data

means personal data resulting from specific technical processing relating to the physical, physiological or behavioral characteristics of a natural person, which allow or confirm the unique identification of that natural person, such as facial images or dactyloscopy data;

Personal data breach means a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed;

Most of the above definitions are the definitions used by the GDPR. The text of the GDPR is available at

<https://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/PDF/?uri=CELEX:32016R0679&from=HU>

The list is not full, should you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact us.

We inform you that during our processing we do not process neither sensitive nor genetic or biometric data and we will never request such data from you.

II. In what cases do the Service Provider/Employer process personal data

In accordance with the principles laid down by Article 5 Section (1) of the GDPR the personal data of the data subject is processed in the following cases:

- Browsing the Website
- Keeping contact during contractual relationship
- Contacting by e-mail or by phone
- Requesting an offer / contacting through the Website
- Training / subscribing to a waiting list
- Making a purchase through the Website
- Invoicing
- Visiting us at our office
- Subscribing to our newsletter
- Cookies
- Submitting the Contact Form on the Website

III. Which data, for which purpose and for how long do we process?

In the cases detailed above the legal ground for processing shall be the following:

- In accordance with article 6 Section (1) Point a) of the GDPR the freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous consent of the Partner (hereinafter as: „Consent”);
- In accordance with article 6 Section (1) Point b) of the GDPR processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the Partner is party (hereinafter as: „Performance of Contract”);
- In accordance with article 6 Section (1) Point c) of the GDPR processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject (hereinafter as: „Compliance”);
- In accordance with article 6 Section (1) Point f) of the GDPR processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or by a third party (hereinafter as: „Legitimate Interest”);

III.1. Browsing

Scope of data processed	Purpose of processing	Legal ground for processing	Naming of the legitimate interest	Duration of processing
-------------------------	-----------------------	-----------------------------	-----------------------------------	------------------------

IP address of the Data subject	Protection of the IT systems of the Service Provider and securing the Website	Legitimate interest	Securing the Website	30 days from visiting the Website as latest
--------------------------------	---	---------------------	----------------------	---

The Website may be freely visited and browsed by anyone without expressively providing any personal data to the Service Provider. However, when visiting the Website at any time, the Data subject's computer or mobile device sends a request to the Service Provider. It is like sending a letter to which you wish to get the content of the Website as an answer. The Service Provider can only answer this request if the Data subject provides his / her address. This address is the Data subject's internet identifier address, IP address for short. The Service Provider sends the requested Website to this IP address. This is an automatic process, by typing the domain of the Website to the web browser or by clicking to a link published anywhere that is directing to the Website the Data subject gives his/her consent to provide the IP address for this purpose and to be processed by the Service Provider. To make this „correspondence” smooth the servers of the Service Provider store the IP address of the Data subject in log files.

The identification and storing of IP addresses is necessary to protect the IT systems of the Service Provider and the Website as well. Protection against possible malicious activities against the Website is partly ensured by that the Service Provider is logging the operation of the Website and in this log, it lists the IP addresses from which requests to its servers were made. If the Service Provider detects an activity from an IP address that interferes with the secure operation of the Website, the address will be blacklisted. Any malicious activity is prevented and resolved through legal action. If nothing unordinary occurs, the Service Provider deletes the log files and the IP addresses. IP addresses stored in log files will not be used by the Service Provider for any other purpose and will be automatically deleted within 30 days and we keep it only if the Data subject has performed any prohibited activity from that IP address. These activities are either listed above or other activities that violate local, state, national or international law.

III.2. Keeping contact during contractual relationship

Scope of data processed	Purpose of processing	Legal ground for processing	Naming of the legitimate interest	Duration of processing
E-mail address of the contact person designated by the Partner	Keeping contact in order to perform contractual obligations	Legitimate interest	Informing the Partner in order to perform contractual obligations	Until objection against processing or until designating a new contact person but for the purpose of enforcing possible claims until the end of the 5th year from the termination of the contract (end of the limitation period for enforcing claims, Article 6:22. § Section (1) of the Hungarian Civil Code)

First and last name of the contact person designated by the Partner	Keeping contact in order to perform contractual obligations	Legitimate interest	Informing the Partner in order to perform contractual obligations	Until objection against processing or until designating a new contact person but for the purpose of enforcing possible claims until the end of the 5th year from the termination of the contract (end of the limitation period for enforcing claims, Article 6:22. § Section (1) of the Hungarian Civil Code)
Phone number of the contact person designated by the Partner	Keeping contact in order to perform contractual obligations	Legitimate interest	Informing the Partner in order to perform contractual obligations	Until objection against processing or until designating a new contact person but for the purpose of enforcing possible claims until the end of the 5th year from the termination of the contract (end of the limitation period for enforcing claims, Article 6:22. § Section (1) of the Hungarian Civil Code)

If a contractual relationship is established between the Service Provider and the Partner, then the above mentioned personal data of the contact person designated by the Partner is indicated in the contract. In these cases, the legal ground for processing is the legitimate interest of the Service Provider and its purpose is to provide information and other communications to the Partner regarding any issues arising during the contractual relationship. The Partner acknowledges that it is the Partner's responsibility and liability to obtain consent from the designated contact person to provide his/her data to the Service Provider.

III.3. Contacting by e-mail or phone

In order to provide assistance for existing or future Partners and for any interested parties, and in order to provide information and to enable the enforcing rights (warranties, guarantees) the Service provider makes it available to make contact by e-mail or by phone.

III.3.1. In case of contacting by e-mail:

IV. What are cookies and why we use them?

We use “cookies” on our site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a site visitor’s hard drive to help us improve your access to our site and identify repeat visitors to our site. Cookies can also enable us to track and target the interests of our users to enhance the experience on our site. The usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information on our site.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

Some of our business partners may use cookies on our site (for example, web analytics tools or chat tools). However, we have no access to or control over these cookies.

In addition, we distinguish between session-specific cookies and persistent cookies. A cookie valid for a single session only survives until the Data subject closes the browser. Permanent cookies continue to live and are not automatically deleted when you close your browser. Why do they stay there and what's good about it? Well, such persistent cookies, for example, help to make the site run faster and remembering things that the Data subject has set for himself/herself on the Website.

To manage cookies in a compliant and transparent way, we use a third-party cookie consent management tool called CookieYes. This tool helps us obtain, record, and respect your cookie preferences in accordance with applicable data protection laws. CookieYes may process limited data (such as anonymized IP logs) to record your consent status. For more information, please refer to CookieYes's Privacy Policy. You can manage your cookie preferences at any time by clicking the “Consent Preferences” button on our website.

Most browsers are set to accept cookies by default. However, you can remove or reject cookies in your browser’s settings. Please be aware that such action could affect the availability and functionality of the Site.

V. Where and how do we process personal data?

Personal data is processed on paper or electronically. If the data is processed on paper (for example, in the case of contractual data), it will be placed in a secluded location. Data is stored electronically on cloud-based servers.

The Service Provider takes all necessary technical and organizational measures and precautions to protect personal data and the quality thereof and providing continuous physical and procedural protection which complies with the data protection regulations, for example the servers are at a locked place and the computers are protected by passwords and firewalls.

Notwithstanding the above, the Service Provider shall not be liable for any damage, destruction or unauthorized access to the data in the event of technical error, natural disaster, terrorist or criminal act.

VI. How can one withdraw consent if the ground for processing is based on consent?

If under present Policy the legal ground of processing is the Data subject's consent, then the Data subject has the right to withdraw this consent. Depending on the purpose of processing there are many ways to do it. you may withdraw your consent given at browsing at any time, free of charge and without limitation by revisiting the Website and clicking on the pop-up window. In addition, if you do not have the possibility to withdraw your consent this way, you may withdraw it by sending a message to hello@uxstudioteam.hu or in case of newsletter subscription by clicking on the "unsubscribe" button at the bottom of the email or by sending a letter to the Service Provider's registered seat address.

Please note that the withdrawal of consent does not affect the legality of the processing prior to the withdrawal.

VII. Your rights related to processing of your personal data

Request for information (right to access): you may request information about the processing of your personal data at any time, either in person, at our registered seat address, in writing by sending a registered letter or by email to hello@uxstudioteam.com

Pursuant to Article 15 Section (1) of the GDPR, a request may include information on the data processed, their source, purpose, legal ground, duration, name and address of any processor, processing activities and your rights in relation to processing. In the case of data transfer, to whom and for what purpose your data have been or will be transferred.

A request for information is considered authentic by us if you are clearly identified by it. If the request is sent by e-mail or post, only the e-mail sent from your registered e-mail address will be considered as authentic, and we will only be able to send information to the postal address registered by us. Unless you voluntarily verify your identity otherwise, we will not be able to send information to an e-mail address or postal address that is not registered in our records in order to protect your privacy.

Rectification: you may at any time request the rectification, modification or amendment of your data in the same manner described above. We can also do this only on the basis of a request from a credible source presented when submitting the request.

Restriction: you may request that we restrict the processing of our personal information in particular if:

- a) you argue the accuracy of the personal data we process. In this case, the limitation refers to the period during which the accuracy of the data is checked.
- b) Although the legal ground for processing does not stand for us, but you are requesting us in writing to keep them for the purpose of filing, asserting or defending any legal claim you may have

Objection: If we process your personal data on the ground of legitimate interest, you may at any time object to the processing of your personal data. In such cases, we will review the legality of the objection and, if it is well established, we terminate the processing of data and notify anyone to whom the personal data subject to the objection may have been previously transmitted.

Deletion (“Right to be forgotten”): you may request the deletion of your personal data at any time for any of the reasons set out in Article 17 Section (1) of the GDPR.

We may refuse deletion if the processing of your personal data is required by law or if it is necessary to enforce our legal claims. We will always inform you about the refusal of the request for deletion. Once it is deleted, the data cannot be recovered.

Transfer of Personal Data (Portability): you may at any time request us to transfer the data processed in connection with you in a structured, widely used, machine-readable format to you or to another controller.

We kindly ask you to not exercise the above rights improperly, but only if it has a real ground or if any of the conditions set out in the GDPR actually exist.

VIII. To whom we transfer personal data and who has the right to access them?

Except as provided below, your personal data will be kept confidential and will not be disclosed to any third party.
