Letter From the President

Dear IJJA Members, Partners, and Supporters,

It is my honor to serve as President of the Idaho Juvenile Justice Association and to work alongside so many dedicated professionals who share a common mission: supporting Idaho's youth, strengthening our communities, and advancing a juvenile justice system rooted in accountability, compassion, and hope.

Every day across our state, juvenile justice staff, agencies, and community partners unite to provide guidance, structure, and opportunity to the young people who need it most. Your commitment—often quiet and unseen—changes lives. It protects futures. And it strengthens Idaho in immeasurable ways.

Across our state, juvenile justice professionals and community partners continue to show unwavering commitment to the young people who need guidance, structure, and hope. Your dedication—often quiet, demanding, and unseen—truly changes lives. Thank you for the work you do every single day.

This year, IJJA continues to focus on elevating our statewide collaboration, expanding professional development opportunities, and advocating for best practices that reflect evidence-based approaches and Idaho values. Whether you work directly with youth, support families, develop programs, conduct research, or lead in policy and administration, your voice matters. Our association exists because of members like you.

If you are new to IJJA, welcome. If you are returning, thank you for your continued investment in this meaningful work. And if you are considering sharing information with others about membership, I invite you to learn more about the training, networking, and shared expertise that IJJA offers. Together, we can champion a system that lifts up our youth and empowers them toward safer, healthier, and more successful lives.

I also want to take a moment to highlight the tremendous effort already underway as we prepare for the 2026 IJJA Conference, scheduled for September 15th–16th in Nampa, Idaho. The Board has been working tirelessly behind the scenes to build an engaging, meaningful, and inspiring event. We are excited to bring you an amazing lineup of speakers, valuable training sessions, and opportunities to connect with colleagues from across the state.

This conference is more than a gathering—it's a chance to recharge, learn, collaborate, and strengthen the network that supports Idaho's youth. I am truly looking forward to seeing all of you there, reconnecting, and celebrating the incredible work being done in every district and county.

Whether you are a new member or a long-time supporter, thank you for investing your time, energy, and expertise into this important mission. Together, we can continue to build a system that empowers Idaho's youth and family toward safer, healthier, and more successful futures.

I look forward to what we will accomplish in the year ahead—through collaboration, innovation, and the shared belief that every young person deserves a chance to grow and achieve their potential.

Thank you for all you do for Idaho's youth.

With appreciation,

Moni Havelange

President, Idaho Juvenile Justice Association

Our Mission

It is the mission of the IJJA to provide a forum for discussion and resolution of issues related to juvenile justice; to provide a central focus of networking for professionals in career development, service delivery, and progressive growth in the profession; to provide leadership for Idaho in the promotion of community safety, victim restoration, and effective service delivery for at-risk youth, their families, and communities.

IJJA Who Are We?

The Idaho Juvenile Justice Association is an organization dedicated to providing training for a sound juvenile justice system in Idaho. Members include representatives from juvenile probation, law enforcement, education, social work, judiciary, and the business community. Line staff, managers, and administrators join together in pursuit of the vision that Idaho's communities can be safe, youth can be held accountable, and can develop competency skills to live productive lifestyles.

Our Beliefs

- The "Balanced Approach," promoting and utilizing its concepts;
- A coordinated system working toward common goals;
- Recognition of dedicated professionals;
- Candid discussion of issues to facilitate joining in pursuit of common goals; and
- "Joining with," not "demanding of," as a process for building teams and accomplishing goals.

The Idaho Juvenile Justice Association Needs District Representatives!

Currently, we have several District Representative positions available. It is important to have every district represented on the IJJA Board. If you are within one of the districts that has an opening, please consider taking a position with the IJJA Board.

Serving on the IJJA Board gives you opportunities to meet members from all across the state of Idaho, help bring quality training to professionals in Idaho, and make friendships that will last a lifetime.

Districts in need of representatives are:

District II	1 position available
District V	2 positions available
District VI	1 position available
Floating Rep	1 position available
Tribal Rep	1 position available

District Representative job duties can be reviewed on the IJJA website:
