

No student graduates by accident.

It takes the right accommodations, strong instruction, and risks caught early. Here's what makes the difference.

Accommodations done right

Students with disabilities have a graduation rate 16 points lower than their peers. With 7.5 million students served under an IEP, every detail matters.

Effective teachers

A teacher has 2 to 3 times the impact of any other school factor on student achievement. Support them, and everything else gets easier.

Early risk detection

Ninth graders who stay on track are 3.5 times more likely to graduate. Catching graduation risks early is the whole game.

One connected ecosystem. Every student's path to success.

TestHound

Coordinate state and local testing logistics and manage accommodations automatically.

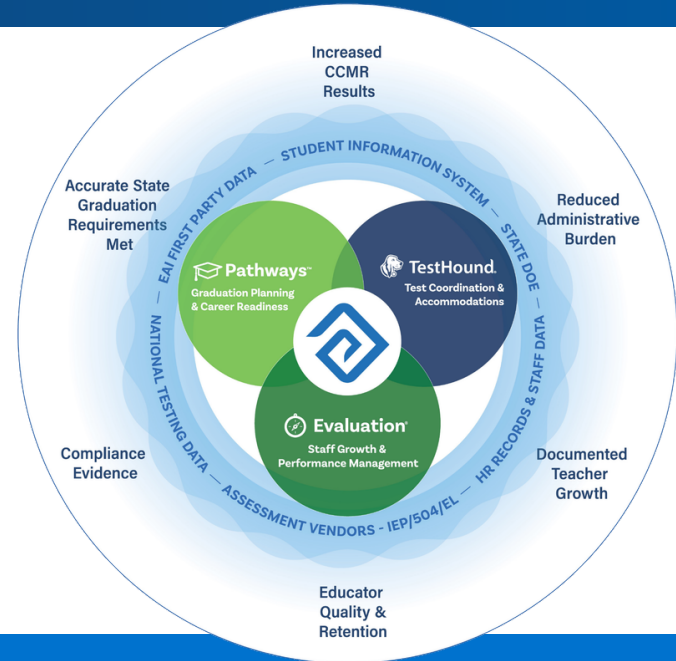

Evaluation®

Manage staff walkthroughs & observations, feedback, and professional growth in one place.

Pathways™

Track each student's credits and graduation requirements and flag at-risk students.

"The integration of TestHound to all of our other programs makes it invaluable to our district."
