With over a decade of experience, I am a versatile designer driven by curiosity and a passion for lifelong learning. Skilled in industrial, digital, and experience design, I have delivered hundreds of innovative projects tailored to clients' unique needs. Committed to design thinking, I believe true innovation arises from a dynamic creative process and diverse perspectives.

I excel in collaborating with high-profile teams and stakeholders, consistently delivering under pressure. With a proven ability to manage complex, detail-oriented projects, I thrive in environments that demand both precision and creativity.
