

Officer Arrested in Domestic Violence Investigation

HAMMOND (September 28, 2026)- A Hammond Police officer has been arrested following at least two domestic violence incidents.

Corey Bergeron, 28, was booked into the Tangipahoa Parish Jail today on one count each of Battery on a Dating Partner with Strangulation (felony) and Battery on a Dating Partner. His bond was set at $50,000.

Thursday morning, September 24, a woman came into the TPSO Victims Unit to report having been involved in an altercation earlier that morning with Bergeron at his home in the Robert area. During the investigation, evidence related to at least one prior incident involving the same victim was obtained. Warrants were then issued for Bergeron's arrest and efforts to locate him began immediately. Bergeron was taken into custody this morning at the Tangipahoa Parish courthouse.

This investigation is ongoing. However, additional investigations are actively underway involving other potential victims.

All inquiries regarding Bergeron's status with the Hammond Police Department should be directed to that agency.
