MATCH RECAP: BAYvBOS (NWSL WEEK 8)

Bay FC extended its unbeaten streak to three matches Friday at PayPal Park, playing to a 1-1 draw with Boston Legacy FC. After a scoreless first half, midfielder Dorian Bailey would break the deadlock in the 51st minute with her second goal of the season, putting a left-footed shot over the line. Boston would equalize with a controversial penalty in the 64th minute after a VAR review awarded a chance from the spot. Bay FC would put the visitors backs to goal throughout the second half but wouldn't find a winner before the final whistle.

Action was wide open to start the match as each club looked to be aggressive early on. Bay FC nearly found the net three minutes after the opening whistle. Midfielder Caroline Conti got in behind Boston's backline and served a cross to forward Karlie Lema in front of goal, but the Cal product wasn't able to steer her effort on frame. Forward Racheal Kundananji tried her luck on the following turn after running onto a through ball from the right, but saw her chance stopped by the keeper.

Boston went down to ten players just before the halftime break. Defender Bianca St-Georges left her feet to recover a heavy touch but struck Bay FC midfielder Claire Hutton with a high boot. The Canadian was shown red and sent off for a reckless challenge.

Bay FC took the lead five minutes into the second half. Claire Hutton played the ball into Bailey in traffic as Bay FC looked to put Boston on its heels. A quick give-and-go with Karlie Lema put Bailey out front to slot the ball over the line with a left-footed finish, her second of the season and first since March 28 at North Carolina.

Boston equalized after the hour mark from a penalty. A VAR review awarded a kick from the mark to the visitors to the disapproval of the fans in the stands after Boston's Aïssata Traoré collided with Silkowitz in the box. Gutierrez converted from the spot, ending Bay FC's all-time best shutout streak.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

Bay FC forward Cristiana Girelli: Girelli returned after missing two matches due to injury and helped Bay FC put their foes on their heels throughout the second half of Friday's contest. She's started her Bay FC career strong with two assists, with excellent hold-up play helping Bay FC build up the pitch and generate scoring chances. Her veteran leadership stands to benefit the club as it tackles the challenge of schedule congestion for the first time this season.

Portland Thorns FC forward Sophia Wilson: Wilson has returned from maternity leave in impressive fashion for her club, leading Portland in total shots and scoring thrice since her first game back. She's scored three all-time goals vs. Bay FC, and her pairing with Olivia Moultrie in the Thorns attack has proven to be one of the league's top attacking tandems.

WEDNESDAY, WHAT'S THIS?

Bay FC's match in Portland marks the first mid-week match played by the club in the regular season since May 2024, a contest won by the Oregonian side. It's the first of the club's three Wednesday matches this season as the NWSL schedule adjusts to accommodate the 2026 FIFA World Cup and the Women's International Match Calendar. Bay FC last visited Portland October 4, 2025, a tough 2-1 defeat that came after Taylor Huff opened the scoring in the 36th minute.

CLEAN SHEET STREAK // CHANCES APLENTY

Bay FC's shutout streak ended Friday at 294 minutes, the club's longest stretch in club history without conceding a goal. Dating to deep in first half stoppage time April 25 at Gotham FC, the club had held the reigning champions scoreless in the final 45 before shutting out a pair of red-hot squads in San Diego and Utah ahead of Boston forward Amanda Gutierrez' 64th minute penalty Sunday.

Additionally, Bay FC's nine shots on target Friday vs. Boston set a new club record for attempts on frame. Forward Karlie Lema led the way with three, while Racheal Kundananji and midfielder Dorian Bailey tallied two apiece. The club's 1.54 expected goals rating and 13 chances created each ranked as the its second-highest totals of the season in each category.

KNOW YOUR OPPONENT

After going five unbeaten from March 28 to May 3, Portland enters Wednesday's match on a slight skid with just a single point coming from its last two contests. A surprising defeat to Louisville May 8 shook up the NWSL table, but the club's strong form has kept them in contention for the top spot. A scoreless draw in Los Angeles rewarded the club with a point this past weekend, its third clean sheet in the last four games and only its first match without a goal this season.

Portland's attack has been bolstered in 2026 with the return of Wilson from maternity leave, with the Stanford product tallying three goals. Her presence up top has allowed threats to come from all over. Moultrie who enters this week with a league-leading four assists, and has recorded at least one scoring contribution in each of her last three appearances, and five of her last six. Forward Reilyn Turner has tallied four goals this season, and forward Pietra Tordin has recorded seven scoring contributions.
