WELCOME HOME

SERENADE

EVERY CITY HAS ITS OWN RHYTHM. ITS OWN ATMOSPHERE

At Serenade, we believe architecture can sound. Not through noise, but through balance. Through light, proportions, materials, and the feeling a space creates every day. For us, a home is not simply a building. It is a composition of space, comfort, privacy, and life. We create projects where architecture becomes part of a calm and harmonious lifestyle.

Introducing Adagio

Adagio Residence opens Serenade's Mediterranean chapter: a single boutique building of just 14 apartments, set in Germasogeia — one of Limassol's most sought-after coastal districts, roughly 800 metres from the sea.

Rather than building at scale, we chose restraint: four residential floors above a landscaped ground level, kept deliberately low-density so every apartment gets generous natural light and a genuine sense of privacy rarely found this close to the city centre.

Designed Around Your Day

Life at Adagio extends beyond the private interiors.

The outdoor swimming pool offers a calm setting for warm Limassol days, while the adjoining barbecue area creates a natural place to gather, dine, and spend time outdoors.

A residents' gym brings fitness closer to home, complemented by dedicated parking and private storage for every apartment. Together, these amenities make everyday routines easier, more enjoyable, and more complete.

Only 14 apartments within a private low-density development.

Spacious terraces and large panoramic windows.

Convenient access to the highway and Limassol city infrastructure.

Thoughtfully planned layouts that maximise space and natural light.

Outdoor swimming pool with BBQ area for residents.

Carefully designed balance between privacy, light, and space.

Private parking and individual storage for every apartment.

Private gym exclusively for residents.

The middle section is a rocky cliffside with sparse, low-lying vegetation. In the bottom right corner, a large agave plant with thick, pointed leaves is in sharp focus. The text 'STAGE' and 'LOCATION' is overlaid in the center of the image.

Large glass windows and doors are visible, some with light-colored curtains. The interior lights are on, and some balconies have small potted plants. The sky is a deep blue. EXTERIOR DESIGN

Aforma & Rhythm

The architecture of Adagio is shaped by a sequence of flowing horizontal lines, deep terraces, and softly rounded edges.

Projecting balconies create shade and privacy, while glass balustrades preserve openness and allow daylight to move freely through the residences.

Textured stone surfaces are balanced by warm timber accents and dark architectural details, giving the building depth, rhythm, and a distinctive identity from every angle.

The background wall is composed of vertical panels, and a large, abstract circular artwork is mounted on it. A chandelier with multiple glass spheres hangs from the ceiling. The overall aesthetic is minimalist and sophisticated.

Interior Notes

The interiors of Adagio are composed around a warm, restrained palette and a clear sense of order. Living, dining, and kitchen areas connect naturally, creating spaces that feel open without losing their individual purpose.

Custom cabinetry, considered lighting, tactile surfaces, and carefully placed details bring depth to the neutral scheme, creating interiors that feel composed, welcoming, and easy to inhabit.
