Joule Capital Management LLC
(d/b/a Joule LLC)

PRIVACY NOTICE

To ensure our clients', counterparties', and investors' privacy, Joule LLC has developed a policy that is designed to protect confidentiality, while allowing our clients', counterparties', and investors' needs to be served ("Privacy Policy"). Please read this Privacy Policy carefully. It gives you important information about how Joule LLC handles your personal information. As a matter of policy, Joule LLC does not disclose any personal information about individuals who are current or former investors, customers, counterparties, or clients to anyone, except as permitted by law.

This policy is last updated April 1, 2026.

Personal Information We May Collect

In the course of providing products and services, Joule LLC may obtain nonpublic personal information, which may come from sources such as account applications and other forms, from other written, electronic or verbal correspondence, from transactions, and/or from information captured on Joule LLC's internet website. The nonpublic personal information we collect may include, but is not limited to, your name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, social security number, other tax identification numbers, and date of birth. We may use this information in connection with certain aspects of our business.

Sharing Information with Third Parties

Joule LLC may share nonpublic personal information with our affiliates. We may disclose this information to non-affiliated third-party service providers that perform services for us ("Service Providers"), pursuant to an agreement that requires the Service Provider to adhere to Joule LLC's Privacy Policy.

Security of Personal Information

Joule LLC strictly protects the personal information you provide against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, destruction, loss or misuse. Your personal information is protected by physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards. These safeguards include limiting access to your personal information to those Joule LLC employees and Service Providers with a need to access and use that information in connection with providing products or services to you. In addition to this Privacy Policy, Joule LLC has also implemented procedures that are designed to safeguard your personal information.

Changes in Our Privacy Policy

Joule LLC periodically reviews its Privacy Policy. We reserve the right to amend it. If we amend this Privacy Policy, we will continue our commitment to maintaining the security and privacy of your personal information.

International Data Transfers

Your personal information may be transferred to, stored, and processed in a country other than the one in which it was collected, including the United States, which country may not, or may not be, deemed to provide the same level of protection for personal information.

When we do so, and to the extent required by applicable data protection laws, we rely on appropriate or suitable safeguards, including:

- using standard contractual clauses approved by relevant authorities as ensuring adequate safeguards;
- obtaining your consent to transfer personal information after first informing you about the possible risks of such a transfer;
- when the transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract between you and Joule LLC, or if the transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract between Joule LLC and a third party, and the contract was entered into in your interest; and
- when the transfer is necessary to establish, exercise, or defend legal claims.

Former Clients, Investors and Customers

If your relationship with Joule LLC ends, we will not destroy your personal information. We will continue to treat your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy and applicable laws.

Cookies and Similar Technologies Notice

Cookies are small data files stored in your browser by a website. They transmit information about your use of the site to its operator or to third parties that placed the cookie. Some cookies are "session cookies" that expire when you close your browser, and others are "persistent cookies" that stay on your computer or mobile device until you delete them.

Our website (www.jouleuranium.com) and other sites and applications may use both session and persistent cookies to enable you to sign in and use our website and applications, store your preferences and settings within them; analyze how they perform, personalize your experience with them, provide interest-based advertising, facilitate social media interaction and for other lawful purposes. We may also use other similar technologies for these purposes, such as social media widgets that facilitate interaction with social media platforms, unique device identifiers, and third-party software embedded in our mobile applications. In some cases, these cookies and similar technologies are used by third parties.

Most browsers let you remove or reject cookies. To do this, follow the instructions in your browser settings. Many browsers accept cookies by default until you change your settings. For more information about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set on your computer or mobile device and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

If you do not accept our cookies, you may experience some inconvenience on our website. For example, you may not be able to store preferences in our website. If you disable cookies, certain features of our website may not work.
