FACTS-FIRST

3080 hours researching

This month, our team published four new briefs to the library on the topics of Deficit Reduction Proposal: Introduction, Deficit Reduction: Republican Cuts, Bureaucratic Authority, and Sovereign Wealth Funds . Focusing in on our 360° Perspective, we've refocused our brief strategy to help comb through all of the data and bring a facts-first perspective on what story the data tells to date.

In the coming briefs you'll continue to see data-driven and facts-first become a core focus for our research team. Better understanding even the most complex topics will empower the American Public to stay informed on essential policy information that impacts life today.
