2024 IMPACT REPORT

HADASSAH

UNWAVERING FOCUS. DEDICATED DETERMINATION.

Despite difficult challenges in the US and in Israel, Hadassah was unwavering in advancing our mission in 2024. We were steadfast in our commitment to helping soldiers and civilians heal, to forging ahead with medical innovation, to speaking out when women's voices were being silenced about rape and torture, to standing tall against a tidal wave of antisemitism and to championing reproductive rights on state ballots and at the Supreme Court.

Hundreds of participants took part in Hadassah's March to Recovery in Jerusalem at the new Gandel Rehabilitation Center at Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus on October 8.

A MESSAGE FROM HADASSAH NATIONAL PRESIDENT CAROL ANN SCHWARTZ

I was privileged in 2024 to spread Hadassah's message far and wide, on behalf of Hadassah's nearly 300,000 supporters and members across the United States. I met with community leaders in Argentina, delivered petitions to the UN and the International Committee of the Red Cross, testified before the Knesset and marked Hanukkah at the White House. This first year of my presidency brought me to my beloved Israel on several occasions, often with the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations and always with an eye toward representing Hadassah and making sure that your support helps us be as effective as possible.

I have witnessed firsthand the lifechanging care we are providing to soldiers and civilians at the new Gandel Rehabilitation Center at Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus. I have met with the families of hostages and the survivors of October 7, 2023, and assured them that Hadassah will not stop speaking out until every hostage is returned and gender-based violence is no longer used as a weapon of war.

I have met with many of Hadassah hospitals' incredible doctors and healthcare professionals, unwavering in their pursuit of medical innovation, no matter the circumstances. I have visited Hadassah chapters across the country that are fighting against rising antisemitism and the assault on women's reproductive rights; empowering women and promoting women's health and wellness; raising much-needed funds for Hadassah hospitals and Youth Aliyah villages, and creating community and connection in a time when it is needed most.

Together, we save lives. Together, we save souls. Together, we stand up and speak out. Thanks to you, our supporters — as you will see in the pages ahead — we were unwavering. We are unwavering.

Carol Ann Schwartz
Hadassah National President

INTRODUCING OUR NEW CEO ELLEN FINKELSTEIN

As a Jewish woman and a Zionist, there is no place I would rather be than at Hadassah. With our commitment to Israel, dedication to fighting antisemitism, determination to improve healthcare for women and children and our mission to stay on the front lines of medical advancement, Hadassah is playing a vital role in bringing the Jewish community together and helping us focus on what is important.

As Hadassah CEO, I couldn't be more excited to work with Carol Ann and the incredible women who are leading Hadassah into the future. I stand proudly behind Hadassah's unwavering commitment as we continue to find new ways and reach new supporters to advance our impact.

Hadassah CEO

UNSHAKABLE

With Israelis still reeling from October 7, 2023, and under attack on multiple fronts, Hadassah responded to ongoing and increasing needs as the war escalated. The Hadassah Medical Organization was uniquely positioned to treat complex war injuries and provide immediate and long-term physical and mental rehabilitation for soldiers and civilians at Hadassah hospitals. At Hadassah-supported Youth Aliyah villages, we helped provide a safe haven for students, including psychological support. In the United States, we rallied for Israel and its people — including demanding justice for the victims of sexual and gender-based violence used as a weapon of war against Israel and around the world. We advocated strongly for US support for Israel, and Hadassah leaders visited Israel on multiple occasions to stand, unwavering, with the Israeli people.

TOGETHER WE WILL HEAL

GANDEL REHABILITATION CENTER WELCOMES FIRST PATIENTS

“Today we made history. The opening of the first ward at the Gandel Rehabilitation Center is nothing less than a national event that will change the rehabilitation [landscape] in Israel,” said Dalia Itzik, chair of the Hadassah Medical Organization’s Board of Directors.

After October 7, 2023, construction of the Gandel Rehabilitation Center at Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus was greatly accelerated to meet Israel’s pressing need to help war-wounded soldiers and civilians recover, physically and psychologically.

On January 15, the sounds of Hadassah representatives clapping and singing “Hevenu Shalom Aleichem” greeted the first patients into the Gandel Center, the initial stage of a phased opening of the facility.

Made possible thanks to generous Hadassah donors across the US and around the world — including the Gandel Foundation, led by John and Pauline Gandel of Melbourne, Australia — the opening of the Gandel Center is part of Hadassah’s “112-year commitment to the State of Israel in general and to Jerusalem in particular,” said Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz at the opening. The center is home to state-of-the-art equipment and facilities, including two hydrotherapy pools and a makeshift apartment and grocery store used for occupational therapy.

ONCE COMPLETED, THE GANDEL REHABILITATION CENTER WILL INCLUDE:

A 323,000-square-foot,
eight-story building

Comprehensive, holistic care for approximately 10,000 patients annually

140 inpatient beds,
a 250% increase across Hadassah

A BOND FORGED THROUGH RECOVERY AT GANDEL

“In such an intensive rehabilitation process, you need with you the person who will believe in you no matter what happens, and Sarit was that person. She was always there by my side, showing a level of commitment that was truly inspiring.”

PROGRESS REPORT

After a devastating injury in Gaza, Yonti Bahat’s time in intensive care at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem brought him back to life, but it’s physical therapy at the new Gandel Rehabilitation Center that has helped him to live. “It’s a crucial part,” said Bahat, a lieutenant colonel (res.) in the IDF, who can now lift his young son again. “And thanks to the new building and facilities, it was a much better experience and a nice way to pass this hard process.”

“I’m very excited and thankful to our donors, our supporters and to HWZOA, to the Hadassah [Medical] Organization.”

Dr. Yaniv Sherer, Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem director

“Rehabilitation is ‘redefining hope’ for Hadassah patients, including at the Gandel Rehabilitation Center.”

Dr. Tamar Elram, Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus director

ICONIC ROUND BUILDING REOPENS ITS DOORS

With support from donors all over the world, and after many years of planning, construction and anticipation, Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem welcomed the first patients into its reimagined Round Building, the Alberto and Vicky Saba Internal Medicine Complex, in Jerusalem on May 2, as construction to complete the renovations to the facility remains ongoing.

“I’m so proud that we could do this. It’s truly l’dor v’dor because my mother-in-law and father-in-law were at the opening of the original Round Building,” said Miki Schulman, chair of the 360 Degrees of Healing campaign, which helped make this reopening possible.

Donor Spotlight

Barbara Salitsky, Worcester, Massachusetts

Her love for Hadassah, Israel and all it has given her family continues to be central to who Barbara Salitsky is. To honor her son, Z’vi, an architect who had a passion for creating multi-faith spaces, Barbara made a transformational gift to Hadassah in 2024 to establish the Eric Adam Salitsky Multi-Faith Room at the new Gandel Rehabilitation Center.

FUTURE FACILITIES IN THE WORKS

Plans began in 2024 for six additional underground operating theaters at the Sarah Wetsman Davidson Hospital Tower at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem so that its lifesaving work can continue securely, even under missile attack.

Doctor Spotlight

Dr. Amit Shalev, Head of the Herman Dana Division of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

“With the shock and unprecedented barbarity of this war, we’re seeing Israelis summon enormous reserves of mental strength,” said Dr. Shalev, an IDF elite forces veteran who specializes in pediatric trauma and suicide prevention therapy and research, and who assumed his new role at the Hadassah Medical Organization just days before the October 7, 2023, attacks on Israel. “We’re using our decades of experience in treating post-trauma and acute stress to support this newly distressed population.”

CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION

Six months after being treated at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem for injuries caused while risking her life to save a soldier on October 7, 2023, and undergoing rehabilitation at the Gandel Rehabilitation Center, registered nurse and mother of 10 Michal Elon shared this photo of her family celebrating Passover.

HADASSAH'S END THE SILENCE CAMPAIGN SPARKS GLOBAL MOVEMENT

Working to share the truth far and wide about the rape, mutilation and torture of Israeli women, children and men by Hamas and to demand action and justice, Hadassah united volunteers, members and supporters in the US, Israel and — in partnership with Hadassah International — around the world to launch in February our largest-ever global advocacy campaign, End The Silence.

KEY CAMPAIGN MOMENTS

- In a petition to UN Secretary-General António Guterres, Hadassah demanded an independent, unbiased investigation of Hamas' use of rape and gender-based violence as weapons of war on and after October 7, 2023.
- On International Women's Day on March 8, Hadassah supporters spoke out globally at nearly 190 events in 17 countries. In the US, Hadassah units hosted 176 End The Silence events in 32 states, including 31 in Florida, 27 in California and 18 in New York.
- In June, Hadassah led 53 organizations in sending a letter to the UN secretary-general in observance of the International Day for the Elimination of Sexual Violence in Conflict. And in September, Hadassah volunteers participated in shaping the conversation around Israel and holding Hamas accountable for war crimes at the UN.
- In an op-ed for Newsweek published in September, Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz called on the UN to hold Hamas accountable.
- At the UN, Hadassah leaders also attended meetings with representatives of Moldova, Argentina, Estonia, Belgium and Malawi, urging foreign leaders to help hold Hamas accountable. A letter sent in November called on the UN to blacklist Hamas for its use of sexual violence as a weapon of war.

HADASSAH RALLIED TO HELP END THE SILENCE

- On April 28, Hadassah Louisville presented the #EndTheSilence, Hear Our Voice Community Workshop, reflecting on global and local opportunities that support healing and peacemaking, and collecting donations to support the Hadassah Medical Organization's Bat Ami Center for Victims of Sexual Abuse.
- On July 11, Hadassah Metro, in partnership with the American Muslim & Multifaith Women's Empowerment Council (AMMWEC) and the Marlene Meyerson JCC Manhattan, held a screening of the film Screams Before Silence, followed by a discussion with Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz and Anila Ali, co-founder of AMMWEC.

“When we denounce rape as a weapon of war, when we call these acts what they are — war crimes and crimes against humanity — we validate the evidence, build a case for justice and accountability and ensure that the victims of these atrocities are not erased.”

Immediate past National President Rhoda Smolow, speaking at a Capitol Hill event

COMING TOGETHER AT WARTIME

- Hadassah created a Passover resource, Matzah of Healing (Refuah), used at seder tables around the country, featuring a call to add a fourth matzah and prayers to End The Silence, reunite hostage families and for Israel to heal from the trauma of October 7, 2023.
- Hadassah hosted critical and timely briefings about the war and Hadassah's response throughout the year.

YELLOW NAIL CAMPAIGN

Hadassah members painted one fingernail bright yellow before Passover to prompt a Fifth Question: Why is my nail yellow tonight? And at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem and Hostages Square in Israel, Hadassah volunteers painted nails yellow in March, an act of solidarity to End The Silence.

A SHOW OF STRENGTH

Hadassah hospitals' staff and representatives ran the Jerusalem Marathon to #EndTheSilence.

SOLIDARITY

“Israel has a long journey of healing ahead. We are enduring horrific personal and national traumas. Your support for Israel’s healthcare and solidarity with the Israeli people is a great strength for all of us.”

Israel’s President Isaac Herzog addressing Hadassah Solidarity Mission participants in January

GARNERING GLOBAL SUPPORT

Hadassah leaders traveled to Israel throughout the year — including on January and March missions — to show their support, visit patients and hospital staff, and participate in important discussions with Israeli leaders and leaders in the global Jewish community.

During the January mission, Suzanne Patt Benvenisti, executive director of the Hadassah Offices in Israel; Rhoda Smolow, Hadassah’s immediate past national president, and Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz delivered a petition with 5,000+ signatures to the Office of the International Committee of the Red Cross in Israel, demanding the Red Cross assess the welfare of the hostages held by Hamas.

“Israel is the only country where people visit not only to visit or enjoy happy occasions but also in times of war. Thank you for coming,” said Jerusalem Deputy Mayor Fleur Hassan-Nahoum to March mission participants.

VIP VISITORS

Delegations from across the world visited Hadassah hospitals throughout 2024 to witness healing in action, including representatives from the Jewish Federations of North America, the World Zionist Organization and the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations.

COMING TOGETHER

At the Stand Together rally in Washington, DC, in November, more than 100 Hadassah advocates joined the Jewish Federations of North America and the wider Jewish community. The calls to action focused on emergency aid, freeing the hostages and standing up to antisemitism.

HONOR, MOURN, REMEMBER

MARKING THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF OCTOBER 7, 2023

More than 800 Hadassah households across the country came together virtually on the eve of the one-year anniversary of October 7, 2023. First Lady of Israel Michal Herzog touched on the ways that Hadassah has shown up for Israel during the war, sending missions, helping to fortify our Youth Aliyah villages, speaking out to End The Silence and supporting the Hadassah Medical Organization’s treatment of the brave soldiers serving on the front lines. “The magic that has gone on there is a true source of inspiration and comfort in these difficult times,” she said.

TOGETHER IN MOURNING: OUR FALLEN SOLDIERS AND LOVED ONES

No one in Israel has been untouched by the war. We mourned with our Hadassah community the 26 first-degree relatives of Hadassah Medical Organization staff members and five members of Hadassah’s Youth Aliyah village community who lost their lives on October 7, 2023, and in the war that followed (through 2024). May their memories be a blessing.

UNSTOPPABLE

Despite facing unprecedented and immediate challenges to rehabilitate wounded soldiers and increase mental health support, the Hadassah Medical Organization remained unwavering in its commitment to forging the path into the future. Through cutting-edge research, implementation of the latest technologies, global cooperation, and a diverse staff offering top-quality patient care and building bridges to peace through medicine, the Hadassah Medical Organization — including Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem and Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus — remained at the forefront in 2024.

A MESSAGE FROM THE HADASSAH MEDICAL ORGANIZATION
DIRECTOR GENERAL

Dear Hadassah Family,

At Hadassah, unwavering commitment defines who we are. In a year of extraordinary challenges, we have remained steadfast in our mission: delivering world-class care, advancing groundbreaking research, driving medical innovation and training the next generation of physicians.

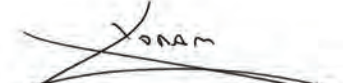

In the aftermath of the October 7, 2023, attacks, we acted swiftly, preparing our underground facilities at both Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem and Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus to ensure that medicine never stops, even in the most difficult times. Our dedication to excellence was reaffirmed when the Joint Commission International awarded Hadassah hospitals international accreditation — a testament to our relentless pursuit of the highest global standards.

We are expanding, both in infrastructure and medical services. The Round Building renovation is well underway, with two departments fully operational and a third nearing completion. The first three floors of the Gandel Rehabilitation Center opened months ahead of schedule. Hadassah Beit Shemesh has been serving patients for two years, and soon, we will inaugurate the Hadassah-Helmsley Medical Center, Netivot, bringing advanced care to the residents of southern Israel. Just as crucially, we are expanding our mental health services to help the nation cope with the trauma of war.

Even in times of conflict, Hadassah remains a symbol of hope and unity. Within Hadassah hospitals, professionals from all backgrounds stand side by side, healing patients of every faith and nationality. This spirit of cooperation and compassion is more vital than ever.

Thank you for enabling us to carry through our joint mission and for sharing our unwavering hope for a better future.

With gratitude,

Prof. Yoram Weiss

FUTURE FORWARD: LEADING THE WAY IN CANCER CARE

The Hadassah Medical Organization's huge strides forward in medical innovation included major breakthroughs in cancer research, from personalized cancer care using artificial intelligence to a new blood test for early detection of treatment-induced lung damage and a new alpha-radiation cancer therapy.

AI MODEL

“This innovative model offers a practical tool for oncologists, enabling them to make more informed decisions, ultimately leading to improved patient outcomes.”

Prof. Michal Lotem, head of the Hadassah Cancer Research Institute, said of the MESiCA model, which uses machine learning and artificial intelligence to detect dominant mutational signatures in targeted gene panels

BLOOD TEST

Introduced by Dr. Albert Grinshpun from the Hadassah Medical Organization's Sharett Institute of Oncology and Dr. Ori Fridlich from the organization's Center for Liquid Biopsy at the Department of Pediatric Hemato-Oncology, a new blood test for early detection of potentially fatal lung damage in cancer patients taking antibody-drug conjugates (ADCs) could possibly reduce the need for frequent scans.

FULL-BODY 3D SCANNER ADDED TO CANCER DETECTION ARSENAL

Thanks to a generous contribution from the Weiss Family Foundation, the Hadassah Medical Organization became the first medical center in Israel to acquire a new imaging system — called the VECTRA WB360 — that captures the entire skin surface of a patient's body to generate a single, three-dimensional image, which helps dermatologists map and monitor pigmented lesions and skin diseases of their patients.

ALPHA-RADIATION THERAPY

“We look forward to further examining the promise of what the Alpha DaRT treatment can offer lung cancer patients and their families,” said Prof. Neville Berkman, principal investigator and director of the Hadassah Medical Organization's Institute of Pulmonology, who worked with Dr. Philip Blumenfeld, head of the organization's Thoracic Radiation Oncology Services, on the study of patients with recurrent lung cancer.

IN FOCUS: ACCESS TO BREAST CANCER CARE

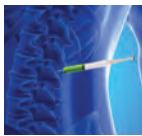

Dr. Shani Paluch-Shimon, head of the Breast Cancer Unit at the Hadassah Medical Organization, was awarded a grant from the Breast Cancer Research Foundation to study healthcare disparities in culturally diverse, special needs and disadvantaged populations in Israel.

HOPE IS HERE: PROMISING RESEARCH

Researchers from the Hadassah Medical Organization forged ahead in 2024, making significant advancements in lifechanging treatment and care.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

In March, at the 2024 Forum of the Americas Committee for Treatment and Research in Multiple Sclerosis, Dr. Petrou Panayiota, a neurologist working with MS Center Director Prof. Dimitrios Karussis, presented the latest evidence of significant beneficial effects of repeated stem cell injections in patients with progressive MS.

CCMV

A study conducted by Prof. Dana Wolf, Clinical Virology Unit director, along with Prof. Moran Yassour and the neonatology team, showed that newborn screening for congenital cytomegalovirus (cCMV) — a leading cause of childhood neurologic deficits with lifelong implications — can be carried out reliably with pooled saliva tests for universal screening, highlighting the potential to revolutionize cCMV screening worldwide.

TEEN SUICIDE

A study by Dr. Amit Shalev, head of the Herman Dana Division of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, showed a direct link between lack of sleep and suicidal thoughts in youth, allowing for improved prevention. Another study, including lead author Dr. Liya Kerem, pediatric endocrinologist, looked at teenagers with obesity who take weight loss drugs and found they are less at risk of suicidal thoughts and attempts than teenagers with obesity who do not take the drugs.

WOMEN'S PAIN

A study by Hadassah hospitals' researchers, including Dr. Alex Gileles-Hillel, physician-scientist, highlighted how gender bias in Israeli and American ERs impacts treatment, showing that women's reports of pain are often viewed as exaggerated.

SURGEONS USE ADVANCED 3D TECHNOLOGY TO REBUILD SOLDIER'S KNEE

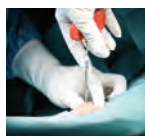

Orthopedic surgeons at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem successfully rebuilt the shattered knee of a 21-year-old soldier shot by Hamas terrorists in a gunfight in Gaza.

Evacuated from the battlefield, Shilo Segev underwent major reconstructive surgery, with doctors using a 3D printer to build an accurate model to successfully reconstruct his knee.

Segev told The Jerusalem Post that he felt lucky to be in the hands of a professional medical team skilled in bone restoration.

A REGISTRY MATCH

When 21-year-old Givati Brigade soldier Matan Amir gave a saliva sample to the Hadassah Medical Organization's bone marrow registry on the day of his induction into the IDF, he never expected to be contacted a few months later and told he was a match. With the approval and assistance of IDF authorities, Amir met with Dr. Reuven Or, a hematology specialist and medical director of Hadassah hospitals' bone marrow registry, who explained the process. The donation was a success.

EMERGENCY SPINAL SURGERY SAVES YOUNG WOMAN FROM PARALYSIS

PLANNED GIFT BRIGHTENS KIDS' HOSPITAL EXPERIENCES

With stress levels high since October 7, 2023, Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem Head of Pediatrics Prof. Ariel Tenenbaum and department administrator Poriya Amster helped create a more cheerful atmosphere — through art — to benefit their young patients and their families.

Students in Jerusalem created paintings depicting the Gaza-border communities as they appeared prior to the Hamas invasion for display on the third floor of the Charlotte R. Bloomberg Mother and Child Center. The exhibition of the paintings was made possible through the generosity of the Dr. Nina Litton Endowment for Pediatrics, which was established in 1984 through the bequest of Dr. Litton, a pediatrician at Beth Israel Hospital in Boston.

GLOBAL COLLABORATIONS FOR OUR SHARED FUTURE

Global medical innovation and collaboration go hand in hand at the Hadassah Medical Organization, where international research and partnerships help drive advancements that improve lives and outcomes worldwide. Below is a small sample of the Hadassah Medical Organization’s 2024 partnerships around the globe.

STRENGTH IN PARTNERSHIP

Thank you to the Jewish Federations of North America — along with Federations in Houston, Detroit and Chicago — which supported Hadassah’s emergency efforts after October 7, 2023, including 2024 funding for the Gandel Rehabilitation Center and specialized training for mental health professionals.

KIDNEY DONATIONS CROSS BORDERS

After a critical exchange of kidneys between donors in Israel and the Czech Republic in June,

Dr. Abed Khalaileh, director of the Hadassah Medical Organization’s kidney transplant service, said: “Seeing the relief and joy on the faces of the patients after the surgery makes it clear how important and significant the donation is and how vital our connection with doctors worldwide is to save lives.”

Then in October another pioneering international kidney exchange changed the lives of eight patients in Israel and Cyprus, including three at the Hadassah Medical Organization.

DIVERSITY AND COOPERATION AT HADASSAH-HEBREW UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SCHOOL

The Hadassah Medical Organization in Israel is known for the diversity of its staff and patients. After a visit, Yale University’s Prof. Edward H. Kaplan and Prof. Evan Morris observed in Newsweek that they were encouraged to see employees from different religions and backgrounds working together toward a common goal.

UNFLINCHING

Hadassah remained steadfast in our mission to connect and empower women (and men) to effect change in 2024. Our supporters — across the US, in Washington, DC, and beyond — brought Hadassah's values to life by strengthening support for Israel, fighting antisemitism and championing reproductive rights and women's health.

FIGHTING ANTISEMITISM

Hadassah responded to an alarming spike in antisemitism by raising awareness and mobilizing to fight antisemitism on college campuses, online, in our communities and around the world.

HADASSAH REPORT SHOWS ANTISEMITISM AFFECTS TWO-THIRDS OF AMERICAN JEWISH WOMEN SURVEYED

As the largest Jewish women’s organization in the US, Hadassah sought to understand how the dramatic rise in antisemitism touches every aspect of Jewish women’s day-to-day lives and to help sound the call to action. Released in December 2024, Hadassah’s report “From Fear to Resilience: Women Facing Antisemitism” was informed by responses from over 1,000 participants in Hadassah’s Everyday Antisemitism: Women’s Stories survey. The findings have been shared widely through the media and on Capitol Hill and are being used to support strategies and policies to combat antisemitism and urge communities and Congress to act.

Real Women, Real Stories	“I’ve certainly lost people in my social circle for being openly Jewish.”
	“I live in fear of verbal and physical abuse due to being Jewish.”
	“I was physically attacked at a rally, and my Israeli flag was stolen and burnt in front of me.”

SPEAKING OUT AT THE KNESSET

“Hadassah has redoubled our work to stand up to antisemitism by educating and empowering women, building community and cultivating pride in Zionism.”

Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz, addressing the Knesset’s Committee for Immigration, Absorption and Diaspora Affairs in February as a member of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations

HOW HADASSAH STOOD UP TO ANTISEMITISM IN 2024

- Advocated for federal legislation to raise awareness of and combat antisemitism, including to further the US National Strategy to Counter Antisemitism
- Urged policymakers in government and education to combat antisemitism on college campuses
- Responded to attempts to blacklist and isolate Jews, including in the healthcare arena
- Fought to strengthen Holocaust education
- Worked to advance the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA) definition of antisemitism at the local, state and federal levels, with six new states adopting the IHRA definition (Florida, Georgia, Indiana, South Carolina, South Dakota and North Carolina)

COMBATING GLOBAL ANTISEMITISM WITH INTERNATIONAL LEADERS

Hadassah, alongside the American Muslim & Multifaith Women’s Empowerment Council, met with the embassies of Cyprus, Bulgaria and the Netherlands in 2024 to discuss rising global antisemitism.

MOBILIZING FOR REPRODUCTIVE RIGHTS

Facing increased attacks on women's reproductive rights at the federal level and in many states, Hadassah members and supporters took action in 2024 to safeguard the whole spectrum of reproductive healthcare.

At the State Level Hadassah advocates worked to educate voters and empower them to make their voices heard on reproductive-choice ballot initiatives in 10 states (Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York and South Dakota).

In Congress Hadassah supported measures to protect women's health and reproductive freedom, including the right to contraception, emergency healthcare and fertility treatments, including IVF.

At the Supreme Court Hadassah joined amicus briefs in three pivotal reproductive rights cases across the nation, two being considered by the US Supreme Court and one before an Indiana trial court. One of the cases in front of the Supreme Court challenged the FDA's approval of and expanded access to mifepristone — which the court rejected. The other case concerned access to stabilizing emergency reproductive healthcare. The case in Indiana challenged the state's abortion ban based on Jewish values and religious freedom grounds.

POLICY STATEMENT, JULY 2024

“Hadassah, The Women’s Zionist Organization of America, Inc., reaffirms that every woman must have the right to control her own reproductive future, including if, when and how to have children. Hadassah remains committed to advocating at every level of government to support access, resources and funding for the whole spectrum of reproductive health services — including fertility treatment, maternal and postpartum care, contraception and abortion — as critical components of women’s healthcare that must be protected.”

ADVANCING WOMEN'S HEALTH RESEARCH

Hadassah has long been committed to women's health equity and remains deeply concerned by the tremendous gaps in knowledge across the US regarding female biology, disease presentation and other women's health issues. Hadassah advocates supported legislation to address women's health as it relates to multiple diseases, and, on March 18, then-interim Co-CEO Sheryl Zeligson represented Hadassah at the White House to celebrate Women's History Month and the announcement of President Biden's proposed funding of $100 million for women's health research.

STANDING UP FOR ISRAEL

18 AMERICAN ZIONIST WOMEN YOU SHOULD KNOW

Hadassah has been lifting up the voices of American Zionist women since before the creation of the State of Israel. In 2024, we released our second annual list of American Zionist women building bridges, making an impact and shaping Zionism. Like Israel, Zionism embraces many viewpoints and identities. And so does our 2024 list, which made nearly one million impressions on social media.

HADASSAH SHABBAT ZACHOR

On the Shabbat before Purim, Hadassah units partnered with over 150 synagogues across the country to reflect on Purim's heroine, Queen Esther, and the way our namesake (Hadassah is Esther's Hebrew name) inspired Hadassah founder Henrietta Szold, celebrating Hadassah's founding in 1912 and the generations of Hadassah women who have followed in Henrietta's footsteps.

DENOUNCING EFFORTS TO EXCLUDE JEWS AND ZIONISTS

In a July policy statement, Hadassah reaffirmed our commitment to countering antisemitism, including antisemitism masked as anti-Zionism, and to denouncing the exclusion of Jews and Zionists from professional associations, publications and civil society groups in the US and worldwide. Hadassah's national advocacy team and professional councils worked together to respond to multiple issues.

MORE WAYS HADASSAH'S VOICE HAD IMPACT

> TIMELY PROGRAMS

In October, the Hadassah Educators Council — launched in 2023 — presented a conversation with Randi Weingarten, president of the American Federation of Teachers, about antisemitism in US education and what teachers can do to educate students and their communities in our current climate.

> TALKING POINTS

Hadassah voices amplified Hadassah's core values and expanded our reach and visibility, including during Women's History Month in March and Jewish American Heritage Month in May.

> RESOURCES

To address rising antisemitism on college campuses and across the country, Hadassah produced and distributed multiple highly effective guides and launched a global End The Hate ad campaign to raise awareness and promote Hadassah's materials to a wider audience.

UNPARALLELED

Established and emerging leaders, financial supporters, volunteers, staff, members and Associates across the country enabled Hadassah to stand unwavering in advancing our mission in 2024. The passion and purpose of our supporters helped us garner national recognition and expand our reach, stand with Israel and Hadassah hospitals, and empower women around the country. And, with a shared vision, together we supported care for the next generation — in Israel at two Youth Aliyah villages and through Young Judeaea programs in Israel and camps in the US.

LEADERSHIP IN ACTION

NATIONAL PRESIDENT CAROL ANN SCHWARTZ'S FIRST YEAR

A proud Midwesterner and member of a four-generation Hadassah family, Carol Ann Schwartz was actively involved with Hadassah for 30 years before assuming the presidency on January 1, when she hit the ground running. "Carol Ann's devotion to Hadassah, the Jewish community and Israel, her fierce intelligence and her talent as a manager and leader make her the ideal person to be Hadassah's next national president," said immediate past National President Rhoda Smolow after Schwartz's election.

A BUSY FIRST YEAR

- Leading a delegation from the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations to visit Hadassah hospitals
- In Argentina with the Conference of Presidents, in commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the AMIA Jewish community center bombing in Buenos Aires
- Representing Hadassah at the White House Hanukkah party
- Energizing Hadassah communities at a dozen+ unit events across the country

EMPOWERING LEADERS

Through more than 500 chapters and with members in all 50 states, Hadassah's region presidents and coordinators engage their communities in Hadassah initiatives, from fundraising to advocacy, and health and wellness initiatives to women's empowerment. Here's what incoming region presidents and coordinators say fuels their dedication to Hadassah:

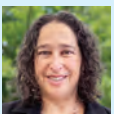

"First and foremost, my passion for and commitment to Israel are what bind me to Hadassah. I am a proud Zionist, and this started as a Young Judaeen."

Rebecca Young, Hadassah Southern Seaboard

"Having lost a child to cancer, I understand how tremendously important it is for [Hadassah] hospitals to care for and support both the patient and the entire family. The [medical] clowns, the tranquility offered to families and the amazing research Hadassah [hospitals] provide are unequalled and so needed."

Kimberly Mager, Hadassah Northern New England

"My number one goal is to bring together Zionist women for support and connection during this challenging time of increased antisemitism. I am a Zionist, a rebbetzin and an educator, so naturally, I am most connected to and passionate about Hadassah's work in Israel and how we support Israel from afar not only financially, but also emotionally."

Karen Bloom, Hadassah Central Pacific Coast

HADASSAH MEMBERS AND ASSOCIATES, PARTNERSHIP IN ACTION

Since taking over in July 2024 as president of the Associates — a group of nearly 30,000 male Hadassah supporters — Alan Lipschultz has worked to build the Associates base in each Hadassah region and to align initiatives, fundraising and support with Hadassah priorities.

At Hadassah's conference in Las Vegas, Associates showed their support for Hadassah.

MILESTONES, GATHERINGS & GROWTH

INSPIRING PHILANTHROPIC MOMENTS

Conference participants — including 150 major donors who enjoyed an exclusive experience at The Mob Museum — collectively gave close to $2 million to support Hadassah's lifechanging work.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE IN LAS VEGAS: YOU CAN BET ON HADASSAH

About 400 Hadassah leaders, members, donors, volunteers and staff went all in to show their support for Hadassah in July. Israeli President Isaac Herzog welcomed attendees via video, paying tribute to those gathered in Las Vegas, stressing the ongoing impact of Hadassah and praising Hadassah's resilience and ability to carry on the legacy of Henrietta Szold from generation to generation.

MARKING MILESTONES AROUND THE COUNTRY

- Hadassah's Dallas chapter marked its 100th birthday on April 7 with a celebration attended by nearly 100 members along with regional and national leadership.
- Hadassah Greater Detroit saw a major jump in membership. "Post-October 7, I think a lot of people who were a little disconnected were finding they want to be connected, and Hadassah can do that for them in many ways," Joan Chernoff-Epstein, a member of Hadassah's National Portfolio Council, told The Detroit Jewish News.
- With a shared passion for the Hadassah mission, 100 Super South leaders came together for a Tri-Region Experience in November.
- Hadassah Associates held a virtual Father's Day event on combating anti-Israel media bias featuring Gil Hoffman, executive director of Honest Reporting.

Donor Spotlight

Laurie and Ken Bernstein, Boca Raton, Florida

"L'dor v'dor (from generation to generation) is the number one thing about Hadassah. It is what makes Hadassah amazing and different from other organizations," said Laurie Bernstein. She and her husband, Ken, began their philanthropic journey in 2000 as Keepers of the Gate. After embarking on a Hadassah trip to Israel in 2002 — Ken's first visit, which he called a "profound experience" — they made their first Founders gift. That was the beginning of a series of gifts, culminating with their most recent step-up gift to become Society of Major Donors – Luminaries. "I've always felt it was very important to give back," Ken said.

CARING FOR OUR YOUTH

“Because of Hadassah, we are able to respond without hesitation to the needs of our students and to ensure that our children and Israel are protected and loved.”

Lauren Stern Kedem, who returned to Meir Shfeyah as an English teacher at the start of the war, speaking to Hadassah’s solidarity mission participants in January

STUDENTS FIND PURPOSE AT HADASSAH-SUPPORTED YOUTH ALIYAH VILLAGES

Since 1934, over 300,000 young people from 80 lands have graduated from Hadassah-supported Youth Aliyah villages, Hadassah Neurim and Meir Shfeyah, where at-risk youth receive the support they need to become productive and happy members of Israeli society.

The villages provide an entire range of services — food, shelter, education, counseling and love — for young refugees and at-risk Israelis. In 2024, the two villages hosted nearly 1,100 residential and external day students, ages 12–18.

Shalhevetya (Shelly) Tannenwald, who made aliyah from South Africa as a 2-year-old, faced bullying from her peers and even her teachers before coming to Hadassah Neurim. After her first two years at Neurim, she surfs, trains dogs in the village’s Dog Rehabilitation Center, is a junior counselor — connecting Ukrainian and Israeli kids through fun, nonverbal activities — and hopes to serve in the IDF. “I have a purpose,” she said.

Mina Levin, who’s from the Gaza Envelope, said that without Hadassah Neurim, she probably would have dropped out of school. At the youth village, where Mina runs the radio station and is a student counselor, she feels seen for who she is. “I know I have a lot of doors open for me,” she said.

CREATING A SAFE AND SECURE ATMOSPHERE WHERE STUDENTS CAN THRIVE

Two facilities at Hadassah-supported Youth Aliyah villages were reopened in 2024 after renovations were made possible by more than $500,000 from Hadassah’s crisis-response fundraising efforts following the October 7, 2023, attacks:

- > The upgraded psychological therapy center at the Meir Shfeyah Youth Aliyah Village was rededicated as the Ellen Hershkin Therapeutic Center in honor of Hadassah’s 26th national president (2016–2019).
- > At the Hadassah Neurim Youth Aliyah Village, the spacious, redesigned emergency shelter will serve as a secure space and command center during emergencies and a leisure and activity space year-round.

IMMERSING IN HOLOCAUST HISTORY

For the first time in five years, 150 Israeli high school students — including students from the Hadassah-supported Youth Aliyah villages — were able to experience a lifechanging week in Poland on a Hadassah-sponsored trip.

THE NEXT GENERATION

Hadassah-supported Young Judaea experiences foster lifelong connections to Israel and Jewish life.

YOUNG JUDAEA

Young Judaea's mission to educate and empower Jewish youth to deeply engage with Israel and to lead positive change for the Jewish people, Israel and the world closely aligns with Hadassah's mission. As strong supporters of Young Judaea, Hadassah provides scholarships and opportunities that help teens and young adults find a passion for Jewish life and Israel while fostering leadership skills.

LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Hadassah's 2024 awardees Shira Babajanov, Nomi Gedzelman and Talia Pierson each received a partial scholarship to Gesher, Young Judaea's Israel summer leadership program. "I look forward to watching these young women grow into adults who will take their place as community leaders," said Greta Rothschild, Hadassah National Young Judaea chair.

The number of Evolve communities grew in 2024, with 17 newly active and established units holding events.

Hadassah Leadership Fellows enjoy training and time with their peers in NYC.

EVOLVE

Through Evolve Hadassah: The Next Generation, we are creating communities across the US to grow Hadassah and usher it into the future, engaging and empowering Hadassah volunteers and donors, and establishing a leadership pipeline to meet the needs of today and tomorrow.

EVOLVE LEADERSHIP FELLOWS COHORT THREE KICKS OFF

A diverse group of nine women ages 30 to 45 from around the country gathered in New York City in September, the first step on their two-year leadership engagement journey with Evolve Hadassah: The Next Generation.

"It's amazing how each cohort really has its own personality, and this new one is no different," said then-Evolve Chair Debbie Knight. "They are extremely diverse and quite feisty; not one of them is afraid to speak up. They are also ready to dive in and get involved, and I am so proud of their commitment and passion."

At Hadassah headquarters in lower Manhattan, the women met with Hadassah leaders, participated in workshops and visited the Hadassah archives, which is the third-largest collection held by the American Jewish Historical Society.

“I thought this was a great opportunity to really get more involved, but also have this guide me through how I could potentially be and give my best to the organization.”

Kerren Roth
Framingham, Mass.

“For those seeking true sisterhood and an opportunity to contribute to a meaningful cause, Hadassah offers a unique and fulfilling path.”

Dr. Deborah Villanueva,
chair, Hadassah Evolve
& Women’s Health,
Long Beach, Calif.

In February, nine Evolve Hadassah women traveled to Israel on the Evolve Heart to Heart Solidarity Mission to bear witness, volunteer and demonstrate our unwavering solidarity with the people of Israel.

“AMAZING” During a four-day Evolve Immersive Experience in New York City in November, nearly 30 women found inspiration in earlier generations of Jewish women and immigrants — including Hadassah founder Henrietta Szold — and each other.

Donor Spotlight

Sheri, Wayne, New Jersey

As a young mother, Sheri was looking for a way to connect. “I really wanted to meet other young Jewish women, and so I went to [a Hadassah] meeting. The next thing I knew, not only was I signing up, but I was volunteering to be the programming vice president.” In 1999, Sheri was chosen to go on a young leaders’ trip to Israel. She has been a committed volunteer and donor ever since.

Recently, Sheri faced a family crisis and asked herself, “What can I do to feel better, to help myself?” As it turned out, “My mind went to charity because I’ve always been raised that when something good happens, give to charity. When something bad happens, give to charity.” She decided to become a Founder. “I know it might sound corny, but I always found that helping other people makes me feel better, too. Whatever I’ve ever given to Hadassah, whether it’s money or time, I’ve gotten so much more in return.”

AROUND THE COUNTRY

BRINGING ISRAEL TO THE US: HADASSAH HOSPITALS STAFFERS TOUR THE STATES

Like the superstars they are, a group of medical professionals from the Hadassah Medical Organization set out on a nationwide tour over the summer, with stops in a dozen cities. They met with Hadassah “fans” old and new and shared how Hadassah hospitals have provided hope and healing since October 7, 2023, and how they have been personally affected by the war.

“In a year during which we are experiencing an ongoing war in Israel — and it has been very difficult for Hadassah’s supporters and members to travel to Israel — it was incredibly meaningful to be able to bring a piece of Israel and our work here to the US.”

Suzanne Patt Benvenisti
Executive Director,
Hadassah Offices in Israel

Michelle Hubertus, a Hadassah national vice president, and her husband, Jim, welcomed Dr. Oded Cohen Arazi to their New Jersey home for a parlor meeting. With a group of more than 20 attendees, most of whom were major donors, Dr. Cohen Arazi discussed October 7 from the perspective of a trauma surgeon at Hadassah Hospital Ein Kerem. “We saw the human toll the war has taken on the medical professionals at Hadassah [hospitals],” said Hubertus. “We hope that they [our donors] understood that, with their support, they are making a difference.”

MORE COMMUNITY EVENTS

Greater Philadelphia

Hadassah’s Dona Gracia Chapter hosted Babes on Broadway, a Musical Tribute to the Women Behind the Songs featuring five Broadway entertainers. The event, with over 185 attendees, raised over $25,000 for the Gandel Rehabilitation Center at Hadassah Hospital Mount Scopus.

Long Island

Hadassah Suffolk and Hadassah Nassau raised $400,000 for stem cell research (and more) at the Hadassah Medical Organization.

Great Plains

In April, Hadassah Zionist Educator Diana Diner facilitated a conversation on anti-Zionist misinformation, legislation and resolutions championing women’s and public health issues, and how to use Hadassah’s National Action Center.

PROFESSIONAL COUNCILS

Hadassah Professional Councils provide Hadassah members with opportunities to take action, network, learn and support one another as part of a mission-driven organization.

2024 Highlights

- Nurses and Allied Health Professionals, for the third consecutive year, provided lab coats to advanced practice nurses at the Henrietta Szold Hadassah-Hebrew University School of Nursing.
- Physicians organized a virtual program titled Wrestling With PTSD: How Healthcare Providers Can Help Win the Battle and actively worked on fighting antisemitism in healthcare.
- Attorneys and Judges brought back their Supreme Court Bar Swearing In Program after a three-year hiatus.
- Educators hosted three webinars focused on antisemitism and trauma in schools.

NOTABLE MENTIONS

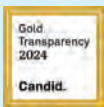

A TRUSTED CHARITY

Hadassah received a 4-star rating on Charity Navigator.

Hadassah, for the first time, made Forbes' list of "America's Top 100 Charities."

For the second time, Hadassah earned Candid's Gold Seal of Transparency.

The Hadassah Medical Organization's Cardio-Oncology Center was declared Israel's first Center of Excellence.

Newsweek named the Hadassah Medical Organization a global leader in cardiology and oncology in the media company's "World's Best Specialized Hospitals 2024" and recognized Hadassah hospitals for the pioneering use of smart technologies.

The Hadassah Medical Organization received a "Gold Seal of Approval," the highest ranking of accreditation from the Joint Commission International (JCI), an independent, not-for-profit organization that identifies, measures and shares best practices in quality and patient safety around the world.

"The achievement is yet another testament to HMO's role as a trailblazer in the healthcare field. By holding itself to the highest standards, HMO continues to ensure that it remains a leader in innovation, patient care and global health."
Hadassah National President Carol Ann Schwartz

OUR MISSION

Hadassah, The Women's Zionist Organization of America, is a volunteer organization that inspires a passion for and commitment to the land, the people and the future of Israel. Through education, advocacy and youth development, and its support of medical care and research at the Hadassah Medical Organization, Hadassah enhances the health and lives of people in Israel, the United States and worldwide.

OUR VISION

To strengthen a connection to Israel with Hadassah leading the way, bringing healing and justice to the world.
