GRACE THAT FORMS US

Sermon: Anchored in Truth, Fueled by Grace

Scripture: Titus 1:1–4

Opening Questions

When you place your "feet on the floor" each morning, what ground or foundation do you find yourself instinctively stepping onto spiritually?

In a culture where truth can often feel flexible or subjective, how easy is it to let surrounding cultural shifts subtly influence your daily values?

Digging Deeper

Read Titus 1:1. How does Paul balancing his identity as a "servant of God" with his authority as an "apostle" challenge how we surrender our personal independence to God’s mission?

Read Titus 1:1 alongside 2 Peter 1:8–9. Why is biblical "knowledge of the truth" meant to naturally accord with godliness, and what happens to our witness when our knowledge doesn't change how we live?

Read Titus 1:2–3. How does contrasting the character of God ("who never lies") with the surrounding Cretan culture help anchor your trust in His promises during seasons of struggle?

Read Titus 1:4. Why must grace always serve as the foundation or source for experiencing true peace with God and extending that peace to others?

Living it Out

What is one practical habit you can establish this week to remind yourself of God's grace before starting your daily routines?

How can you actively allow the truth of God’s grace to make your love for your family, neighbors, co-workers, etc., more credible and visible this week?

Is there an area in your life where you have struggled to trust God's track record, and how can you surrender that area to Him today?
