

The background image shows a restaurant interior. In the foreground, there are several long wooden tables set with white plates, glasses, and folded napkins. The tables are surrounded by brown leather-upholstered chairs. A large potted plant with green leaves and bare branches sits on one of the tables. The walls are decorated with large, colorful abstract paintings. One painting on the left features a fish and geometric shapes. Another on the right shows a stylized bird or fish. A mirror reflects part of the room, and a window with sheer curtains is visible in the background. The lighting is warm and ambient.
