

LUCY NETCHVOLODOFF

Case Manager

she / her / hers

(646) 347-3947

lucy@janove.law

Lucy is the Case Manager for Janove PLLC. She leads our client service enterprise.

Prior to joining Janove, Lucy graduated from UCLA in 2025 with a B.A. in History. During her time at UCLA, she spent a year interning at the Los Angeles Superior Court Self-Help Center, where she assisted low-income, self-represented litigants involved in restraining orders and family law matters. Following graduation, she returned to the Self-Help Center for a year-long AmeriCorps service fellowship, continuing her work on domestic violence restraining orders, custody/visitation disputes, and answers to unlawful detainers.

Outside the office, Lucy enjoys reading (especially Joan Didion), trying new recipes, and practicing yoga. Her favorite pose is bakasana, also known as the crow pose.

EDUCATION

- B.A. in History with a Minor in Public Affairs, University of California, Los Angeles