

ROYALS HOPE WEEKLY

August 24, 2026

CLASSICAL CORNER

Why Latin Series-Language

What is the function of language in general as an instrument of education. The function of education is purportedly to prepare pupils to be useful members of society. To make them such, it is essential that they be taught to understand as fully as possible the nature and character of the national life-social, civil, political, religious-in which they are born or in which their lot is cast. To a certain extent, also, it is essential that they learn to apprehend the nature and character of the larger life of the nation.
