Practice Overview

Parker has represented plaintiffs and defendants in lawsuits inside and outside Texas. His diverse business litigation background includes litigating and arbitrating complex cases involving:

- partnership disputes;
- class actions;
- commercial and residential construction disputes;
- employment disputes;
- real estate transactions;
- large scale commercial landlord-tenant issues;
- trademark and copyright infringement claims; and
- debtor/creditor relationships.

In addition to his business litigation practice, Parker represents a number of Texas municipalities in various litigation-related matters, including labor and employment arbitrations, civil rights actions, and commercial contract cases. Parker has frequently represented clients in arbitration proceedings, having tried more than 50 arbitration cases administered by a variety of organizations and agencies.
