Practice Overview

Drew has been involved in the successful resolution of many business litigation disputes on behalf of plaintiffs and defendants, including cases involving complex real estate transactions and closings, partition disputes, complicated partnership issues, employment disputes, construction defects, and product liability and negligence actions. In addition to trying cases successfully to verdict or in arbitrations, Drew has been able to obtain important summary judgment decisions for his clients. Drew works closely with his clients and is focused on meeting their business and legal goals as expeditiously as possible. He approaches complex cases from a practical point of view, analyzing the circumstances of each case to distill key components and formulate clear arguments and strategies. Drew brings enthusiasm and a common sense approach to each matter he undertakes.
