

Episode 8. Introductions and Conclusions

All sermons have a beginning, middle, and end. Not all have an intentionally crafted start and finish. This episode helps you grab your audience's attention, understand the importance of your sermon, then help them remember it long after it's finished.

EPISODE VIDEO: www.macarthurcenter.org/masterclass/8-introductions-and-conclusions

Application Questions

1. Again, read 1 Peter 1:3–17.
2. Come up with three potential introductions for a sermon on this text. Make sure your introductions have variety and point people to the main point of the text.
3. Do the same exercise for conclusions to a sermon on this text.