

Shay Levi

Shay Levi is the Co-Founder and CEO of Unframe, a company redefining enterprise AI with scalable, secure solutions. Previously, he co-founded Noname Security and led the company to its $500M acquisition by Akamai in just four years. Before that, he held senior engineering and leadership roles in multiple tech companies, including Facebook, and served in the intelligence unit of the IDF. A proven innovator in cybersecurity and technology, he specializes in building transformative solutions.

Larissa Schneider

Larissa Schneider is the Co-Founder and COO of Unframe, leading global strategy and operations. With over a decade of experience in enterprise tech, she has driven strategic growth and partnerships for fast-scaling organizations through IPO and M&A. Previously, she held senior roles at Nutanix, Noname Security, and PernixData, bringing a global perspective from her professional experience and studies across North America, Europe and APAC.

Adi Azarya

Adi Azarya is the Co-Founder and VP of R&D at Unframe, driving the development of scalable, secure AI solutions. Previously, he led the Web Group at Noname Security and co-founded Sorbet as CTO, shaping its technology vision. With deep expertise in full-stack development and cloud-native systems, he has built high-performing enterprise products across multiple industries.