

How EU-Based E+E Elektronik Doubled U.S. Subsidiary Sales and 5x'd EBITDA in 24 Months

E+E Elektronik, a global manufacturer of automated sensors, had the right product but the wrong message for the U.S. market. Their technical content wasn't driving engagement, and sales had hit a ceiling.

CHALLENGES

- ✘ Zero brand recognition in the U.S.
- ✘ Product-market fit misalignment
- ✘ Technical messaging failed to tap into painpoints or drive urgency
- ✘ Sales content was translated from German but not adapted to U.S. market buyers
- ✘ Revenue plateaued for the U.S. subsidiary

APPROACH

We partnered with E+E to focus on two key vertical markets that offer better product-market fit. Together, we:

- ✓ Focused on two high-fit verticals to align with market demand and margin potential.
- ✓ Repositioned messaging around buyer pain points, urgency and measurable outcomes – not techs and specs.
- ✓ Created an integrated, multichannel content and ad strategy for U.S. decision-makers.
- ✓ Rewrote sales materials to highlight automation ROI and total cost of ownership reduction.

SUCCESS

E+E's focused U.S. strategy is driving measurable results. Targeted marketing and messaging improvements doubled U.S. sales in under two years, reversing a flat trajectory and growing EBITDA 5x beyond targets.
