06 — LOCATION & MARKET

Liberty Hill, Texas

Liberty Hill, Texas, is a rapidly growing community in the Texas Hill Country, located approximately 35 miles northwest of Austin in Williamson County. Positioned along State Highway 29 and near U.S. Highway 183, Liberty Hill benefits from convenient access to Georgetown, Leander, Cedar Park, and the greater Austin metropolitan area. Historically a small rural community, Liberty Hill has experienced significant residential and commercial expansion driven by Central Texas population growth, new master-planned communities, and increasing demand for suburban amenities. The city's growing population, strong household incomes, and expanding residential developments support increasing demand for retail, dining, medical, and professional services. With continued infrastructure improvements, a growing regional customer base, and proximity to major employment centers, Liberty Hill represents an attractive market for commercial investment and long-term development.
