

Dr. Digvijay Singh Bedi, MS, FACS

Dr. Digvijay Singh Bedi is a senior bariatric and metabolic surgeon with over 20 years of experience in obesity management and advanced laparoscopic surgery. He is the Director of Hope Obesity & Superspeciality Hospital, Ahmedabad, where he leads a comprehensive Bariatric and Metabolic Surgery programme focused on safe, ethical, and evidence based care. He has played an active role in establishing bariatric services across multiple centres and in training surgeons through live operative workshops and academic programs.

With international training through a Fellowship in Bariatric Surgery in Australia, and as a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS), he has contributed to scientific meetings and multicentre research at national and international levels.

An active member of OSSI and IFSO, Dr. Bedi envisions an OSSI that is academically robust, regionally inclusive, and future-oriented—supporting young surgeons, strengthening uniform standards of care, and advancing collaborative research to address India's growing obesity burden.

He seeks to serve OSSI with a commitment to collaboration, transparency, and sustainable growth.
