

PORTHOLE MONITORING SENSOR

The porthole monitoring sensor is one of the vital components of ASW Technology.
It can be ordered in multiple finishes to visually disappear against the porthole frame.
These components are battery powered, which reduces the amount of cabling and by consequence resulting in a reduction of weight and waste during construction.