A talk submission is a single paragraph, without subheadings, indentation or references. It should be an explicit summary of your presentation that states 1) the objective 2) the context, 3) insights, and 4) the relevance to the industry. It should be 1.15-spaced in 11-point Times New Roman. The first part of your talk submission should state the objective of your talk. It should be clear the context or challenge your talk will address, followed by the expertise, insights and leadership your work presents to the industry. Your talk should be engaging and interested to a general biochar audience of industry actors from various industries, scientific experts, policy makers. Furthermore, your submission should indicate the results or outcomes of the work you have done so far. Finally, your talk should close with a statement of the project's implications and contributions to its field. The content of the talk will be the basis for acceptance for an oral or poster presentation at the Biochar Summit 2026. Presenters will be informed about acceptance for presentation via email. Be sure to adhere to the word limitation for the abstract (200 - 400 words). The abstract should be submitted in the format of MS Word (.doc or .docx) document or as a pdf file.
