FALL 2025

Dear members,

As we roll into fall and the start of a new school year, we are excited to welcome our latest special exhibition Silver Linings: Celebrating the Spelman Art Collection, coming to us from just down the highway at Spelman College in Atlanta. This nationally touring exhibition showcases works by significant Black artists who have played a vital role in shaping American art (read more on page 4). In true Hunter fashion, we're offering an assortment of exhibition-related programs to appeal to our various guests, from thought-provoking Vision + Verse discussions and performances to hands-on art activities for adults as well as youth. Check out page 6 for a full list of Silver Linings programming.

In addition to Silver Linings, our galleries now feature 14 magnificent works (including a John Singer Sargent, an Andrew Wyeth and a Georgia O'Keeffe, among others) on long-term loan from the Toledo Art Museum thanks to our participation in Art Bridges Foundation's partner loan network. Plus, we have opened two exciting installations by two artists with strong local connections: Jessica Wohl and Garrett Strang. In Idreamed You Were Here, Sewanee professor Wohl has transformed the mansion stairwell with a site-specific installation crafted from found fabrics using sewing and quilting techniques. Meanwhile, Chattanooga native Garrett Strang has created a series of striking black-and-white photographs collected in the book Paris in the Raw and presented in an exhibition of the same name. The images capture the rhythm and energy of everyday life in Paris. You can learn more about both exhibitions on page 8.

Of course, it wouldn't be autumn at the Hunter without our premier fundraiser, Spectrum, presented by First Horizon and chaired this year by Julie and Patrick Stowe. For Spectrum 2025, we're taking guests back to the 1920s, complete with a "Speakeasy" silent auction and a "Gatsby Glamour" gala and live auction. Guests can expect the classic elegance of Spectrum paired with the mystery and opulence of the "roaring '20s" (more on page 14). With its festive Jazz Age theme and the addition of a live dance band following the auction on Saturday evening, Spectrum 2025 promises to be "the bee's knees"! Don't miss out on the fun - get your tickets now!

Thank you, valued members, for helping the Hunter remain a place where people from all walks of life can connect with creativity, knowledge, and ideas. Everything we do is made possible through your support. Please know how much we appreciate you!

Virginia Anne

SILVER LININGS

Celebrating the Spelman Art Collection

This fall, the Hunter is excited to present Silver Linings: Celebrating the Spelman Art Collection, an exhibition that showcases the work of significant Black artists over the last 120 years and that commemorates the legacy of Historically Black Colleges and Universities, such as Spelman, in preserving those voices that were vital to the evolution of American art.

From bold abstract compositions to emotionally rich portraits, Silver Linings presents a dynamic range of styles and stories. Guests will explore pieces that reflect the energy of the Civil Rights Movement, the experimentation of mid-century abstraction, and deeply personal narratives from contemporary creators. Each work offers an invitation to look more closely and think more deeply about the evolution of American art.

Carrie Mae Weems (b. 1953), I Looked and Looked and Failed to See what So Frightened You, 2004, c-print diptych, each: 26 3/4 x 38 3/4 in. Spelman College Museum of Fine Art. Purchase with support from Frederick and Suzanne Burks in support of the 15 x 15 Acquisitions Initiative.

Join us for the opening celebration!
September 18 at 6pm

Generously supported by Art Bridges

This powerful exhibition includes iconic artists Romare Bearden, known for his vibrant collages; Elizabeth Catlett, celebrated for her impactful sculptures and prints; Faith Ringgold, whose stunning quilts weave together personal and historical narratives; and pioneering artist Henry Ossawa Tanner.

Silver Linings will be on display through January 12, 2026. The museum will offer a variety of public programs, including live music, hands-on art activities, and gallery discussions to help visitors connect more deeply with the exhibit.

Don't miss the opening celebration on September 18th at 6 PM featuring an Art Wise in-gallery tour led by Spelman College Museum of Fine Art Executive Director Liz Andrews. Experience powerful art, learn about history, and celebrate the voices that continue to shape American culture.

Silver Linings: Celebrating the Spelman Art Collection is organized by Spelman College Museum of Fine Art, Atlanta, Georgia. The exhibition is curated by Liz Andrews and Karen Comer Lowe with initial contributions from Anne Collins Smith.

HUNTER MUSEUM DOCENTS

Hunter Museum docents and Manager of School and Family Programs Kris Bispalec

Want to get involved with the Hunter, learn more about art, and share your love of art with the community?

Become a docent!

Docents at the Hunter play a vital role in creating meaningful connections between visitors and the museum's collection. Through an 18-hour introductory course and ongoing education throughout their tenure provided by museum staff, docents are educated about the museum's collection and special exhibitions and learn how to apply their unique perspectives and enthusiasm to each tour they are trained to conduct. They help foster engaging, inclusive and thought-provoking experiences for their tour participants.

Interested in becoming a docent? We will begin training a new cohort of docents in January 2026, so contact Kris Bispalec at cbispalec@huntermuseum.org to learn more and sign up!

IN THE GALLERIES

On August 28, the Hunter opened two compelling exhibitions that explore themes of memory, daily life, and human connection through powerful visual storytelling.

I Dreamed You Were Here by Jessica Wohl

I Dreamed You Were Here features the work of Jessica Wohl, a Sewanee-based artist known for her emotionally resonant textile installations. For the installation at the Hunter, Wohl transformed the museum's historic mansion stairwell using quilted banners made from secondhand clothing, linens, and household textiles. These materials—once part of someone's everyday life—are carefully taken apart and reassembled, creating new forms that carry traces of their past. Through intricate stitching and soft, worn fabrics, Wohl crafts a tactile dialogue about care, labor, and the unseen forces that hold our lives together in a quiet meditation on resilience and memory. This site-specific installation will be on view in the mansion stairwell until February 22, 2027.

Paris in the Raw by Garrett Strang

In the East Wing ramp of the contemporary gallery, Paris in the Raw showcases over 20 black-and-white photographs by Garrett Strang, a Chattanooga native now living and working in Paris. Strang's work offers an intimate look at daily life in the French capital, focusing not on famous landmarks but on the quiet, often overlooked moments that define a city. His monochrome images capture scenes that highlight the shared rhythms of urban life, from riding the metro to dancing in the park. By stripping away color and avoiding cliché, Strang presents a version of Paris that feels honest, grounded, and deeply human. Strang's collection of photographs will be on view in the East gallery ramp until March 30, 2026.

Together, I Dreamed You Were Here and Paris in the Raw encourage viewers to look beyond surface impressions—to consider the stories carried in everyday objects, the emotional power of material history, and the universal threads that connect us across cultures, cities, and time.

THE HUNTER JOINS ART BRIDGES' PARTNER LOAN NETWORK TO SHARE ITS COLLECTION NATIONWIDE

John Rowson Smith, Hudson River Landscape, c. 1859, oil on canvas, sight: 18 1/4 x 26 1/4 inches, frame Size: 24 1/4 x 32 1/4 x 3 inches (61.6 x 81.9 x 7.6 cm). Museum purchase, 1991.19.

The Hunter benefits from strong relationships in the broader art community, and the museum's partnership with Art Bridges, the Arkansas-based foundation begun by Alice Walton, is no different. In seeking to bring art out of museum vaults and into communities across the nation, Art Bridges has launched the Partner Loan Network (PLN) initiative, with a goal of facilitating art loans between institutions in the United States. Now on view at the Hunter are a number of works (including a Georgia O'Keeffe and a John Singer Sargent!) from the Toledo Museum of Art and borrowed through the Art Bridges PLN.

In addition to borrowing works through the Art Bridges PLN, the Hunter is proud to announce its new role as a lending institution in the program. As a lender, the museum will offer six curated groupings of artworks to fellow Robert Bechtle, Sunset Intersection, 1984, oil on canvas, each panel: 56 x 40 inches. Museum purchase with funds provided by the Benwood Foundation and the 1984 Collectors' Group, 1984.9.

Robert Longo, Untitled (Watchdog) triptych, 1987, left panel: acrylic and charcoal on canvas mounted on masonite, center and right panels: oil on canvas with steel printing plates mounted on masonite, 8 x 15 feet. Museum purchase, 1999.17.a-c institutions nationwide. These groupings range from 19th-century Hudson River School landscapes (such as Hudson River Landscape on top left) to contemporary mixed-media works (like Untitled [Watchdog] Triptych above and Hope to the right), showcasing the diversity and depth of our holdings. Featured artists include Robert Longo, Whitfield Lovell, Milton Avery, and Philip Pearlstein, among others.

We're thrilled that the Hunter's collection will now reach new audiences through this partnership. By expanding access and fostering collaboration, the Art Bridges PLN helps ensure that more people can experience the power and beauty of American art—wherever they are.

Right: Whitfield Lovell, Hope, 1999, charcoal on wood, found objects, 47 x 48 x 7 inches. Museum purchase made possible by the generosity of the 2000 Collectors' Group, 2000.10.

PRESENTED BY  FIRST HORIZON<sup>SM</sup>

Julie and Patrick Stowe

Spectrum at the Hunter Museum returns with a bold new twist – we’re channeling the elegance and exuberance of the Roaring ‘20s with a prohibition-era “Speakeasy” and a “Gatsby Gala”!

Spectrum 2025 festivities span two dazzling nights:

Thursday, November 6 – at the “Speakeasy” silent art auction, guests, in true prohibition-style, will slip behind closed doors for cocktails, heavy hors d’oeuvres and competitive bidding.

Saturday, November 8 - The 1920s glamour theme kicks up a notch with the “Gatsby Gala” featuring black-tie dining, a thrilling live art auction and dancing to a live band at the after party.

Thanks to a hardworking art selection committee, both events will offer a wide range of exceptional works of art from galleries across the country, tempting seasoned as well as first-time bidders!

Presented once again by First Horizon and chaired by Julie and Patrick Stowe, Spectrum 2025 is one party (well, actually two parties!) where the only password you’ll need is YES!

Don’t miss your chance to experience the roaring spirit of the ‘20s while supporting the Hunter Museum.
Tickets on sale soon!

CHECK OUT THE MUSEUM STORE

Make sure to visit the Museum Store during your trip and discover the perfect way to take the museum experience home with you! Our refreshed collection now features exciting new items inspired by Silver Linings: Celebrating the Spelman Art Collection alongside favorites from our permanent collection.

SUPPORT THE HUNTER WITH AN ARTS PLATE

Did you know that choosing an arts specialty license plate is one of the easiest ways to support creativity across Tennessee? Each plate helps fund the Tennessee Arts Commission, which provides vital support to local art organizations—including the Hunter Museum. By simply swapping out your standard plate for an arts plate at your county clerk's office, you're not just updating your car—you're helping keep the arts thriving in our community. It's a small change that makes a big impact, and it lets you show your love for the arts everywhere you go!
