Site Assessments

The most critical step to enhance your organization's safety and security is by conducting a site assessment. This is your diagnostic tool to understand the gaps and weaknesses that may exist and prioritize what action steps are most needed. By partnering with SEC, we can help you mitigate those gaps and provide realistic recommendations that are affordable and easy to implement.

What is a Site Assessment?

A site assessment is a comprehensive examination of all aspects of safety and security. This includes a detailed analysis of processes, procedures, training, equipment, technology and physical security. An SEC consultant will visit the designated building site(s) and evaluate vulnerabilities associated with physical security and emergency preparedness.

How does the site assessment work?

SEC will thoroughly examine your facility, including the following:

- The surrounding area for hazards
- Internal and external design features
- Existing technical and physical security measures
- Review of your current emergency operations plan and trainings
- Relevant safety and security policies and procedures
- Emergency equipment
- On-site interviews with key staff and leadership

As a principal, keeping my students safe is constantly on my mind. Partnering with the team at Secure Environment Consultants has given me peace of mind, knowing we have the best plan possible. In the world we live in, there is no excuse for not doing everything we can to protect our students, staff and visitors."

What is the time commitment?

Depending on the size of the facility, the site assessment takes approximately 3-4 hours per location. During one of those hours, we ask an individual with extensive knowledge of the facility to be available to provide a tour and answer any policy and procedure questions.

What does my organization receive at the end?

Following the site assessment, SEC will provide a report detailing satisfactory existing security measures and any identified potential vulnerabilities. This custom report is tailored to each facility and recommends actionable next steps using best practices for environments and strategies aligned with the organization's resources and goals. You can choose to have a written or verbal report.
