eSEC Online Training

You take your protective responsibilities seriously but may not always have the time or the resources to provide the training your employees need. With the eSEC online training platform, your employees receive access to our comprehensive library of training courses and resources, available at any time and from anywhere.

The eSEC online training is our comprehensive learning management platform, giving you and your employees access to all our trainings in bite-size pieces and ensuring your employees are prepared to respond to any crisis or emergency.

Besides the immediate benefits for your workplace and employees, eSEC training gives peace of mind to staff, students, families and customers. The online training platform is an affordable solution that helps you recertify employees from year to year, including new hires, volunteers, seasonal employees, and all employees within your organization. Access to the eSEC online training platform is available for one calendar year and includes an SEC certification for your website and marketing materials.

How does it work?

SEC strives to empower organizations of all sizes with the best safety and security training available. There are two options available to access our eSEC online trainings:

- SEC will host these courses on our learning management system and help your organization onboard for a successful deployment of learning.
- If you have an existing learning management system, the eSEC courses can be directed back into your LMS system, keeping all of your annual trainings in one simple location.
