About My Sound

Artist Bio Starter Kit

Welcome to Your Artist Bio Starter Kit

This simple guide will help you write a musician bio that sounds like you, helps you get discovered, and fits perfectly on your About My Sound website. Whether you're just starting or updating an old bio, this kit is for you.

The Bio Formula

Fill in the boxes below to help you structure your bio

| Artist / Band Name | City, Country | Genre |

| Musical Influences | Highlights (Small Wins, venues, performances) | What's Next (New music, upcoming shows, plans) |

Fill In The Blank Template

[Your Name] is a [genre] artist based in [location]. [His/Her/Their] music blends [influences or genres] to create [vibe or feeling]. [He/She/They] has performed at [venues] and released [singles/EPs]. [Your Name] is currently working on [project/ upcoming release].

🔍 Quick SEO Tips

- Include your genre and location (e.g., indie folk musician from Toronto)
- Mention artist comparisons or influences
- Use natural language - don't overstuff with keywords

Real Life Examples

"Aria Stone is a Montreal-based dream pop artist weaving synth layers with whispered vocals. Inspired by solitude, stars, and 90s shoegaze, her songs feel like diary entries from another planet."

"Mina El-Sayed is an Egyptian-Canadian violinist and composer known for blending classical instrumentation with Middle Eastern rhythms and electronic soundscapes. A graduate of Humber College's jazz program, her compositions have been featured in indie films, short docs, and live performance art. Mina's debut project "Between Sands" explores themes of identity and diaspora through string-driven storytelling. In 2024, she was awarded a Toronto Arts Council grant and is currently preparing a multidisciplinary live show set to tour across Ontario and Quebec in 2025."

Keep It Honest, Keep It Growing

Your bio doesn't have to be perfect, it just needs to reflect where you are right now. You can always edit and improve it as you grow.

With About My Sound, updating your site is as easy as editing a note on your phone.