WELCOME

Darkness does not exist. Darkness is only the absence of light. We can study the light but not the darkness. We can use Newton's prism to spread white light across multiple colors and explore the different wavelengths of each color. You can't measure darkness. A simple ray of light can break into the world of darkness and illuminate it. How can we tell how dark a certain space is? You measure how much light is presented. Darkness is a term man uses to describe what happens in the absence of light. The wisemen of the first advent followed the light.

Welcome to Centerville.
