CENTERVILLE
SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

WELCOME

A pastor, who had just started a job at a new church felt that he needed to preach about brokenness. The best illustration that he thought of was shattering glass. So he went to a store and bought the thinnest, cheapest glass that he could find. Then just at the right moment in the sermon he would snatch the glass and run over to the baptistry and slam it down and it would shatter. Everything seemed perfect on the day of the sermon. He made it to the climax of his sermon, snatched the glass, ran over to the baptistry, and slammed it down. The glass proceeded to make loud pounding sounds as it bounced around in the baptistry without breaking. The congregation and the pastor then broke out in laughter, and he continued on with the sermon. Sometimes things in this life don't go the way that we plan, but God always has something in store that we can't see. Happy Sabbath!
