SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

10.10.26

WELCOME

Of the seven wonders of the ancient world, only the Great Pyramid of Giza survives. But over near the ruins of Ephesus, in Turkey, (where Paul worked, John the Apostle and Mary the mother of Jesus spent their last years) is a gravel parking lot overlooking one of the ancient wonders - the Temple of Artemis. The few pieces of ruins that remain are overgrown with one re propped pillar sticking up like a sore thumb. The temple, in all its wonder, was burned down in 356 BC. A man named Herostratus set the fire just to make his name famous in history. It all begs the question, were temples/sanctuaries antiquated attempts at having spiritual significance? That leads us to this teaching series “God With Us” unpacking the sanctuary and the church.
