Community Involvement (Can be completed by homebuyer(s) only)

- You may complete sweat-equity hours by attending your neighborhood's Neighborhood Association, Neighborhood Planning Unit or Parent Teacher Association (PTA) meetings. We encourage engagement with your new community.
- You must complete a Community Meeting Report for each meeting you attend, in addition to logging it on your log sheet. Download here:

Submit a Community Meeting Report to your assigned support coordinator.

Home Construction (May be completed by friends and family on your behalf)

- Help your fellow Atlanta Habitat Homeowners build their homes or register for your own build.
- To volunteer on any build, you must create a user account and register on our volunteer scheduling website VolunteerHub. Homeowners may bring up to 4 guests, pending availability, when volunteering. Each guest is required to create a user account and register. Get started on VolunteerHub: <https://vhub.at/AHFHSweatEquity>

 Your Site Superintendent may assign further home-related projects as appropriate and on a case-by-case basis. ***

Restore (May be completed by friends and family on your behalf)

- Volunteer at one of Atlanta Habitat's two ReStores. Full-day and half-day shifts are available.
- To volunteer at a ReStore, you must create a user account and register on our volunteer scheduling website VolunteerHub. Homeowners may bring up to 2 guests when volunteering. Each guest is required to create a user account and register. Get started on VolunteerHub: <https://vhub.at/AHFHSweatEquity>

Other Ways to Earn Sweat EquityWorldreader Digital Reading Program

- Join Worldreader as a member of Atlanta Habitat to gain access to their digital library which offers a variety of reading materials for children ages 3 to 12 years old, available in both English and Spanish!
- Check out this video or use the unique link to learn more about Worldreader and how to get started. Create an account to start earning points. Earn .5 hours of sweat-equity for every 10 points accumulated. The maximum amount of hours you can earn through World Reader is 20 sweat-equity hours.(Example 20 points=1 hours, 40 points=2 hours)

Start Now Press Financial Literacy for Kids

- Financial Literacy for Kids uses storytelling about three little pigs to engage your kids in grades K-4 with fun colorful books and worksheets. By completing the books and worksheets, we are bringing powerful concepts to life in an easy way!
- Understanding these concepts can be life-changing for our youth. It can help avoid costly mistakes and show positive ways to grow in financial knowledge. It plants a financial “seed” that will continue to grow. By completing the program, receive up to 20 sweat-equity hours for successful completion of the Piggy Game Card. Contact Douna Hunter at douna.hunter@atlantahabitat.org to learn how to get started.

Atlanta Community Food Bank

- Volunteer sweat equity hours completed at the Atlanta Community Food Bank are accepted. Participants must bring their official sweat equity log sheet and obtain a signature from a volunteer coordinator or authorized staff member in order to receive credit.
