Are you feeling anxious about your upcoming exam? Try taking a practice test to calm those nerves! Prometric offers Nurse Aide testing in many states - just check which one applies to you. For those registered online, you can access your results through your account home page around three business days after the test date. You'll receive unofficial results indicating whether you passed or failed, while official results will be available on the Health Care Worker Registry around 10 business days post-test. To obtain your test results, log in to your account using your login ID and password. If you need help this month, take $10 off your next payment! For online registrants, unofficial results will be available after three business days, while official results can be verified and printed from the registry website. If you require testing accommodations, such as extra time or a separate room, please fill out the Nurse Aide Accommodations Request Packet and submit it with your application and payment. Please note that not all requests may be supported due to the physical demands of the clinical skills exam. In most states, an oral/audio version of the exam is available, which can be scheduled immediately without applying for accommodations. The exams will take place at Prometric-approved test centers - find a list of locations on the Prometric website. To schedule your application, please refer to Site Code located on the left side of the website. While the site has the most updated listing, test locations may change. If a location becomes unavailable after applying, Prometric will either reschedule you at the next closest testing site or contact you with alternative options in your area. Please review your state's Bulletin of Information available at www.prometric.com/nurseaide for additional fees associated with testing. Fees vary by state: * Alabama: Written (Oral) - $35, Clinical - $40 * Connecticut: Written - $45, Oral - $55, Clinical - $65 * Delaware: Written - $40, Oral - $50, Clinical - $68 * Florida: Written (English/Spanish/Oral) - $35, Clinical (English only) - $105 * Hawaii: Written - $50, Oral - $60, Clinical - $150 * Idaho: Written - $29, Oral - $39 * Massachusetts: Written - $40, Oral - $50, Clinical - $70 * Michigan: Written - $30, Clinical - $85 (as of 3/1/15) * New Mexico: Written (English/Spanish) - $38.85, Oral (English/Spanish) - $49.35, Clinical - $66.15 (includes 5% NM state tax) * New York: Written - $57, Oral - $67, Clinical - $68 * Oklahoma: Written - $30, Oral - $30, Clinical - $35 * Vermont: Written - $55, Oral - $55, Clinical - $120 For the Clinical Skills exam, you must wear flat nonskid closed-toe shoes. You may be asked to play the role of a resident for another candidate, so dress accordingly. Scrubs are acceptable but not required. To take an exam, you must present two valid pieces of identification that match the name used to register and appear on your Admission Letter. The first ID must be current and contain both a photo and signature, while the second ID can be a signature-only document such as a social security card or credit card. Prometric does not require a specific textbook or study guide. Exams are based on federal requirements and curriculum, matching commonly used NA training text books. Practice exams for written and clinical skills exams are available for a small fee and can be taken online using the same testing system you will use on test day. At any moment, you can learn more about these exams on prometric.com/nurseaide/nurse-aide-practice-exam. Licensure and certification type exams don't use the same grading scales as schools; your state's passing standard was used instead. Prometric uses this standard along with other statistics to ensure each candidate gets a test form with similar difficulty levels, even if different forms require a varying number of correct answers. You shouldn't compare scores with others since there are many exam forms. The exam you took had 60 questions: 10 unscored and 50 scored ones. We don't include the unscored questions in your score report as they're not part of your exam score. Each state has its own timeline based on the exam format and regulations. Below is a list of maximum days for each state: AL, CT, DE, FL, HI, ID, MA, MI, NM, OK, and VT - Score reports are printed at the test center and given to candidates before they leave. NY - Both Clinical and Written Exam Score Reports are emailed within 5 days. For states where Prometric mails the CNA certificate: CT, HI, ID, MA, MI, NM, NY, and VT - 5 business days after the exam date; for states that manage the registry (Paper and Pencil or Internet based), it's 48 business hours. Visit your state's webpage to print a Change Request Form, which will guide you through updating personal information. Each state has different requirements for candidates to become active again on the Nurse Aide Registry. Go to prometric.com/nurseaide and select your state; read the Candidate Information Bulletin for reactivation instructions. For transferring certifications, follow the same process but choose the "transfer" option. Arrive at least 30 minutes before your scheduled test time.
