

Continue

All tarot cards in order

How many major tarot cards are there. All tarot card. List of all tarot cards. How many tarot cards are there. List of all tarot cards in order. Are all tarot cards the same. All cards in a tarot deck. How many main tarot cards are there. All 78 tarot cards in order.

TAROT CARD MEANINGS - ULTIMATE LIST OF TAROT CARDS WITH PICTURES AND INTERPRETATIONS Table of Contents This comprehensive list includes all 78 Tarot cards with pictures and meanings for upright and reversed interpretation. The Major Arcana is organized numerically, while the Minor Arcana is divided into four suits: Wands, Cups, Pentacles, and Swords. 1. The Fool: New beginning, head over heels, foolishness. 2. The Magician: Creativity, channeling energy from above, transmutation, trickery. 3. The High Priestess: Silence, spirituality, sacredness. 4. The Empress: Feminine energy, fertility, creative power, abundance. 5. The Emperor: Power, authority, masculine energy. 6. The Hierophant: Tradition, obedience, expectations (marriage in some readings). 7. The Lovers: Love, important choice/decision, heaven sent. 8. The Chariot: Willpower, direction, moving forward, stagnation. 9. Strength: Strength, confidence, stamina. 10. The Hermit: Solitude, wisdom, looking for truth and peace. 11. The Wheel of Fortune: Changes ahead, good luck, advancing in life. 12. Justice: Justice, balance, fairness. 13. The Hanged Man: Rite of passage, sacrifice for a greater good, meditation. 14. Death: The end of something, transformation. * 1-10: Action, energy, creativity. * 11-20: Passion, inspiration, exploration. * 21-30: Success, achievement, fulfillment. * 31-40: Burnout, exhaustion, frustration. * 41-50: Renewal, rebirth, regeneration. * 51-60: Creativity, imagination, manifestation. * 61-70: Adventure, risk-taking, exploration. * 71-78: Completion, mastery, fulfillment. * 1-10: Emotions, intuition, relationships. * 11-20: Joy, love, connection. * 21-30: Sorrow, heartache, loss. * 31-40: Healing, growth, transformation. * 41-50: Unity, harmony, balance. * 51-60: Love, romance, passion. * 61-70: Friendship, loyalty, commitment. * 71-78: Wisdom, introspection, self-awareness. * 1-10: Material possessions, finances, practicality. * 11-20: Abundance, prosperity, security. * 21-30: Lack of resources, financial struggles. * 31-40: Stability, grounding, foundation. * 41-50: Growth, expansion, progress. * 51-60: Overwhelmed, burdened, stuck. * 61-70: Mastery, skill-building, expertise. * 71-78: Completion, fulfillment, satisfaction. * 1-10: Thoughts, ideas, communication. * 11-20: Clarity, insight, understanding. * 21-30: Confusion, chaos, conflict. * 31-40: Decision-making, problem-solving. * 41-50: Action, implementation, progress. * 51-60: Overwhelmed, burdened, stuck. * 61-70: Mastery, skill-building, expertise. * 71-78: Completion, fulfillment, satisfaction. Bookmark this page to quickly return to it every time you need a list of Tarot cards with pictures and meanings! Lack of Acceptance: Temperance Upright - Balance and Confidence; Reversed - Unbalance and Emotional Turmoil. The Devil Upright - No (whatever you asked), Stop Wrong-way; Reversed - Out of Control, Excesses, Illusions. The Tower Upright - Destruction, Shock, Sudden Change; Reversed - Carrying on with something bad, Destruction deep down. The Star Upright - Hope, Renewal, Guidance from Above; Reversed - Lack of Hope, Rejecting Guidance, Ignoring Signs. The Moon Upright - Powerful Dreams, Visions, Psychic Abilities; Reversed - Confusion, Emotional Roller Coaster, Mental Health Issues. The Sun Upright - Happiness, Innocence, Carefreeness; Reversed - Lack of Happiness, Taking Care of Someone. Judgement Upright - Karma (positive), Getting What You Deserve; Reversed - Karma (negative), Not Getting What You Want. The World Upright - Success, Achievement, Having it All; Reversed - Success with Sacrifice, Less Than Expected. Ace of Wands: Upright - New Beginnings, Creativity, Inspiration; Reversed - 2 of Wands - Nostalgia, Attached to the Past. Two of Wands: Upright - Good Memories, Celebration; Reversed - Bad Memories, Trapped in the Past. Three of Wands: Upright - Adventure, Desire to Conquer; Reversed - Lack of Ambition, Risk, Envy. Four of Wands: Upright - Sense of Community, Welcome; Reversed - Lack of Support, No One to Celebrate with. Five of Wands: Upright - Competition, Teamwork Reversed - Aggressiveness, Harsh Competition. Six of Wands: Upright - Triumph, Accolades, Leadership; Reversed - Envy in Your Environment, Difficulties to Succeed. Seven of Wands: Upright - Courage, Survival; Reversed - Being Overtaken by Others, Fight You Can't Win. Eight of Wands: Upright - Peace, Surrender; Reversed - Carrying on with something bad. Don't take the risk You'll encounter many obstacles and rejection, indicated by the Nine of Wands. In this upright position, it represents defensiveness and mistrust. However, if you do decide to go for it and are successful, you might find yourself struggling with hard work and responsibility, signified by the Ten of Wands. But if you ignore your responsibilities, you could face setbacks and not reap any benefits. On the other hand, taking initiative and being bold can bring excitement and new experiences, as represented by the Knight of Wands. But failing to make a move or waiting too long can lead to setbacks and a lack of progress. If you're more cautious, it might be simpler to just let things unfold naturally, indicated by the Queen of Wands. However, if you become overwhelmed with requests for attention, you could lose your authenticity and sense of self. Being bold and charismatic is what the King of Wands represents in its upright position. But failing to meet expectations can lead to resentment and a lack of charisma. Receiving healing and flow of emotions is represented by the Ace of Cups, but experiencing emotional overflow or difficulty expressing yourself can be a challenge. Finally, love and commitment are represented by the Two of Cups, but unrequited love or being taken advantage of can occur if you're not careful. Responsibility evasion is a state of staying put where one should leave. Nine Cups in the upright position signify satisfaction and completion, while its reversed version implies selfishness. Ten Cups represent happiness and dreams coming true, but its reversed form indicates unfulfilled expectations and difficulty appreciating what one has. The Page of Cups suggests listening to intuition and imagination, but its reversed form implies a lack thereof. The Knight of Cups represents love messages and romance, whereas its reversed form signifies delayed or misunderstood love. The Queen of Cups symbolizes visions, concentration, and emotional awareness, but its reversed form indicates loss of focus and obsession. The King of Cups signifies emotional stability and balance between reason and emotions, while its reversed form suggests an imbalance. The Ace of Pentacles represents a good start to projects and financial offers, whereas its reversed form implies financial problems. Two Pentacles signify juggling tasks and responsibilities, but its reversed form indicates risks and conflicting priorities. Three Pentacles represent teamwork and support from others, but its reversed form signifies conflict and lack of cooperation. Four Pentacles symbolize selfishness and holding onto possessions, while its reversed form implies hoarding and material losses. Five Pentacles indicate hardships and finding company in misfortune, whereas its reversed form suggests extended periods of difficulty and a dark night of the soul. Six Pentacles represent kindness, charity, and receiving help from institutions, but its reversed form indicates someone acting selfishly. When help from institutions or authorities is delayed, the outcome may not be as rewarding. This situation can lead to feelings of disappointment and frustration with the results obtained. In such cases, people might become impatient, expecting more from their efforts. On the other hand, being dedicated to work and learning skills can bring about positive outcomes. However, a loss of focus or procrastination in work can lead to monotonous and repetitive tasks that do not fulfill expectations. Achieving satisfaction and pride in one's results is essential, but isolation and giving more importance to material achievements than relationships can have negative consequences. Moreover, wealth and stability are desirable, but losing these can lead to feelings of insecurity and distrust towards others. Having pure intentions and idealism is crucial, as obsession with something or someone else can be detrimental. Being hard-working and meeting halfway in efforts is commendable, but being too generous or not wanting to make necessary efforts can be counterproductive. Taking care of what matters and having abundance and multiplication are vital for a secure future. However, lack of financial security, needy behavior, or becoming tyrannical can have severe consequences. Having clever ideas that bring illumination and triumph through reason is beneficial, but being irrational or fanatical can lead to losing one's mind. Trying to protect oneself from the influence of others might be necessary in some situations, but being too open or lacking self-reflection can be a problem. Finally, dealing with heartbreak, disappointment, or betrayal requires time and patience for healing. Sometimes, it is hard to find peace and solitude, especially when trying to recover from difficult experiences. Always remember that facing these challenges head-on and learning from them can lead to growth and better decision-making in the future. Difficulty accepting defeat or losses can be a challenge. In Tarot readings, cards like the Six of Swords, Seven of Swords, Eight of Swords, Nine of Swords, Ten of Swords, Page of Swords, Knight of Swords, Queen of Swords, and King of Swords offer insights into various situations. The Six of Swords suggests breaking free from a painful past and moving forward. The reversed version indicates difficulty in letting go of the past or fear of change. The Seven of Swords cautions against trickery or thefts, while its reverse warns of being discovered. The Eight of Swords can represent feeling trapped by others or an external situation, with its reverse signifying a call to freedom and release from one's own mind. The Nine of Swords is associated with distress, sadness, and painful truths, but its reverse relates to nightmares, psychic attacks, and mental health issues. The Ten of Swords implies extreme situations, violence, and destruction, but its reverse warns against denial, resistance to change, or going down a dead end path. In terms of personal qualities, the Page of Swords is associated with wariness, alertness, courage, and bravery, while its reverse indicates exaggerated distrust. The Knight of Swords embodies heroism, courage, and swift movement, whereas its reverse represents cowardice and lack of initiative. The Queen of Swords grants wishes, promotes honesty, and signifies a sign from the Universe to move on, but her reverse suggests dishonesty, lies, and unfulfilled desires. For better understanding of Tarot cards, remember to consider individual keywords in the context of the question, card position in the spread, and relationships with other cards. Apply this knowledge to the 11-Card Celtic Cross Spread for a deeper insight into various aspects of life. Unlocking the secrets of the future has never been more accessible! I'm sharing my personal interpretations, which I use for client readings - now you can tap into them too! The Cups Suit is all about emotions, relationships, and the heart. It's concerned with how you feel about life, your job, home, and any situation that tugs at your emotions. The cards in this suit are: * Ace of Cups: New beginnings and emotional connections * Two of Cups: Harmonious relationships and partnerships * Three of Cups: Joyful times with friends and community * Four of Cups: Reflection and introspection * Five of Cups: Loss, longing, and letting go * Six of Cups: Childhood memories and nostalgia * Seven of Cups: Dreams and illusions * Eight of Cups: Leaving something behind * Nine of Cups: Wishes and desires coming true * Ten of Cups: Ultimate happiness and fulfillment * Page of Cups: Messages from the subconscious * Knight of Cups: Romantic invitations and flings * Queen of Cups: Emotional intelligence and nurturing * King of Cups: Emotional balance and wisdom Further reading: Explore the Cups Tarot Suit, Wands Tarot Cards, Pentacles Tarot Cards, Swords Tarot Cards, and Tarot Suits. The Wands Suit is all about manifestation, action, and creativity. It's associated with Fire, passion, and drive. When Wands dominate a reading, it's time to take bold steps towards making your dreams a reality! * Ace of Wands: Igniting new ideas and passions * Two of Wands: Exploring options and making choices * Three of Wands: Building momentum and progress * Four of Wands: Establishing stability and security * Five of Wands: Competition, challenges, and growth * Six of Wands: Recognition and achievements * Seven of Wands: Defending your goals and values * Eight of Wands: Quick action and momentum * Nine of Wands: Perseverance and determination * Ten of Wands: Completing a project or phase * Page of Wands: Creative inspiration and ideas * Knight of Wands: Boldly pursuing your desires * Queen of Wands: Passionate leadership and creativity * King of Wands: Confident and adventurous Further reading: Explore the Wands Tarot Suit, Pentacles Tarot Cards, Swords Tarot Cards, Cups Tarot Suit, and Tarot Suits. The Pentacles Suit is all about material possessions, finances, and physical reality. It's associated with Earth, security, and stability. When Pentacles dominate a reading, it's time to focus on practical matters and manifest abundance! * Ace of Pentacles: New beginnings and abundance * Two of Pentacles: Balancing work and leisure * Three of Pentacles: Skilled craftsmanship and trade * Four of Pentacles: Security, stability, and conservation * Five of Pentacles: Struggle and hardship, but also resilience * Six of Pentacles: Trade-offs and exchanges * Seven of Pentacles: Patience and perseverance in growth * Eight of Pentacles: Hard work and dedication * Nine of Pentacles: Independence and self-sufficiency * Ten of Pentacles: Ultimate security and fulfillment * Page of Pentacles: Nurturing your physical well-being * Knight of Pentacles: Responsible and practical action * Queen of Pentacles: Nurturing and providing for others * King of Pentacles: Wise and prosperous leadership Further reading: Explore the Pentacles Tarot Suit, Swords Tarot Cards, Cups Tarot Suit, Wands Tarot Cards, and Tarot Suits. The Swords Suit is all about mental clarity, logic, and communication. It's associated with Air, intellect, and truth. When Swords dominate a reading, it's time to clarify your thoughts, communicate effectively, and seek wisdom! * Ace of Swords: New ideas and insights * Two of Swords: Weighing options and making decisions * Three of Swords: Sorrow, heartbreak, or betrayal * Four of Swords: Rest, reflection, and introspection * Five of Swords: Victory through strategic thinking * Six of Swords: Travel, exploration, and new experiences * Seven of Swords: Cunning and cleverness in strategy * Eight of Swords: Feeling trapped or limited * Nine of Swords: Fears and anxieties holding you back * Ten of Swords: Release from emotional burdens * Page of Swords: Curiosity and seeking knowledge * Knight of Swords: Boldly pursuing truth and wisdom * Queen of Swords: Intelligent and decisive leadership * King of Swords: Wise and authoritative decision-making Further reading: Explore the Swords Tarot Suit, Wands Tarot Cards, Pentacles Tarot Cards, Cups Tarot Suit, and Tarot Suits. The Major Arcana is a set of 22 cards that represent major life themes, transitions, and turning points. They're like "aha" moments or epiphanies that can help you navigate your journey! * 0 The Fool: New beginnings and innocence * 1 The Magician: Using your skills and talents to create change * 2 The High Priestess: Trusting your intuition and inner wisdom * 3 The Empress: Giving birth to new life or projects * 4 The Emperor: Taking responsibility, leadership, and assertiveness * 5 The Hierophant: Adopting a leadership role or tradition * 6 The Lovers: Feeling passionate about someone or something * 7 The Chariot: Taking control of your life and direction * 8 Strength: Inner strength and courage in the face of challenges * 9 The Hermit: Seeking guidance, wisdom, and isolation Further reading: Explore the Major Arcana, Wands Tarot Cards, Pentacles Tarot Cards, Swords Tarot Cards, Cups Tarot Suit, and Tarot Suits. In the realm of the mystical, cards hold secrets that only reveal themselves to those brave enough to confront their deepest fears. The Hermit's wisdom whispers solitude's comfort, while Wheel of Fortune spins tales of boundless luck. Justice calls for balance, and The Hanged Man advises relaxation in times of turmoil. Death's shadow looms large over changing landscapes, but Temperance teaches patience amidst chaos. Trapped by circumstances, The Devil's grip is broken only through liberation. Unexpected twists await those who face The Tower, yet hope remains eternal, shining like a guiding star from the celestial realm. Spiritual awareness blossoms under The Moon's gentle light, and success shines bright with The Sun's radiance. Judgement brings awakening, and completion is achieved in the harmonious cycle of The World. In this deck of 78 cards, two realms unfold: the Major Arcana and Minor Arcana. Twenty-two cards hold secrets in the former, numbered from The Fool to The World, each with its own story to tell. In contrast, sixty-four cards form the latter's four suits, echoing the simplicity yet depth found within the structure of regular playing cards. These cards are not merely for divination; they also serve as a tool for introspection and idea generation. Some use them daily, drawing one card each morning and contemplating its meaning. These cards hold symbolism rich enough that their interpretation depends on one's knowledge and intuition. The spread of tarot card popularity throughout Europe during the 15th century can be attributed to the influence of gypsy culture. As noted by Karina, a knowledgeable tarot expert and author of "Tarot in 5 Minutes," this significant development laid the groundwork for the widespread use of tarot cards we see today.