LOOKING 'EM OVER

By Dynamite Joe

Yarborough Park, James! Yes, Sir! And step on the gas!
Yes, Sir! "James, do you think you'll ever make any progress?" Yes sir, I think so. I believe James is like the Twelve Aces. Always trying to make good progress, but the jinx is on their trail always.

Twelve Aces hit their usual stride Sunday by losing a twin-bill to Dante Club. In the first game the score was 13 to 0. Tony Moley, southpaw twirler of Dante had the Twelve Aces where he carries his flask. (I guess you know that is his hip pocket.) He allowed only four safe blows and whiffed ten batters. While on the other hand Norman Manisco, the demitutive right-hander of Twelve Aces, struck out nine batters but was hammered timely. Joe Moley, the shortstopper fool, hit for a circuit swat in the second stanza and Cobona, outfielder duplicated the feat, in the fourth inning. Both drives were hit to left field and were lost in the weeds. Neal De Piano also hit one and circled the bases. The score of the second game was 9 to 1. Furino was on the mound for the winners and Schifinella was hurling for the losers. Both hurlers struck out five batters and allowing five hits each.

The game lasted only four innings on account of a drip of rain which approached very solemnly. While it was sprinkling, Dante Club was at bat on the fourth inning and they were trying to rush the game until the fifth inning before the hard rain began and the Twelve Aces were trying to slow it up.

Finally, Twelve Aces became disgusted and walked out of the field and gave the game to Dante Club. Twelve Aces need more team work and a better pitching staff. And those boys will give plenty of trouble to other teams. "Tiny" Schifinella, who played at initial bag, poled out a homer in the second inning to save his team from a double shut out.

Psychology? Yes, that's it! It took the art of Psychology and the art of pitching Sunday for Jolly Boys to end the storming nine of C. A. C. by a score of 8 to 7. Joe Monte, star right-hander of Jolly Boys pitched masterful ball and whiffed fourteen C. A. C. batters. While on the other hand "Fricky" Renella pitched good ball but had tougher luck than Monte. Joe Monte won his own game in the sixth inning when he hit a circuit swat with two mates on base. C. A. C. played an erratic game behind Renella, who also struck out twelve batters. Jolly Boys got all the bres of the game but still C. A. C. almost overtook their rivals after playing in the poorest form of the season.

SQUELCHING A 'DRIVE'

PUBLICATION in last Sunday's Times of the plan of The National Republic to raise a lot of money in order to fight "radicalism" has had some curious results. First of all, several prominent Republicans who had written letters in perfunctory approval of this unofficial monthly of their party, if tried to disavow knowledge of the scheme. Some use of their names in the appeal for funds sent out. In fact, the whole thing was so transparent an attempt to get funds out of innocent subscribers that it need only to be seen in print to be judged for what it was. Thereupon most of its alleged sponsors promptly ran away from it.

RADIUM DEATHS AROUSE PUBLIC

Three Women Dead and Another Dying.

Waterbury, Conn.—Three known radium deaths, the approaching death of a fourth victim, and the possibility of other cases as yet unreported, in Waterbury, have stirred public and legislative concern in Connecticut. What has aroused official cognizance of a "grave industrial wrong," as it is called, is the fact that the valuation of the life of Mrs. Mildred Cardow, the latest victim, as assessed by the clock manufacturing company for which she worked and the state compensation act, is $42,750.

The young woman worked one year in the radium watch dial department of the clock company, the largest and wealthiest producer of timepieces in the state. With the other 30 or more girls in the department, she had been instructed to polish the brush, dipped in radium solution, with her tongue before painting watch faces of the kind one reads in the dark.

The instruction was given, according to C. H. Granger, first vice president and superintendent, by a woman supervisor, unidentified. Mrs. Cardow was paid $12.50 a week. She later left her employment to serve as a waitress in the Waterbury hotel, where she subsequently died. Falling ill shortly after her marriage, recently, she complained of violent pains in her neck and head. Doctors at first diagnosed her condition as sinus congestion.

Forsakes Hectic World for South Sea Islands

Boston, Mass.—Although he is a Harvard graduate and the son of a prominent investment broker in this city, John Holly Knapp, Jr., is entering his tenth year as a voluntary recluse on the eastern extremity of Tahiti, an island 55 miles long in the French society group in the South seas.

When the World War ended young Knapp found himself out of touch with a life which seemed too complex for him. Possessing sufficient means to live in modest comfort wherever he desired, he established himself on the edge of a native Tahitian village. He has lived there since in a beautiful thatched house, well stocked with books, good furniture, and porcelain, and close by a peaceful lagoon.

He is the owner of a coconut plantation 40 miles from the port of Papeete. He speaks Tahitian with fluency. One of the very few friends who ever visited him in his retreat says that Knapp, without essaying to be authoritative, has become a sort of village patriarch and counselor in native affairs.

Attains His Ambition; Robs Bank of $9,000

Muncie, Ind.—The pinnacle of ambition has been reached by Melvin Halterman, twenty-three—he has robbed a bank.

Halterman confessed to local police that he and three companions, to whom he was known as "first gun man" and "second strike" robbed the State bank of Hicksville, Ohio, February 27, of $9,000. All four face life prison terms under Ohio law.

During his confession Halterman remarked: "It's a good thing you got me without my new pistol or you'd never have caught me alive. I may do some crying, but it'll be for my mother. I'll take the rap and never 'cheep.' It was my greatest ambition to rob a bank, and I did it."

Minister Opens Murder Trial With a Prayer

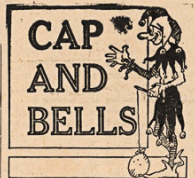

Burlington, Ky.—An unusual procedure for court trials occurred here when three youths, Leroy Milton and Thomas Brewer of Middletown, Ohio, and Charles Keulinger, Trenton, Ohio, went on trial for murder, Judge J. G. Vallandigham, immediately after opening the court, asked if there was a minister of the gospel in the courtroom. Rev. William D. Bell of Bellevue answered, and those in the courtroom were asked to stand for prayer. Rev. Mr. Bell thanked God for the guidance in the formation of the laws of the United States, and asked for further guidance for the jurors and all those connected with the case.

Holding Friends
A grudging gift never made a new friend nor helped to hold an old one—American Magazine.

Now the President himself, be known that he dislike and repudiates the entire project. He is not aware of the need of making or "bolshivism" in this country. A huge effort head off radicalism. What appears especially to have displeased Mr. Hoover was the statement in a letter by Representative Murphy of Ohio, intended to help on the grand crusade, to the effect that "the President is doing his part splendidly." Anyhow, he is doing his part in putting an end to a "drive" which was ridiculous on its face. If this sort of thing keeps on it will be necessary to ask for money to conduct propaganda against absurd propaganda.

ATTACK JUSTIFIED.

"What was the big idea of beating up this man who claims he never did you any harm?" demanded the judge sternly. "Your Honor, he predicted this would be a summerless year," growled the accused. "I'll fine him for trying to incite a riot," thundered the judge, whose back still ached from shoving paths through the snow.

The Secret Revealed
Dusty Rhoades—Lolly, will you give me a pie?
Mrs. Newel—I have only one and am saving that for my husband.
Dusty Rhoades—Yes, I know that. He said if I got it he would give me a quarter.

His Finish
Blanchard—What's this toy you're giving me for a birthday present?
His Last Wife—Oh, you dear old stupid! I thought you'd look so much sicker without that horrid blue hosiery all over your face so I bought you this darling little safety razor.

Would Be Convincing
Master—A bill collector at the door? Did you tell him I was out?
Maid—Yes, sir, but he didn't believe me.
Master—Well, I suppose I'll have to go and tell him myself.

A HOWLING SUCCESS

Friend—How was the walking lesson you were giving the baby yesterday?
Mother—A howling success.

Socially Uninterested
"Society is not for me."
Began a plaintive ballad—
"I care not for ice cream or tea—
I don't like chicken salad."

Thrill
"Have you read this gentleman who writes about nativity?"
"No."
"I am anxious to read him. They say you can't possibly understand him."

B. Jinks—You bet! In summer my boy gets in training digging trenches and in winter the experience proves handy when he has to shovel snow.

"Partly. And partly because a woman whose husband is in an orchestra always knows where he is singing."

There are certainly two ways of finding solitude—of being effectually cut off from quick reach of friends and the agencies that mean so much to us. One is to head east or west on a transoceanic flight, while the other is to keep house without a telephone. But it happens that few persons deliberately seek loneliness—that is why almost everybody has a telephone and long distance flying is left to the adventurous minority.

The cost of a telephone is trifling compared to the protection and convenience it affords. The Business Office will gladly quote you monthly rates and arrange to install your telephone.

A time-lapse look is a combination of time and combination book. It is designed to frustrate robbery of time and money by a principle of lock over which makes it impossible for thieves to open until a predetermined interval of time has elapsed after the combination has been released.
