Antonio Segni: a profile

Like many Sardinian families, The Segnis originated from Genoa. Around 1720, a number of prosperous Genovese migrated to the small off-shore island of San Pietro, on the South West coast of Sardinia, and there they founded the village of Carloforte where the Genovese dialect is spoken to this day.

For the last two generations, a branch of the Segni family moved from Carloforte to Sassari, the intellectual center of Sardinia, where Antonio Segni was born on February 2, 1891, of a family of landed gentry with deep-rooted Catholic and cultural traditions.

Young Antonio Segni spent all his school years in Sassari where in 1913 he obtained a Law degree from that University. He immediately set out to teaching.

During the fascist years Segni dedicated himself to the academic career as Professor of Civil Procedure, first at Perugia (Umbria) and later at Cagliari (Sardinia) and Pavia (Lombardy).

In 1933 he was transferred to the University of Sassari, where he remained as Professor of Commercial Law, and later also as President of that University until 1953. During that year he was summoned to the University of Rome, where, in spite of his many important government duties, he managed to continue teaching until 1960.

In 1959, Segni was awarded an honorary degree in jurisprudence by the University of Georgetown in Washington District of Columbia.

His political activities started in 1944, when he was appointed Undersecretary for Agriculture and Forestry in the 2nd Bonomi Cabinet. He kept that post until July 1946, when he was raised to head the same Department as Minister.

From July 1951 to January 1954, he was Minister of Public Education, and from July 54 to July 55 he was Chairman of the House Standing Committee on Education.

On July 2, 1955 he was entrusted with the task of forming a new Government which he fulfilled on July 6 of that year on a 3 party basis: Christian Democratic, Liberal and Social Democratic.

Following the elections of June 1958, he became Deputy Chairman of the Council of Ministers and Minister of Defense in the Fanfani Government.

From 1959 to 60, Mr. Segni was once again head of the Government and Minister of Interior. In the subsequent Tambroni Government he took over the post of Foreign Affairs which he held through the two Cabinets formed by Signor Fanfani.

In the leadership of Italian foreign policy, Antonio Segni played an important role in support of an ever active participation of Italy in international life.

President Segni endeavors for a greater and more intimate understanding and cooperation between Italy and the United States.

An advocate of international cooperation among peoples, Segni has lent a wider breath to Italy's foreign relations. He has also given special care to the development of relations between Rome and the countries of the Far East and Latin America.

Antonio Segni was elected President of the Republic of Italy on May 6, 1962.

During his official visit in America, Mr. Segni had this to say on January 13, just passed, as he addressed a joint session of the U.S. Congress:

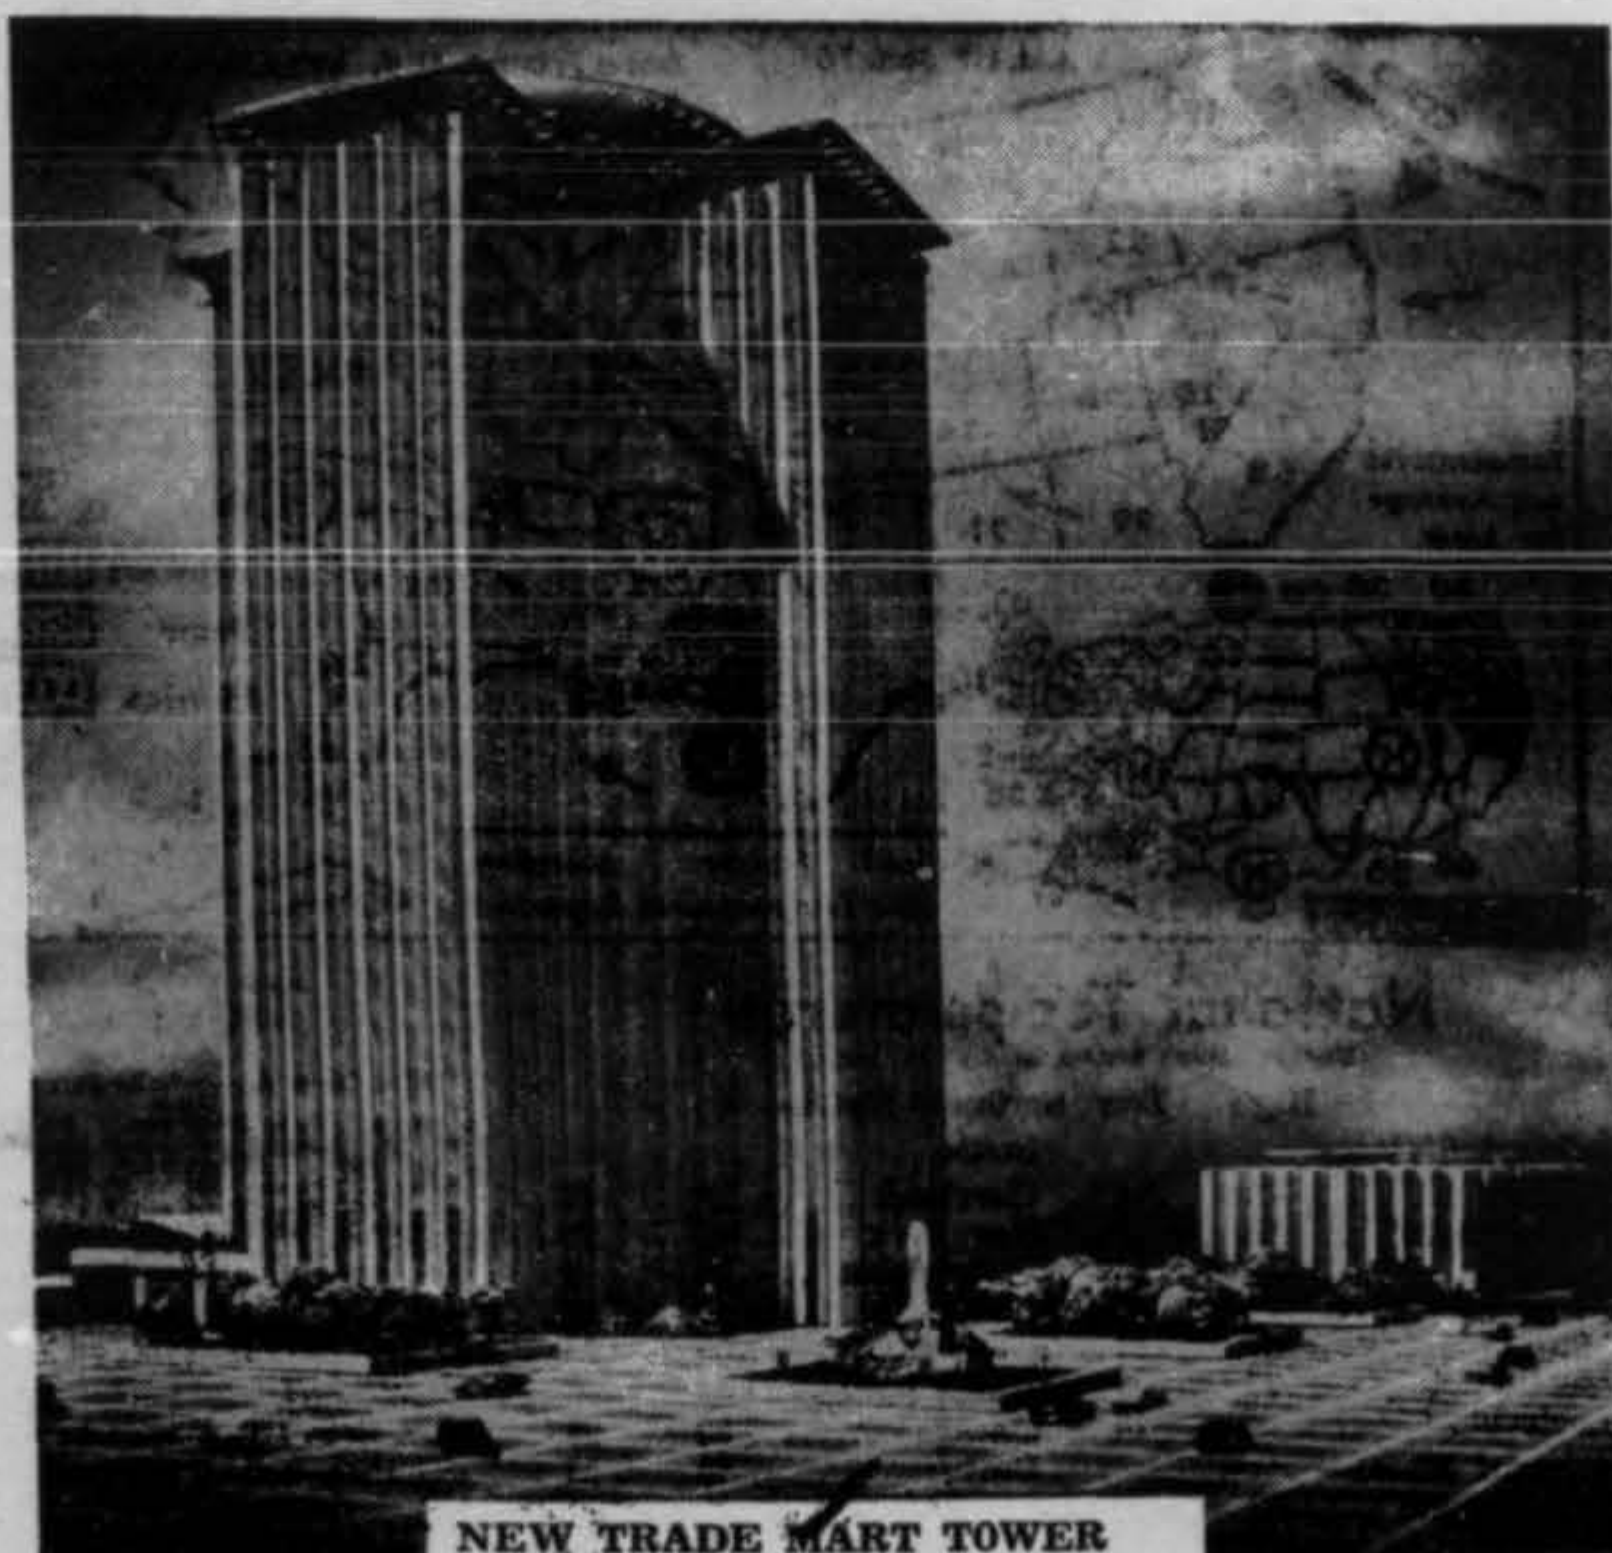

"If today we are capable of looking with a certain degree of confidence toward the possibility of resuming an effective international dialogue on the issues of peace and co-existence, we owe this result to the efforts and sacrifices we are making even to this day, as well as to our common determination to resist aggression."

"We must, as soon as possible, create the Atlantic partnership, and therefore create, within the Atlantic Alliance, a united Europe," the Italian leader said.

"If Europe wants to be strengthened... it must also unite politically: A divided Europe would rapidly become anachronistic and outdated."

Work Started On The New International Trade Mart Complex

The Imposing Structure to be Symbolic of the Port of New Orleans

NEW TRADE MART TOWER

The new 14 acre, 33 story INTERNATIONAL TRADE MART complex, when completed, 18 months hence, it will be an imposing landmark of great beauty for this very charming city of New Orleans.

The structure, located where canal street meets the Mississippi River, will cost close to 30 million dollars.

In addition of the tower building which has wings that forms a cross, the complex will include an exhibition and convention facility, to be built by the DOCK Board at a cost of $10 million; a parking accomodating 11,000 cars, and a new Spanish Plaza to be constructed by the Spanish Government at a cost of approximately $350,000.

SMALL NATIONAL shops and open-air cafes will border the Spanish Plaza, located between the tower building and the river.

The office tower structure will have a floor-entrance lobby, coffee shop facilities on the second floor and 27 floors of office space. The 31st floor will be devoted to a restaurant that "can compete with the finest in New Orleans." The 32nd and 33rd floors will be devoted to an observation deck and revolving cocktail lounge.

Of the approximately 450,000 square feet of rentable space, about two-thirds has been leased to date.

All the money realized from the project would be devoted to further research and study of the Southern market, further endeavors to open new areas of foreign commerce to the Port of New Orleans, including about six international trade fairs each year.

THREE SUPERSONIC JETS FOR ALITALIA

Three supersonic jets were booked recently by ALITALIA under an agreement between the Italian airline and the Federal Aviation Agency. Alitalia paid $300,000 as deposit and first instalment on the purchase price of the jets which may be delivered between 1970 and 1971. With the supersonic jets, flying time between New York and Rome or Milan will be cut to 3 hours. Alitalia is the first foreign company to place an order for U. S. made supersonic jets.

PORTALS OF AGES The Ursuline Convent

THE OLD URSULINE CONVENT OF NEW ORLEANS AS IT APPEARS
TODAY - 230 YEARS AFTER ERECTION

Last month we began this series of articles by using as title: ST. MARY'S ITALIAN CHURCH THROUGH 200 YEARS. Actually this is to be corrected to conform with facts. Only by linking St. Mary's Church to the Ursuline Chapel in the Convent occupied in 1753, we find some justification in the time element since St. Mary's was dedicated in 1845. It was called St. Mary's Italian Church in 1919 and although it is still known as such, its designation is now simply ST. MARY CHURCH.

It was the year 1727 when work began for the construction of a convent for the Ursuline nuns, who arrived from France on board LA GIRONDE. Their journey began on February 22, 1727 and they reached the mouth of the Mississippi river on July 23, 1727. This must have been a very trying voyage lasting as it did over 150 days. It is indeed a credit to the courageous missionary nuns who had volunteered to come to N.O. From the mouth of the Mississippi it required another 10 days to arrive at the City. They were welcomed by Governor Perier and the Jesuit Fathers as the first group of nuns to establish themselves in American territory.

The first residence of these wonderful sisters was the home of Madame Koly, which was located, according to historian Martin, at the north corner of Bienville and Chartres Streets.

With the Ursulines here, a sequel of FIRSTS in Louisiana began. In the Koly's home the first boarding school was opened; the first Catholic orphanage established; the first day school had its inception and the first instruction classes were started for girls and women of Indian or negro blood.

First in the United States the Ursulines undertook social welfare work. They were so enterprising and so effective in all of their activities that Colonial officials laid all problems before the nuns who graciously assumed and solved them.

In the meantime the structure of the convent started in 1727 was completed in 1734. Moving date occurred on July 17 with a solemn procession with the Blessed Sacrament from the chapel of the temporary convent participating civil and military officials, all of the clergy of New Orleans and companies of soldiers. We quote the following: "THE BLESSED SACRAMENT WAS CARRIED BY FATHER PHILIP, CAPUCHIN PASTOR

OF ST. LOUIS PARISH CHURCH, UNDER A RICH CANOPY. TROOPS RANGED BOTH SIDES OF THE STREET. THE TEMPO WAS FURNISHED BY DRUMS AND FIFES. AT THE END OF THE PROCESSION CAME THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWN. EACH PERSON CARRYING A LIGHTED TAPER."

At this time we have again another FIRST because the Convent became the first permanent cloistered institution in the nation. We wish to note that the Chapel of the new convent dedicated to Our Lady of Consolation, was used as a Parish Church, therefore ST. MARY'S is the extension and the place of worship for the people who had their marriage blessed, their children baptized and confirmed, funeral rites for their departed and participated in the Sacraments of our faith.

The convent, however, was structurally weak and began to disintegrate. In 1745 plans for the present 2 story brick complex were led and the nuns moved in around the end of 1752. The famous, unique winding stairway, which so readily attracts the attention of visitors from all over the world, is the same that was installed in the convent inaugurated in 1734. The original convent was a three story building covering 3 squares containing also a Hospital and barracks for soldiers.

Some of the orphan girls who were cared for and were taught by the good nuns, became wives of settlers from upriver plantations and farms. The men were very carefully scrutinized to protect the girls.

The nuns did hospital work, conducted free schools for externals, boarding school and a score of other useful tasks. In short the Institution became, from the very start, a center of culture as well as a place from where Christianity irradiated into the life and ways of the people of Louisiana.

From 1727 to 1821, the Ursulines were the only teaching Sisters in the State.

GEORGE A. NAMI A JEWELRY SHOP OF RENOWN

For half a century, the name of GEORGE A. NAMI has been a byword in jewelry in the New Orleans area and surrounding towns. The location of the store at Esplanade and Decatur is actually a landmark.

Generations of the first patrons have followed each other in the purchase of wedding rings, precious stones, watches, silver ware and other items of jewelry value.

Nami has been a family enterprise in close cooperation from its inception to this very day. The original owner was followed by his sons: George A. Nami Jr. and Philip J. Nami, who manage the shop while other members have clerical duties. "Our motto or credo" says Mr. George Nami "is to offer the finest quality jewelry at a minimum purchase price. We believe in absolute integrity to retain, at all times, the good will of our customers."

The Nami establishment is the same as was set up 50 years ago (see picture). The fixtures are of a quality, which to-day could hardly be duplicated, or if they could, the cost would be extraordinary. However the idea of modernization was often discussed but as many times, interested people protested.

A visit to Nami's Jewelry Store is as important as any of the major sights of the Vieux Carre.

New Ammonia Plant Location Cited

PLANS FOR THE WORLD'S LARGEST ammonia plant, to be erected by Olin Corporation within the company's present chemical complex at Lake Charles, were announced Monday. John O. Logan, corporate vice-president and general manager of Olin's chemical division, points out the artist's drawing of how the new plant will fit into the company's present installations. In addition to the ammonia plant, a urea plant will also be built by the company during 1964-1965.

SAINT MARY'S CHURCH

The facade of St. Mary's Church, is simple but impressive. The historic edifice, which is joined to the old Convent, was dedicated in 1845. For decades it was the scene of many impressive ceremonies. Like the Convent it was known as the Church of the Archbishop (Archevoche). Until the turn of the century, St. Mary's was the favorite church of many Creole families.

Clean-Up Award
Is Won by City

The city of New Orleans has been named an Achievement Award winner as one of the top entries

The decision of the judges was announced by R. H. Hackendahl, director of the National Clean Up - Paint Up - Fix Up Bureau which sponsors the annual event and aids communities in developing local improvement programs.

New Orleans' beautification program, directed by the Garden Clubs, which resulted in the planting of trees and enforcement of litter ordinances enabled the city to earn this national award.

Mrs. Daniel Freeman, president of the Civic Beautification Assn., who directed the Clean Up activities; Mayor Victor H. Schiro; Congressmen F. Edward Hebert and Hale Boggs; and Senators Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long have been invited to a press reception in Washington Feb. 4 honoring all winning cities.

City Economy
Enriched by Army Facility

The U.S. Army Gulf Command (USATCG) contributed $23 million to the economy of the Greater New Orleans Area during 1963, reports Col. Arthur J. Cornelson, terminal commander.

Salaries, stevedore and area contracts and supplies accounted for the money spent by the terminal, control point for Army shipping to Texas, Florida, Louisiana and Alabama.

ABOUT 735,000 measurement tons of Department of Defense cargo were exported through New Orleans during 1963. Received here were 270,000 measurement tons of import cargo.

Shipping facilities, both at the Army Terminal wharf and commercial docks were used to move the cargo in 1,260 vessels.

Land transportation required the use of 6,900 railroad cars and 19,950 trucks.

The Gulf Command also operates training facilities at Camp Leroy Johnson — slated for closure this year — and Camp Villere.

ARMY CIVILIANS totaling 1,080 and transportation units composed of 1,820 men have been posted at the two installations.

The bulk of an annual Army payroll of $15 million is spent in the New Orleans area, said Col. Cornelson.

"Let's Help This State" McKeithen

On January 11th, following months of a strenuous and vigorous campaign, hard facts and much discussion, votes were cast and JOHN McKEITHEN received the mandate to govern the State of Louisiana for the next four years.

Complete returns show that a very impressive number of people favored former Ambassador to the OAS deLesseps S. Morrison. By this time, however, the feelings of disappointment, of partisanship and personality appeal have given way to clear thinking and good reasoning.

What we look for in Louisiana with McKeithen is good government in Baton Rouge in behalf not of parts or sections but of the whole State.

Voters turned out in great numbers in cities, towns and crossroads to select the man who would live in the Governor's Mansion. It is expected that the program of the nominee, which appealed to so many and therefore to a majority, be a day by day step, in the next four years, for a renewal of things: new approach to economic problems, greater incentives for industries, more cooperation and better relations especially between the State and the City of New Orleans.

Godspeed to John McKeithen and to those closest to him in the discharge of their duties for a type of Government of which, at the end, all of Louisiana may be proud, before the Nation and the world, as one of the best and most fruitful.

For the record we will quote what Mr. McKeithen stated shortly after his nomination: "As Governor, I will need the help of all the people whether they were for me or not. We all have to work together for a better Louisiana."

We know that as Governor he will continually be under certain pressure not always for good; it is up to him to fend off those people who will be exerting their influences only for the benefit of the few rather than the good of the many.

For a better and greater Louisiana the goal must be reached through the formulation of policies which the citizens of the State regard as useful and beneficial.

Fantastico Mondo
di New Orleans

DI J. R. COLETTA

NEW ORLEANS e' citta' fantastica: e' allegra, generosa, esuberante di gioia, spassosa. Si direbbe che tutte le preoccupazioni della vita, gli assilli, le cure e le premure trovino qui un argine o quasi si dileguano in attivita' festive, che sono la piu' parte del calendario.

Eppure New Orleans e' citta' religiosa: e' seconda, per cattolicita' negli Stati Uniti. I riti della chiesa sono tanto importanti come e' supremamente importante il Carnevale. E' il Carnevale infatti, che in questo momento entra nella sua fase massima, che da' adito a meditazione e raccoglimento per i quaranta giorni precedenti la Pasqua.

Il Carnevale di New Orleans e' una vera "Lupercalia" e ci si prepara al nuovo fin dal giorno che segue la fine dell'ultima parata e l'ultimo ballo.

MARDI GRAS e' di origine oscura, si dice pero' che fu definitivamente stabilito qui nel 1766.

E' durante il periodo carnevalesco che l'esordio vien fatto nell'alta societa' e la presentazione delle giovani patrizie e' direttamente connessa con i celebri balli. Ricorderemo che tra i fastosi "KREWE", 2 furono organizzati da italo-americani ed hanno nome ELENIANI e VIRGI- LIANS; il primo dedicato ad Elena di Savoia, il secondo al poeta Virgilio, che celebrò il regno del romano Imperatore Augusto.

Questa e' New Orleans, citta' unica in America.

More than 500 sets in Congress have been held by representatives of minor parties at one time or another.

By 1980 the United States may need nearly four times the amount of electric power it requires today.

CHARTRES ST. UNITS HAVE NEW FACES

Taking on a new face in 1963 was the 160-year-old Presbytere on Chartres, next to historic old St. Louis Cathedral.

A $665,000 restoration project was completed in December that rescued the old Spanish building from severe decay.

Today, the building is one of the finest historical museums in the country.

Only a few steps away from the Presbytere is the bright and newly renovated Le Petit Theatre du Vieux Carre, at Chartres and St. Peter.

The exterior of this acting studio was restored to its original appearance during 1963. The building was constructed in 1872. Renovation cost was about $300,000.

President Warren Harding lost a bid to become governor of Ohio in 1910, but came back as a United States senator in 1915 and as President in 1921.

LETTERS RECEIVED

Georgetown and the Vieux Carre

If you have ever been in Washington, D. C., surely you must have strolled down the streets of old Georgetown. Anyone from New Orleans can see immediately the similarity with our famous French Quarter. Ofcourse Georgetown has more of an Early American character, but the charm is the same.

Viaggio di S.S. Paolo VI in India Probabile Visita in America

CITTÀ DEL VATICANO. — Un'alta personalità vaticana ha reso noto che Papa Paolo VI si recherà certamente in India per presenziare al Congresso Eucaristico Internazionale che si terrà a Bombay dall'8 novembre al 6 dicembre di questo anno. Lo stesso portavoce ha pure detto che il Santo Padre visiterà molto probabilmente gli Stati Uniti in un "non troppo distante futuro".

È definitivo che il Pontefice andrà al Congresso Eucaristico di Bombay, subito dopo la chiusura della terza sessione di lavori del Concilio Ecumenico.

L'alto personaggio ha inoltre aggiunto che il Papa ha in programma altri viaggi. Uno di questi probabilmente negli Stati Uniti.

Il viaggio di Paolo VI negli Stati Uniti quindi non è ancora sicuro, ma esiste una forte tendenza a credere che qualora venisse deciso esso avrebbe luogo durante il periodo della Fiera Mondiale di New York.

La sera del 5 gennaio mentre si trovava a Gerusalemme, il Papa ricevette un messaggio da parte del Presidente Johnson, il quale gli proponeva un incontro in America.

La lettera di Johnson al Pontefice, rimessa per tramite del direttore del corpo della pace, Sargent Shriver, è stata ritenuta negli ambienti ufficiali del Vaticano come il passo iniziale per una visita.

La Fiera Mondiale di New York verrà aperta il 22 aprile e durerà fino al 18 ottobre, per poi riaprire circa nello stesso periodo durante il 1965.

Nessun Papa ha visitato gli Stati Uniti. Ma Paolo VI in appena sei mesi di pontificato ha già fatto storia coi suoi viaggi. Egli è stato il primo Pontefice che si sia allontanato dall'Italia in un periodo di 152 anni, il primo a compiere un viaggio in aereo ed il primo che abbia visitato la Terra Santa.

Un asilo infantile inaugurato nella borgata Uditore

PALERMO. — Nella borgata Uditore, è stato inaugurato il nuovo Asilo infantile istituito e gestito dall'Ente Comunale di Assistenza che continua, in tal modo, la sua attività benefica, nonostante gli scarsi mezzi finanziari dei quali può disporre.

Alla simpatica cerimonia, sono intervenuti, con il Presidente della E.C.A., dr. Giuseppe Provenzano, i consiglieri dr. Perdia, cav. Parlati, e prof. Feliciello, l'on. Nicoletti, l'on. Tocco, l'on. Canzoneri, gli assessori comunali Caravello e Ciancimino, il consigliere comunale dr. Mazzara, il Vice Prefetto Riccobono in rappresentanza del Prefetto, il dr. Argento dell'Amministrazione Provinciale, la dott.ssa Ambrosini, Presidentessa del C.I.D.D., il direttore didattico Micciani, il Parroco della borgata don Rizza, il Segretario Generale dell'E.C.A. dr. Misiano con il ragioniere economo Trigona.

Brevi parole di ringraziamento al Presidente dell'E.C.A. ed alle autorità che hanno collaborato alla realizzazione dell'iniziativa, ha pronunciato il Parroco.

Ha preso poi la parola il prof. Feliciello il quale, anche nella sua qualità di prosindaco della borgata, nel ringraziare il Presidente dell'E.C.A., per la cui volontà l'iniziativa è stata realizzata, i colleghi del consiglio dell'E.C.A., i quali unanimemente hanno approvato la costituzione dell'Asilo di Uditore, i Padri Redentoristi che hanno messo a disposizione il locale, ha tenuto a ricordare che opere come queste stanno a cuore alla nuova Amministrazione dell'E.C.A. perché, più che una saltuaria assistenza per nulla efficace, lasciano una traccia nel corpo sociale e servono alla formazione dei cittadini di domani.

Il dr. Provenzano ha ricordato poi come questa iniziativa è stata ideata tra le prime che l'attuale Amministrazione ha voluto, consapevole di fare opera di assistenza meritoria e duratura, dando cioè il suo contributo all'educazione ed all'istruzione dei bambini, è consapevole altresì di dare anche un contributo all'evoluzione della popolosa zona di Uditore la quale si avvia ad inserirsi nella vita operosa della comunità cittadina.

L'Italia offre squisiti formaggi

I formaggi italiani si dividono in tre categorie: crudi (coagulo ad acidità naturale ed a maturazione rapida, oppure coagulo ad acidità media ed a maturazione media, oppure coagulo ad acidità di fermentazione ed a fermentazione media); semicotti (coagulo ad acidità naturale ed a maturazione media, oppure coagulo ad acidità naturale ed a maturazione lenta; oppure coagulo ad acidità di fermentazione ed a maturazione media); cotti (coagulo ad acidità di fermentazione e maturazione lenta).

I crudi sono: robiola, provole, mozzarella, scamorza, mascarpone, belpaese, crescenza, stracchino, quattrotto (che è lo stracchino di fabbricazione autunnale), gorgonzola, pannerone (che è il gorgonzola bianco), morianese (formaggio Moncenisio), caciocavallo.

I semicotti sono: fontina, montasio, asiago e pecorino.

I cotti sono: i grana (lodigiano e reggiano). E crudi o cotti sono tutti squisiti.

I PROBABILI PORPORATI DEL PROSSIMO CONCISTORO

ROMA, 12, (ANSA). — Secondo le voci che ricorrono più frequentemente negli ambienti romani, tra i nuovi porporati che potrebbero essere creati nel prossimo concistoro previsto per febbraio-marzo, figurano i titolari delle diocesi di Firenze, Milano, Westminster e Armagh (Irlanda del Nord).

Si nominano anche come probabili prossimi insigniti della berretta rossa: Mons. Sliip, metropolita ucraino, liberato lo scorso febbraio dalla prigionia; mons. Carlo Grano, nunzio apostolico in Italia, e mons. Angelo Dell'Acqua, sostituto della Segreteria di Stato.

Pure nella rosa dei candidati alla dignità cardinalizia si considerano - negli ambienti più accreditati - il segretario della Congregazione per gli Affari Ecclesiastici Straordinari, mons. Antonio Samore, e il segretario della Congregazione dei riti e prefetto delle Cerimonie Apostoliche, mons. Enrico Dante. Quest'ultimo, compiendo gli ottant'anni il giugno prossimo, lascerà la Congregazione.

Infine si parla di altri due probabili nuovi cardinali: mons. Federico Callori di Vignale, maggiordomo di Sua Santità, assessore della Congregazione Concistorale e segretario del Sacro Collegio dei Cardinali, e mons. Pericle Felici, segretario dell'attuale Concilio Ecumenico.

Con la morte del cardinale Julien, il Sacro Collegio risulta ora composto di 79 porporati: 27 italiani e 52 stranieri appartenenti a 29 nazionalità: Italia 27 (6 in diocesi e 21 in curia); Francia 7 (6 in diocesi e uno in curia); Spagna 6 (4 in diocesi e 2 in curia); Stati Uniti 5, Brasile 3, Germania 3 (uno in curia); Argentina 2 (uno in curia); Canada 2; Libano 2 (uno in curia); Portogallo 2 (uno in curia); e uno ciascuno: Australia, Ungheria, Cile, Belgio, Gran Bretagna e Irlanda (le ultime due nazioni con il loro rappresentante residente in curia).

La curia è composta di 30 cardinali: 21 italiani e 9 stranieri appartenenti ad otto nazionalità: Spagna 2, ed uno ciascuno: Argentina, Libano, Germania, Gran Bretagna, Francia, Portogallo e Irlanda.

RELIGIONE. — Una religione, buona o cattiva, per il popolo ci ha da essere; che ella è un freno necessario agli spiriti semplici e grassolani, i quali senza di lei non avrebbero più motivo di astenersi dal delitto e dal vizio. Voltaire

IL PALAZZO DEI PAPI

Il Palazzo del Quirinale — ove Sua Santità Paolo VI si recò l'11 gennaio in visita ufficiale al Presidente della Repubblica Italiana Antonio Segni — fu già per quasi quattrocento anni Palazzo dei Pontefici e dei Reali d'Italia (vi vissero due Re). Fu edificato nel Cinquecento quale dimora estiva dei Papi. Fu opera di vari architetti, tra cui Domenico Fontana che eresse la facciata, e il Bernini, che disegnò il portale.

Dopo il 1870, quando il generale La Marmora forzò i portoni del Palazzo guadagnandosi il titolo di "generale dei grimaldelli", Vittorio Emanuele II scelse a sua dimora poche e sgarnite stanze al pianterreno; egli non amava la nuova Reggia e sempre che gli fu possibile se ne tenne lontano.

La situazione mutò sette anni dopo con l'avvento al trono di Umberto I, il quale portò le sue stanze private al "piano nobile", nello stesso appartamento che il servo di Dio Pio IX e i suoi predecessori avevano abitato per quattro secoli.

Il "piano nobile" si trova nell'ala breve del Palazzo e dalle sue finestre la vista si allarga su buona parte di Roma, dal Gianicolo al Monte Mario, al Pincio. Umberto I volle il suo studio nella stessa stanza dove lo teneva Pio IX.

Morto Re Umberto, Vittorio Emanuele III cambiò molte cose: per cominciare, trasferì il suo appartamento privato nella "manica lunga" della palazzina del Quirinale. Come suo nonno, non ebbe mai predilezione per il Palazzo; vi rimase per tredici anni, ma sempre di mala voglia; e infine, comprata la grande fascia boschiva che va dalla via Salaria ai Parioli, là fissò la sua dimora. Si riservò gli appartamenti nella "manica lunga" per speciali occasioni, ma ne fece sempre poco uso.

Venne Umberto II e questo "re di pochi giorni" lasciò la "palazzina" ai figliuoli e con Maria José andò ad abitare nell'appartamento già stato dei Papi e del nonno. Sicché dei 75 anni passati dai Sovrani a Roma, i due Umberti amarono il Quirinale, i due Vittori no.

Per una coincidenza piuttosto sorprendente l'alternativa delle preferenze è continuata puntualmente con i Presidenti della Repubblica.

Luigi Einaudi era più che riluttante, quando fu eletto, a lasciare la sua quietta villa in via Tuscolana, le dimesse abitudini di professore e andare a vivere nel solenne Palazzo dei Papi e dei Re, tra Corazzieri e servitù gallonnata. Vi fu portato da De Gasperi e vi rimase per "ragioni di Stato". Nella scelta degli appartamenti si attenne alla linea di Vittorio Emanuele III; ebbe lo studio al piano terra e le stanze private nella "manica lunga". L'appartamento nobile rimase praticamente chiuso.

Con il Presidente Gronchi, che stette sulla linea di Umberto I e Umberto II, il "piano nobile" fu riaperto e l'ufficio presidenziale si trasferì nell'appartamento più nobile del Palazzo.

La stessa cosa è avvenuta con il Presidente Segni.

Loyola baseball team looks for its best season

The Club Deportivo Internacional is making plans for a "sportsfest" with the Arab Club of Tulane University. Volleyball, tennis, soccer, ping-pong and basketball are some of the games that will be played in this International Carnival of Sports to be held in early March... Joseph Park, manager of the Arthur Andersen & Co., softball team, is getting his auditing firm squad ready for the coming season. A game with the CDI is on tap for next month... Local sports enthusiasts George Gutierrez; Alonso Calix; Henry Faasch; Roberto "Bobby" del Castillo; Jose Martin Ortiz and Kurt Block seldom miss the soccer matches in Audubon Park... even though the Tulane University basketball team has lost fourteen straight games this season, its freshman squad is considered the best in Tulane history. This is due mainly to the efforts of Head Coach Ted Lenhardt who recruited some of the most heralded high school seniors in the nation... The 2nd round for the championship of the International Soccer League of N. O. will get under way Sunday, Feb. 2 in Audubon Park with the following 9 Clubs participating: Costa Rica, America, Honduras, The Hub, Holy Cross, Venezuela, Atletico Latino, Guatemala and Tulane. There is the possibility of one or two more teams joining the League, but nothing definite has been decided as yet... Our thanks to Mr. Bob Roesler the Times Picayune Sports Dept., for the publicity given our soccer matches.

INTERNATIONAL. - Australia, once the most powerful tennis nation, still reeling from the loss of the Davis Cup to the U.S. was shaken again recently by another bombshell. A group of leading players, including Australian champion Roy Emerson, announced their intention to defy a Lawn Tennis Ass. directive limiting overseas activities. The feud threatens to wreck the Davis Cup team.

Louis "Rags" Scheuermann, Loyola's baseball coach with a penchant for winning, has opened spring training with 13 players from the 1963 team back in the Wolfpack fold.

Scheuermann, who has never registered a losing season, predicts this year's edition has the potential to be one of the best. "We have a lot of balance," the Pack skipper said, "but we lack our usual amount of power. I'll be happy to break .500 again." Last year's team compiled a surprising 13-5 record in what was supposed to be a rebuilding season.

The batteries will be well charged. Two lettermen return behind the plate, heavy hitter Lou Triche and crafty, catcher Joe McMahon.

THE PITCHING staff is headed by a pair of superlative sophomores, right handers Billy Deris and Don Delatte. Junior Ronnie Lopez could be great if he finds himself. When basketball season ends, senior left hander Larry Hoyt will join the hurlers. He also is ticketed for much outfield duty because of his ability with the bat.

"Two of the most promising high schoolers to come out of New Orleans, freshmen Denny Palazzo and Bill Timken, will round out the mound corps," Scheuermann said.

A solid infield is composed of Charlie Grey at third base, Bobby Schroder at shortstop, Bobby Burns at second, and Keith Graffagnini at first.

Outfielders include sophomore Arnaud France and senior Merrill Vitter and freshman Tony Bianco.

The Department of Justice was created June 22, 1870, while President Ulysses S. Grant was in office.

NOAC Tabs Calamari as Athlete of Year

Mike Calamari

Tulane University's gridiron captain Mike Calamari was selected as the New Orleans Athletic Club's outstanding athlete of the Greater New Orleans area by the NOAC selection committee of sports figures, sports writers, TV sports announcers and representatives of the various fields of sports and organizations.

Born Oct. 8, 1941, Calamari stands 5-10 and weighs 210 pounds.

He plans to become a coach when he finishes at Tulane at the end of the next semester. Calamari was student chairman of the 1963 Christmas Seal campaign for the Tuberculosis Association of Greater New Orleans.

He became the fifth college football player to win the title as outstanding athlete of Greater New Orleans since the award was begun by NOAC.

John Pettibon of Notre Dame won in 1950, Hank Lauricella of Tennessee won in '51. Pepe Gonzales of LSU was the winner in 1955 and Al Ecuyer of Notre Dame won the honor in 1958.

Calamari's play with the Greenies has been outstanding since he entered the university. Mike made the All-Southeastern Conference sophomore team as a guard. He played guard and tackle as a junior, and has played both tackle positions for the Wave during 1963.

Tulane coach Tommy O'Boyle classed Mike as a fine leader.

The former Holy Cross all-state gridder earned spots on the Southeastern Conference's All-America checklist several times during the past season. At 5-10, 205 pounds he was one of the smallest tackles in the country, but received plaudits for his play against Texas, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, and LSU.

Quakers in Philadelphia were finally recorded as voting for abolition of slavery as early as 1844.

United States spending on foreign travel has nearly doubled in the last eight years.

TOP ATHLETES

NEW YORK — John Pennel, the first man to pole vault 17 feet, was named winner of the Sullivan Award for 1963 as amateur athlete of the year.

Tarzetti Named Coach of Year

Ken Tarzetti, Jesuit High football coach, was voted the Outstanding High School Coach of the Year in the New Orleans Junior Chamber of Commerce poll.

Foreigners Rank N.O. High as U.S. Attraction

Strange as it may seem, the high point of a foreign visitor's stay in New Orleans could be a little conversation in the home of a resident over a cup of coffee.

The man stressing the person-to-person approach to tourism was Charles A. "Sam" McGee, South Pacific Regional director of the comparatively new United States Travel Service.

He was visiting the city today with his family, partly because it is one of about four places in his nation that people in Australia, New Zealand and the surrounding islands want most to see. McGee had never been here.

IT IS HIS JOB to sell the South Pacific and especially the Australians on a trip to the U.S. despite the distance (10,000 miles by ship and 8,500 by air).

During the two years the travel service has been operating in Australia, tourism to this country has jumped 20 per cent.

In a way, the country's remoteness from the U.S. has worked as a selling point. McGee likes to point out to Aussies that if they visit England, and most want to, it costs only a little more to continue on around the world, rather than back-track home.

THE EASIEST WAY to make the tourist happy is to let him meet and talk to people who live in the place he is visiting, McGee believes.

He noted that this city has such a program of home visits. "The home program is the most important single element," he said.

What are the four places people most want to visit in this country?

San Francisco, New Orleans, New York and Disneyland, not always in that order of preference, he said.

64 Edition of City Directory Is Out

The 1964 edition of the New Orleans City Directory has been released. It contains 308,149 personal and business names.

Joseph W. Simon Jr., executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce of the New Orleans Area, announced that a copy of the new directory is at the information desk at the Chamber.

R. L. Polk & Co., of Richmond, Va., publishers of the directory, says the 308,149 count considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name.

The directory shows occupation or business connections, marital status and name of wife, whether head of house or roomer, names and titles of proprietors and officers of corporations and other information.

DEL MOMENTO DEPORTIVO Por Carlos y Jose

El poderoso equipo América del Club Internacional, bajo la habil dirección de su brillante capitán Eduardo Puente, ganó el Campeonato Relampago de la Liga Internacional de Fútbol de N. O. celebrado recientemente en Audubon Park.

Los encuentros se verificaron en una cancha pesada debido a la lluvia del día anterior y las oncenas Costa Rica, Venezuela y Holy Cross no participaron por encontrarse varios de sus jugadores en periodo de vacaciones, pero eso no fue suficiente para restarle esplendor al torneo.

Los muchachos del América actuaron con enorme velocidad y entusiasmo y su triunfo fue justo y merecido. El conocido hombre de negocios Orestes Pena, propietario del popular establecimiento de diversiones, "La Habana Bar", obsequió un hermoso trofeo al campeón América y otro a Juan Villanueva, extremo derecho del América, por ser el mayor goleador de la tarde. La gentileza del amigo Pena excede nuestras mas encarecidas frases de agradecimiento.

En segundo lugar quedó el Atlético Latino, que capitanea el "catracho" Manuel Tauceda.

El nuevo Consul General de Honduras en Nueva Orleans Hon. Sr. Guillermo Valverde es un magnífico pelotero y jugará esta temporada con el equipo de softbol del Club Deportivo Internacional...

JOHN MCKEITHEN FUTURO GOBERNADOR

El sábado 11 del pasado mes fue un día de incertidumbres, alegrías y desengaños momentáneos para las multitudes que concurrieron a las oficinas de los comités centrales de McKeithen y de Morrison a escuchar los resultados de las elecciones para gobernador del Estado de Louisiana. Los reportes dados por las televisiones fluctuaban rápidamente y jugaban con las emociones de los partidarios y de los candidatos mismos.

Hasta las 9:30 de aquella noche empezó a notarse que el resultado final favorecería a John McKeithen y que sus vigorosos esfuerzos en los últimos días de su campaña política le darían el triunfo.

Efectivamente, John McKeithen triunfó con una mayoría de 41.000 votos sobre Chep Morrison, cuya mayoría de 142 mil votos en las elecciones primarias, llenó de confianza y super-optimismo a sus partidarios y aun al mismo Morrison, subestimando la habilidad de su adversario, quien explotó el asunto racial y el bloque del voto negro, habiendo sacado ventaja también en los debates con Morrison televisados por los diferentes canales por todo el Estado, habiendo demostrado ante los votantes y público en general que no es inferior intelectualmente a Morrison, como lo creían y que posee mucha experiencia y conocimiento en los asuntos gubernamentales de Louisiana. El futuro gobernador tomara posesión de su cargo el 21 de Mayo entrante.

En columnas anteriores nos hemos referido al auge industrial y económico de Nueva Orleans en los últimos años, como lo demuestran el aumento del movimiento marítimo; el establecimiento del gran plantel en Michoud para la fabricación de los cohetes SATURNO por la Administración Nacional de Aeronáutica del Espacio Exterior para los proyectados viajes a la Luna, que representa una inversión de más de 500 millones de dólares; la construcción de nuevos edificios en las Universidades Tulane y LSU, edificios para instituciones bancarias; rascacielos para oficinas comerciales y ultimamente, como un ejemplo patente de este progreso, la inauguración de los trabajos del conjunto de edificios del Mercado Internacional, en un área de 14 manzanas, al pie de la calle Canal, frente al majestuoso Mississippi.

El edificio principal o torre rascacielos de 33 pisos, con alas en forma de cruz, costará de 25 a 30 millones de dólares y estará terminado dentro 18 meses, según informa el señor Clay Shaw, Director Gerente del Mercado Internacional.

Además del edificio principal, el conjunto incluye otra unidad para convenciones y exposiciones que será construido por cuenta de la Autoridad del Puerto a un costo de 10 millones de dólares; un garage con capacidad para 11 mil autos y una nueva Plaza Española, con fuentes etc., cuyo costo será por cuenta del Gobierno de España a un costo aproximado de medio millón de dólares.

Bordeando la Plaza, se instalarán pequeñas tiendas de comercio y cafés al aire libre. En la estructura principal habrá un espacioso vestíbulo o "lobby" en el primer piso; el segundo piso será ocupado por una cafetería y "coffee shop" y 27 pisos serán ocupados por oficinas. En el piso 31 habrá un restaurante de primera clase que podrá competir con los mejores de Nueva Orleans. En los pisos 32 y 33 habrán terrazas de observación o miradores y un Salón para Cokteles.

De los 450 mil pies cuadrados de espacio para alquilar, nos dijo el señor Shaw, más de la tercera parte ha sido contratado por firmas que están íntimamente relacionadas con el comercio internacional a través del puerto de Nueva Orleans.

Este conjunto de edificios, servirá como símbolo del puerto de Nueva Orleans. Con los dineros realizados por medio de alquileres, el Mercado Internacional se dedicará a abrir nuevos mercados para el comercio internacional de Nueva Orleans.

Se vislumbra un gran aumento en el comercio con Latino América en un futuro no lejano, debido a los esfuerzos de la Alianza para el Progreso, encaminados a elevar el nivel de vida en los países subdesarrollados de la América Latina, demostrando las ventajas del sistema de la libre empresa sobre el comunismo.

La distinguida señora Mercedes P. de Valdivia ha sido elevada recientemente por su Gobierno, al rango de Consul General de Chile, con sede en Nueva Orleans, después de su actuación como Consul en esta ciudad por espacio de un año. La señora de Valdivia, además de sus actividades consulares y diplomáticas, pues ha servido en Embajadas de su país en Brasil y varios países de Europa, es una cultivada.

Nosotros hemos tenido ocasión de deleitarnos con la lectura de dos de sus sentimentales cuentos con sabor al terruño chileno: "El Arbol era mi padre" y "Chalupa" en un primoroso librito (Carlota Andre es su nom-de-plume) editado en 1960 en Santiago, Chile, la tierra de los buenos vinos y de las exquisitas uvas de Curtiduría, "esas uvas blancas, negras y rosadas, doradas con el aire marino y el sol de las montañas."

La Voz del Jefe de Gobierno de Honduras

Hemos tenido el agrado de leer el folleto "La Voz del Jefe de Gobierno" nitidamente impreso en la Tipografía Nacional de Honduras, conteniendo los conceptuosos y significativos saludos de Año Nuevo dirigidos por el Col. Osvaldo Lopez Arellano al Pueblo Hondureño y a las Fuerzas Armadas de la Republica, así como el discurso del Excmo. Señor Cescano del Cuerpo Diplomático, Monseñor Doctor Sente Portalupi, dirigido al Jefe de Gobierno de Honduras el día primero de enero y el discurso de respuesta del Señor Jefe de Gobierno.

Dice el Coronel Lopez Arellano en su saludo al pueblo hondureño:

"Tres meses están a punto de cumplirse, desde el histórico 3 de octubre en que el Ejército Nacional se decidió a tomar bajo su responsabilidad los Poderes Supremos del Estado. Constituye para nosotros una profunda satisfacción, comprobar que en el escaso lapso de noventa días, se han cumplido a cabalidad los propósitos consignados en la Proclama de las Fuerzas Armadas de aquella fecha y en el Mensaje que tuve la satisfacción de dirigiros el 7 del mismo mes.

Me siento íntimamente complacido por el amplio respaldo que han brindado al Gobierno Militar todos los sectores sociales del país. El pueblo hondureño ha interpretado fielmente las finalidades perseguidas por las Fuerzas Armadas, al hacerse cargo de los asuntos públicos. Sabe nuestro pueblo que al Ejército no lo ha impulsado otros móviles que propiciar la conciliación de la familia hondureña; hacer efectivo el respeto a la propiedad privada y a la vida humana; organizar una sana administración de los fondos públicos; atender a las necesidades fundamentales del pueblo y procurar el pronto retorno de la Republica a un orden constitucional, que garantice verdaderamente a todos los ciudadanos la igualdad democrática."

Anuncia Johnson Su Junta Con Lopez Mateos El 21

Por Fernando Alvarado

New Orleans, La. - El Presidente Lyndon B. Johnson anunció en una entrevista de prensa que el Presidente de México, Adolfo Lopez Mateos, aceptó su invitación para reunirse con él en Los Angeles, California, el 21 de los corrientes.

Los dos Presidentes recibirán títulos de Doctor Honoris Causa de la Universidad de California, en Los Angeles y después volarán a Palm Springs, California, para tener pláticas el día 22.

Los Angeles, que es la ciudad que tiene la mayor población de mexicanos después de la ciudad de México, fue seleccionada para la entrevista, según se dijo, a fin de permitir a los dos mandatarios reunirse con un mínimo de protocolo, cosa que no ocurriría si la entrevista se efectuara en Washington.

Los dirigentes del gobierno mexicano mantienen desde hace muchos años estrechas relaciones con Los Angeles y cada año un miembro del gabinete mexicano va a esa ciudad de California para encabezar las ceremonias con que se festeja el Día de la Independencia de México.

El Presidente Johnson es amigo desde hace muchos años del primer mandatario mexicano, a quien visitó en Acapulco, poco antes de que asumiera la Presidencia el 1 de diciembre de 1958. Guarda, asimismo, vieja amistad con el Embajador de México en Washington, Antonio Carrillo Flores.

Discutieron el Comunismo y sus Problemas; Reunión Católica

CHICAGO, 20 de enero de 1964.—Fueron discutidos hoy el comunismo y otros problemas que confronta la Iglesia Católica, Romana en una América Latina que está cambiando rápidamente, en una conferencia extraordinaria a la que asistieron unos 2,000 clérigos de Norte, Centro y Sud América.

La reunión de miembros de la jerarquía católica, desde cardenales hasta legos, es la primera conferencia anual del programa de Cooperación Católica Interamericana, establecido el año pasado para alertar a los católicos en las cuestiones hemisféricas.

Los líderes católicos, que se reunieron en el Hotel Edgewater Beach, estuvieron de acuerdo en que la Iglesia Católica Romana constituiría el principal factor al determinar si América Latina se convierte al comunismo.

"Hay muchas personas que predicen que América Latina abandonará por completo su pasado cristiano, a favor de la estructura comunista", dijo el Obispo Marcos McGrath, de "lo que suceda dependerá de la Iglesia, de nosotros y de ustedes".

Por la situación en su país, el Obispo McGrath se quedó en Panamá, pero su discurso fue leído por el padre Leo Mahon, un sacerdote de Chicago que ahora presta sus servicios en Panamá.

Exhortó a que hubiera una renovada Iglesia Católica Romana en América Latina, libre de su pasado medieval, feudal y del control por parte del Estado.

El reverendo Hernando Poblete, jesuita de Santiago de Chile, dijo que la Iglesia había quedado atrapada en "una situación estructural muy desfavorable por la intromisión del comunismo, la urbanización rápida y otros factores en los trastornos que están efectuándose en la América Latina.

Hizo la advertencia de que la Iglesia Católica ya no puede contar con la riqueza de la estructura social fundamental en una identidad estrecha, para mejorar sus enseñanzas en América Latina.

Al juzgar la influencia católica sobre la población, dijo que debería ser observado que hay alrededor de un sacerdote por cada 5,700 personas en América Latina y que, no obstante los esfuerzos para reducir esta diferencia, no era probable que mejorara, debido al creciente aumento demográfico.
