BIRRA E VINO

Ha sollevato un mondo di commenti il discorso pronunciato dall'On. Fort, amico personale del Presidente Hoover invitante che sia permesso di fabbricare per proprio uso e consumo, birra, vino e cidro.

I proibizionisti arrabbiati sono insorti come un uomo solo contro l'audace che difese la birra e il vino e i contri misure non vogliono saperne.
Il vino anche attualmente ognuno se lo fa in casa o con l'aiuto di un amico, e non c'è da dire che si usa per mescolare quei mosti che molte volte fanno venire il mal di mare, pure essendo in terra ferma.
I campagnoli, nelle loro fattorie fabbricano il Sidro e per questo sono degli arrabbiati proibizionisti perché del proibizionismo non sentono gli effetti.

L'On. Fort ha dovuto poi dichiarare che quello che ha detto e' opinione sua particolare e che il Presidente nell'affare del vino, birra e sidro non ci entra per nulla. Non ostante tutto cio qualche cosa si muove contro il 18mo Emendamento e fa separare che a poco a poco i fanatici perdano terreno.

Il fatto di una pubblica discussione sul proibizionismo, dinanzi al Comitato Congressionale, e' un segno.

COSE LOCALE

I Grandi Giurati nel riportare il rapporto sulla chiusura della Banca di Ensley, hanno portato il mandato di accusa contro il Vice Presidente della Banca di Ensley, Sam King, di appropriazione in debeta di 104 mila Dollari.

Nelle investigazioni i Gran Giurati hanno trovato che King, accettando depositi nella banca sapendo che era nell'orlo del fallimento. Tre sono le accuse su questo soggetto.

Che King si e' appropriato della somma di 104 mila dollari, e di aver falsificato l'entrata. Mr. King fu rilasciato sotto cauzione di 20 mila dollari.

Gli altri due impiegate Earl Ficks e Herman Smith, che confessarono di aver preso $300,000 a secondo chi leaustorica dicono, la maggior parte di questa somma sara' ricevuta per mezzo della compagnia del Bond, e alla proprieta' che essi hanno consegnato alle autorita' locale.

Tutta la proprieta' di King e' stata confiscata e data in mano del recivore per trasformarla ai pagamenti dei depositari.

Nel speriamo che in due o tre mesi i depositari riceveranno la maggior parte della loro moneta.

La votazione della scorsa settimana per il Bond Issue di 4 milioni di dollari, fu vinta con gran maggioranza.

Questa somma sara' divisa un milione ($1,000,000.) per il Porto Aereo e tre milioni $3,000,000. per lavori di costruzione di condotta di asseccamento di acqua nel distretto di Ensley, ed altri luoghi.

The electoral college is different from other colleges in that it always guarantees employment to its graduates.—Louisville Times.

MOSCOW Invents, the organ of the Soviet Union, asserts that Bolshevism is facing the most critical period in its relations with capitalist nations and that a new war between Russia and the rest of the world is certainly and inevitably approaching. It says that the Soviet government has decided, in order to protect itself, to increase its propaganda among discontented classes in foreign countries, and that through sabotage, strikes, and terrorism, any attacks against the Red home land will be made ineffective, according to the paper. It also predicts that capitalism will be painfully astonished by events in their countries should they attempt to attack Russia.

FEARS that Commander Byrd and his expedition would be compelled to remain for more months in the Antarctic were dispelled when news came by radio from "Little America," his headquarters, that the relief ship, City of New York, had made its way into the Bay of Whales sheathed in ice and that the expedition a few hours later sailed for home. The City of New York had been 44 days on the way from Dunedin, New Zealand. It was greatly delayed in searching for ice and through the vast ice pack and was blown far out of its course.

GEN. UMBERTO NOBILE is no longer to be considered a hero, for the Italian government has made public the record of the investigation into the disastrous flight of the dirigible Italia in the Arctic regions, and it brands Nobile's conduct as utterly indefensible. Captain Martino and Zagari are given a clean slate by the investigating commission.

THE body of Earl Borsland, commander of Carl Ben Eielson, noted Arctic flyer, has been found near the wreckage of their plane which crashed November 9 last, 99 miles southeast of North Cape. A few days later the searchers also found the body of Eielson buried deep under the snowdrifts.

PREPARATIONS for further warfare were reported in China, where the Nationalist government was confronted by another revolutionary movement, largely in Hunan province. The Shans and other forces were said to have mobilized and started southward to attack the armies of President Kai-shek.

Mo Tschin, president of the Chinese Eastern railway, went to Mukden for the avowed purpose of trying to purchase the Russian interest in the railway in accordance with the terms of the 1924 agreement. He said if he was unable to arrange for the purchase he would try to persuade Soviet Russia to agree on the joint operation of the road on a strictly commercial basis.

Tipster Undertaker Makes Afternoon Funeral Late

Brann, Czechoslovakian—Because an employee of the undertaking establishment which had the burial arrangements in charge got tipsy and forgot to call at the hospital mortuary for the body, friends of the late J. A rush order was given for a hearse as soon as the reason for the delay was discovered, but night had already fallen before it could reach the cemetery.

Linx, Austria—Doctor Urban, the primarior of the Charity Brothers' hospital, a church institution of this city, celebrated an event which locally was considered of the highest importance, and was congratulated by many former patients as well as by his own fellow surgeons.

This event was his four thousandth goitre operation. Goitre is particularly prevalent in this district, due, it is believed, to the peculiar mineral deposits in the drinking water.

I NOSTRI PROFESSIONISTI ITALIO-AMERICANO DI BIRMINGHAM

La comunità Italiana di Birmingham e distretto deve essere orgogliosa della nuova sua generazione e del progresso che tanti giovani baldi che non hanno lasciato scappare la loro opportunità di salire in alto a questo posto di onore in mezzo a questo popolo indigeno.

Come a tante altre città dell'Est, Nord, e West dove la gioventù Italo-Americana avanza i confini della loro cerchia ristretta del loro mestiere che per generazione continuavano a seguire i loro genitori, la gioventù moderna dattosi l'ambiente cui hanno vissuto e la opportunità, economica, essi si sono intramessi nei collegi, università e con assiduo studio e con quella tenacia della stirpe di cui ne sono gli eredi, hanno riusciti con grande orgoglio ed onore di coloro che ne sono stati gli esecutori del loro progresso.

Oggi in tutte le città degli Stati Uniti, i studenti Italiani nei loro esami sono riusciti in prima linea. Avvocati, Dottori, Dentisti, ingegneri, Architetti, Musicisti, Macchinisti di scuole, Meccanici in somma in tutte le linee di progresso il giovane Italo-Americano sta prendendo il suo posto d'onore, e noi possiamo essere orgogliosi non solo di questa parte alla arrivata con più tenace nel aumentare le schiere della loro professione.

La città di Birmingham, e gli Italiani compresi, ne devono essere anche loro orgogliosi perché anche noi qui nel Sud, abbiamo dei giovani che con la loro professione ne fanno onore non solo ai giovani stessi, ma all'intera comunità.

Quale è il nostro dovere verso costei giovani baldi che con il loro sacrificio nello studio hanno fatto onore a tutti? Il dovere è di darli tutto il nostro appoggio morale, in vece di denigrarli come spesso volte si è fatto con danno non di colore, ma dei medesimi che hanno indistintamente o direttamente parlato a danno del nuovo baldi giovane che con sacrifici si è elevato con studi, in una posizione che non tutti possono elevarsi.

Noi Siamo lietissimo che in mezzo alla comunità Italiana abbiamo qui in Birmingham il simpatico giovane Augustus G. Genesio, il quale merita tutto il rispetto e l'appoggio morale della nostra comunità.

L'Avvocato Genesio, è giovanissimo e nel breve tempo, ha dimostrato di essere degno della sua professione, dell'appoggio morale, ed oggi è stimolato e tenuto in alto in mezzo all'elemento Americano, con una forte clientela.

Siamo lietissimo di presentare un altro professionista che anche lui ha assiduo studi e si è elevato in alto.

Il Dottore, Pasquino Falletta, il Dr. Falletta anche lui giovanissimo.

Study by Scientists

Tangier, Morocco—A belief that a vessel anchored North's Ark sink in a river near Tangier, a town from here, bearing a dinosaur to its death, has been exploited by a scientific commission from Madrid.

The commission agreed that the bones found were ancient, but did not belong to an antediluvian animal. A new theory was expressed that the bones belonged to several elephants lost when a ship foundered many years ago.

Stockholm Is Nearing Population of 600,000

Stockholm—The population of Stockholm probably will surpass 600,000 in 1930, according to a preliminary estimate just issued by the city statistical bureau. Including the industrialized rural districts around the city, greater Stockholm now has 635,000 inhabitants, or about 10 per cent of the whole population of Sweden. Near the capital a new type of suburb recently has grown up—the garden city with beautiful private villas and bungalows.

M. P.'s Individualistic in Taking Down Notes

London—Members of parliament are taking down notes in the manner of note taking. Lloyd George has an odd way of jotting down notes. He does not write on his knee. He holds the pen in his mouth and writes with his eyes and painstakingly jots down his memoranda. The method seems extremely unorthodox, but it has been found that the liberal leader has followed this method for ten years.

Poetry and the Bible

Murray's Mastered Bible Dictionary says: "If rhythm and meter be considered essential, poetry would have to be denied to the Bible altogether. For of rhyme, there is absolutely none; and as meter depends upon pronunciation and accent, it has never been regarded as hopeless to restore these essential elements, and hence the liberal leader has followed this method for ten years."

PARROTS BALLYHOO BARKERS OF BIRDDOM

Now Accused of Being Carriers of Disease.

Washington—Polly wants a friend! The sociable parrot, cherisher of its mate, has suddenly become suspect as a dangerous carrier of disease.

Although hunters are believed to have completely exterminated the only member of the parrot family native to the United States, the parrot population of the country is very large. Says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society:

"How many one knows. But it is estimated that there are 30,000 parrots in the city of New York alone.

The immigrant Parrots and birds are imported into the United States annually. Most of these feathered immigrants are canaries, of which there are millions of the parrot family, which includes parrots, parakeets, macaws, cockatoos, love birds, and lorries, probably the most numerous of all.

"Parrots are chiefly tropical birds. Some species, however, range deeply into temperate regions. The Carolina parakeet, like the passenger pigeon, has been wiped out, used to be reported as far north as Albany, New York, and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico.

"A few parrots are quiet, retiring birds, but most are noisy. The Amazon, a green parrot, and one of the best talkers among parrots, is a noisy bird. The African gray parrot, a large gray-feathered bird with a red tail, are the most noted conversationalists of their volatile order.

"Arrival of a flock of screaming parrots, flying down from the treetops, is a sight to behold. The birds are noisy, but they are not noisy in a bad way. They are noisy in a good way. They are noisy in a way that is not noisy in a bad way. They are noisy in a way that is not noisy in a bad way.

"Scientists believe that it was the ring parrot of India which Alexander the Great introduced to the Western world. It was used in the circus of the shell and ivory with silver wires were among Nero's extravaganzas and they were certainly among the first parrots of the Western world after their discovery by Columbus.

"Nell M. Judd, leader of the National Society for the Protection of Birds, found in the 1,000-year-old New Mexico ruins perches and 30 skeletons of great macaws, which were spoken of in the Aztec records of their discovery by Columbus.

"Parrots, very large than sparrows, to huge macaws, are the most intelligent of all birds. All members of the parrot family are distinguished by the short, stout bill, the upright tail, and the long, curved beak. They are noisy, but they are not noisy in a bad way. They are noisy in a good way. They are noisy in a way that is not noisy in a bad way.

"Parrots are noisy, but they are not noisy in a bad way. They are noisy in a good way. They are noisy in a way that is not noisy in a bad way. They are noisy in a way that is not noisy in a bad way.

Czech Actress Objects to Nudity in Sculpture

Prague—Anda Sedlak, the noted Czech actress, does not relish appearing partly unclothed in public, even in the form of a statue. The sculptor, Folt, holds a contrary opinion and because of this must answer a court suit that Miss Sedlak has brought against him. The actress was present at an art exhibition in which a work by Folt, for whom she sat as a model, was to be unveiled. As Miss Sedlak appears to have no objection to it, she was to have been a "nudist," instead it turned out to be a "nudist," and completely unveiled at that. She demanded its removal, but Folt refused. The court action resulted.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

President Hoover Tries to Speed Up Senate—French Crisis Delays Parley.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PRESIDENT HOOVER returned to Washington from his Florida trip with the conviction that congress, especially the senate, must be prodded to speedy action if business were not to suffer seriously. So he invited leading Republicans of both houses to breakfast at the White House and asked them what could be done to expedite the work on the tariff bill so that other important matters could be passed. The replies he received were not encouraging. Senator Watson, floor leader of the upper house, was of the opinion that the tariff measure might be passed by March 10, but was far from certain. Representative Tilson and others from the lower house thought the house would get through the remaining appropriation bills within the next three or four weeks, but then would wait for the senate to act. Mr. Tilson hoped congress might adjourn about June 1, but he admitted that little legislation would be enacted unless the senate speeded up.

Mr. Hoover was especially concerned about the slowing down of business recovery due to uncertainty regarding the tariff, and also because delay in passing pending appropriation bills might necessitate the laying off of from 10,000 to 20,000 men employed on public works construction. The legislative program of the White House law enforcement commission was not mentioned, indicating that this is not of such pressing concern to the President as the tariff and appropriation bills affecting public works.

The President said the coalition of Democrats and radical Republicans was in complete control of the tariff situation.

THIS breakfast aroused the ire of the Democrats in both houses and they spent hours in attacking Mr. Hoover. Senator Pitt Harrison sought to blame the Republicans for the delay in the tariff bill and asked Senator Watson if the President had promised to sign the measure if it passed. He said he had not. He said that the tariff bill was not a measure of such importance as to warrant such a promise. He said that the tariff bill was not a measure of such importance as to warrant such a promise.

Mr. Hoover was especially concerned about the slowing down of business recovery due to uncertainty regarding the tariff, and also because delay in passing pending appropriation bills might necessitate the laying off of from 10,000 to 20,000 men employed on public works construction. The legislative program of the White House law enforcement commission was not mentioned, indicating that this is not of such pressing concern to the President as the tariff and appropriation bills affecting public works.

THE President said the coalition of Democrats and radical Republicans was in complete control of the tariff situation.

THIS breakfast aroused the ire of the Democrats in both houses and they spent hours in attacking Mr. Hoover. TRY TO DISCOVER EFFECT OF RADIUM

Health Bureau Makes Study of Factory Workers.

Washington, D. C.—Studies to determine the effects upon workers of exposure to radium rays have been extended to the Midwest by the United States public health service.

More than 200 women clock factory employees in the vicinity of New York recently have been examined by scientific investigators of the service.

Using especially developed apparatus, the investigators have subjected each worker to a searching examination that is expected after X-ray plates have been developed to disclose the slightest trace of radium.

It will require several months, Dr. L. R. Thompson, who is directing the inquiry for the health service, said, to complete study of the plates obtained by the field workers and prepare the results of their study for publication.

The study is the most exhaustive ever undertaken to determine how radium rays affect workers who come into direct contact with them. Five New Jersey women and a number of workers elsewhere have been stricken after exposure to radium rays in the manufacture of watch faces and several deaths have resulted.

Dr. Thompson explained that the health service has decided to extend its inquiry to Illinois in order to obtain data that will be as complete as possible. Results of the survey are expected to be of invaluable aid to science in the future.

Women workers in clock factories who the investigation discloses to be infected with the penetrating radium rays will be removed to other employment.

Results of the study are expected also to clarify the dispute between scientists over whether radium rays are harmful.

TWO more days were given to the wets in the hearing on dry law
modification measures before the house judiciary committee, and they took full advantage of their opportunity.
A recess was then taken until the following week, when the drys were to be heard. Representative Linthcum of Maryland, generalissimo of the wet of prohibition, made the opening statement and then followed an imposing list of witnesses. These included Capt. W. H. Stuyvesant, chief man of the board of the Association
Against the Prohibition Amendment; Henry B. Joy, Detroit millionaire and former head of the Packard Motor company; Dr. Samuel Harden Church, Pittsburgh, president of Carnegie Insurance; Dr. Charles Morris, New York
health officer; Col. Grayson M. P. Murphy, New York director of Bethlehem
Steel company; Benedict Crowell, Cleveland, former assistant secretary of war; Dr. L. W. Williams, New York, head of the New York Academy of Medicine; and Ralph M. Shaw, attorney, of Chicago.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa announced that unless the senate judiciary committee reported favorably one of the two pending resolutions for a sweeping investigation of prohibition enforcement methods, he would carry the fight to the senate floor. "If there is corruption in the enforcement," said he, "we've got to know it and to know who is to blame for it."

FRANCE's cabinet crisis stopped up the proceedings of the naval parley in London for the time being, since the entire French delegation withdrew, announcing it would not take part in further discussions until a new government had been formed. The downfall of Premier Tardieu and his ministry, which was due to his defeat on an important tax measure, might conceivably have a marked effect on the course of the negotiations in the parley. If the French Republic and nationalists, who are committed to reduction of armaments, consented to take part in the new government, the demands of Premier Tardieu for a fleet of 725-000 tons might be greatly scaled down so that the figures could be met by Italy, and would not force the British to repudiate the Hoover-McDonald treaty of last summer. In this lies the only hope for the French.

TO THE LOCAN POLITICIANS

For the past years some of Italo-American political Boss (?) have come before you and promised that he or she can deliver to you the Italian votes like that the Italian voter a chattel, and you have believed so.

Every election this Italo-American Boss come again before you and make you believe that they can dispose things that they never have any control and will never in the future.

Let Italian citizens who are voters they will go to the poll and vote according their conscience
and no Boss control them.

You Mr. candidate and politician, do not believe what this Boss come and tell you, those days are gone forever, the Italo-American are opening their eyes and are learning the art of politics.

This paper advises you that there is no one among the Italo-American authorized to go before any candidate and make them believe that he can dispose of Italian votes, that is all BUNGLA.

Last City political campaign has greatly illustrated the rebuke of the Italian voters against those who call themselves Bosses (?).
So, the candidate of this present campaign, is advised to not repose so much confidence in those who are going before them and tell that they can do so and
so. They cannot do anything, even cannot dispose their own
vote. Watch your step, Mr.
Candidate!

FIND RED SURVIVORS OF CUSTER BATTLE

Old Warriors Among Sioux
in Canada.

New York—Indian survivors of Custer's battle on the Little Big Horn have been found among a band of Sioux in the northwest corner of Saskatchewan by an expedition from the Cambridge university museum and the British museum.

The expedition, led by an American,
Donald A. Cadzow, has just returned to civilization after traveling thousands of miles to study scattered tribes
of Canadian Indians whose old native culture is fast vanishing. Cadzow has been accompanied by Robert Pennell of England and John Rymill of South Australia.

Moved to Canada.
The band containing the Custer fight
survivors moved to Canada shortly after the battle, Cadzow said. The group found its way northward to good hunting country on the north shore of the Saskatchewan river and there it settled. The old chief Four Stars, is still alive and they all call Americans "Che-muk-men" or "Long Knives" after the name long ago given to American cavaliers who carried sabers.

In northeast Saskatchewan the expedition found an untamed tribe of Saskatchewan Indians, led by a blind old chief named Nippy, and independently holding everything that suggests the white man's America.
"These Indians live as their ancestors did a hundred years ago, hunting moose, deer and fish," Mr. Cadzow said. "Repeated efforts by the government to keep these long-haired pagans on a reservation have failed.
They refuse to accept treaty money offered to them each year by the Indian department and their warriors are sent to them by various faiths have given up all hope of converting them because it is impossible to work with a refusing band of hunters who refuse even to talk with a white man."

Preserve Ancient Rites.
Many of the ancient secret societies still function among the tribes, the expedition found. The Piegan Indians of Alberta hold their annual annual dance, but the torture of warriors by placing sharpened sticks through the flesh of their breasts is omitted because it is no longer necessary to make warriors.

"The weird throb of the totemplayed by medicine men and herb doctors still can be heard on the reserves," Cadzow stated. "But it is only a matter of a few years before the white man's civilization will wipe out the last vestige of true Indian culture."

American Ways Rapidly
Getting Hold in Sweden
Stockholm.—The gradual Americanization of Sweden is noticeable everywhere in the country, but is most pronounced in Stockholm. The citizens of the capital like American novels, magazines, dramas, musical comedies
and, especially, motion pictures.

The advent of the "talkies" had a distinct effect upon the everyday language, and such typical American slang phrases as "all right, kid," "O.
K.," "Hello, baby," "So long" or "Howdy" are heard frequently.
Daily life also is influenced by American habits in foods and clothing.
Grapefruit and orange juice are served for breakfast, while "ice dogs" are sold all over the city. Shoe shine parlors are springing up in many places and even American soda fountains are found here and there.
American suits and hats, toilet preparations, office appliances, automobiles, sewing machines and electric laundry are increasing numbers of buyers,
while records of Broadway melodies
play in many homes and music stores.
Even Rotary clubs have been established in several cities.
