The Pharisees and Herodians have had their go at testing Jesus, and now the Sadducees pile in with their attempt by ridiculing belief in the resurrection of the dead, (although the Lectionary chooses to exclude it from the Sunday Gospel in this Year A of Matthew, it is read when Luke is our evangelist in Year C). The upshot of their encounter however is that Jesus has silenced them too. Undaunted, the Pharisees come back for another shot – you have to admire their tenacity! Which is the greatest commandment in the Law is what they ask him. One wonders what it was they expected him to say. In what way would such a question test him? Perhaps they felt he would tell them that the Law was a barrier to good religious practice and thereby in their eyes condemn himself in front of them as a result. He doesn't, so what does he say?

Holiness isn't just for saints or priests; it's a call for every one of us. It's about living a life that reflects God's goodness and love. It means striving to be more like Jesus in our thoughts, words, and actions. Holiness doesn't mean being perfect, but it does mean constantly trying to grow in our faith and become the best versions of ourselves. It's a lifelong journey, and we can find support and encouragement in the sacraments, prayer, and our community.
