Jiri Fiala- Senior Investment Advisor

10X AI Business Builder. Founder @ IndigiLabs Venture Studio. Founder @ DCXPS AI Data Centers Company.

I live at the intersection of corporate strategy and cutting-edge technology—a fusion that's allowed me to co-found 11 AI startups across the US and Europe, while building several AI infrastructure companies from the ground up.

My journey spans boardrooms to bootstrapped ventures.

After advising Fortune 500 boards on billion-dollar technical transformations, I pivoted to the startup ecosystem, where I've helped architect the success (or failure) of over 100 companies—several achieving unicorn status.

This dual perspective drives my passion for creating AI solutions that solve real-world problems at scale.

Single Family Office Owner	Former VC Fund General Partner	Venture Studio Managing Partner
Managing private wealth and investments	Experience in venture capital investment	Developing a sixth sense for technologies that transform industries and create exponential value

Today, I channel my expertise into:

- Building AI infrastructure companies that power tomorrow's innovations
- Co-founding AI startups with passionate teams tackling complex challenges
- Publishing insights on AI's future to 25,000+ subscribers through my newsletter
- Connecting promising founders with the capital, customers, and talent they need to scale

My approach?

Work backwards from the problem—leveraging technology, processes, and people before throwing money at a challenge.

This methodology has proven effective whether negotiating multi-billion dollar enterprise deals or designing go-to-market strategies for early-stage AI ventures.

I'm always looking for the next big thing to help build.

If you're working on something transformative in the AI space—whether as a founder, investor, or corporate innovator—let's connect.
