SUMMARY

A former engineer/consultant turned actor/performer. Typical journey, right? My career started on accident when I was casted for a show at Improv Asylum; despite being untrained. After making the switch from stage comedy to on-screen acting, I was able to land principal roles in feature films such as Bullet Catch playing the younger version of John Leguizamo as well as Super Troopers 3. My credits also include small roles in a few Apple Studios productions too. Trained in Meisner, Adler, singing and dance in an effort to be as well-rounded of an actor as possible. NYC is practically my home base as I try out theater, performing in NYC Fringe 2026, and shooting an upcoming indie feature film. I continue to work my way up the industry ladder and will never rest in proving I belong... I became an actor because everyday reality was not enough for me.
