Important Notice
Before contacting any Multinational Stakeholder authority, it is mandatory to first call the official SAR contact responsible for the national waters or SAR region in which the incident occurs.
Directly calling an international number without notifying the competent national authority is prohibited and may violate operational and legal protocols. International contacts listed in this document must be used only if the national SAR authority is unable to assist you, explicitly instructs you to call an international center, or does not respond. SAR areas don't imply recognition of any claims, and possibly not drawing disputed boundaries at all.

Western Mediterranean - Alboran Sea - Strait of Gibraltar (Excl. Canary Islands)

Guidance Information

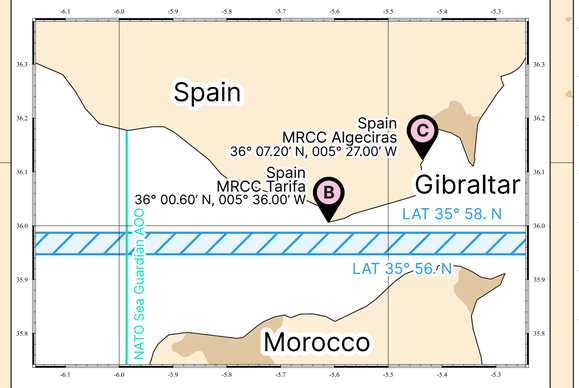

Transit to the Atlantic Ocean

Merchant vessels exiting the Mediterranean Sea through the Strait of Gibraltar should ensure they are familiar with the Maritime Security Centres, Emergency Contact Numbers and Voluntary Reporting Procedures applicable to the Atlantic Area of Operations.

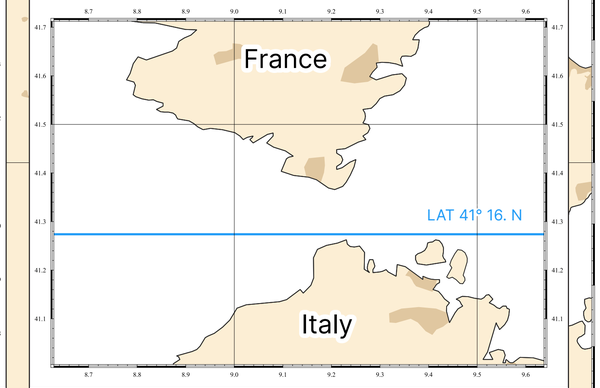

Masters are strongly encouraged to obtain the Atlantic Maritime Emergency Contact Map before commencing their Atlantic transit.

Vessels planning onward passage to areas affected by piracy, armed robbery or other maritime security threats are strongly encouraged to review the latest regional reporting requirements, implement the relevant Best Management Practices (BMP), and ensure that the appropriate Maritime Emergency Contact Map and emergency contact details for the intended Area of Operations are readily available on board prior to departure.
