Are You Using the Right Software for Your Business?

As companies grow, their needs and software requirements grow along with them. Unfortunately, not all software can accommodate this growth. To determine if you are using the right software for your business, take a moment to identify and uncover your business challenges below:

- ☐ Mobility. Your data is only available on-premise and cannot be accessed on the go.
- ☐ Capacity. Your current software solution cannot easily handle additional volume.
- ☐ Accessibility. Some processes are owned by individuals and your data is siloed.
- ☐ Connectivity. More than one internal solution does not integrate or sync with the ERP.
- ☐ Accuracy. Some of your processes require manual entry and are prone to errors.
- ☐ Visibility. Reporting is done in Excel and you lack real-time visibility and KPIs.
- ☐ Quality. My team manually manages compliance, reports, taxes, and documentation.

☑ If you answered yes to more than four of these questions, it may be time to consider a new ERP software solution.
