What the school does well

- The mission statement at St Anne's: 'Every Child, Every Chance' is lived authentically with love and care for all.
- The governors and senior leadership team are inspirational leaders of Catholic education and as a result relationships across the school are a key strength.
- The religious education leader is an exemplar of outstanding practice supporting the school to move from strength to strength.
- The school has developed beautiful prayer spaces which support the prayerful atmosphere in the school.
- The children have a high level of religious literacy and all children are supported to reach a high standard in religious education.

What the school needs to improve

- Embed a wider range of prayer and liturgy experiences, including opportunities for Christian meditation, contemplation and stillness, so that pupils deepen their participation and spiritual engagement.
- Develop moderation of religious education assessment with other schools to ensure greater consistency and accuracy of teacher judgement in line with the expectations of the new Religious Education Directory.

How well leaders and governors promote, monitor and evaluate the provision for the Catholic life and mission of the school Pupils are deeply valued and cared for at St Anne's and flourish within a community where the mission statement, 'Every Child, Every Chance', is lived authentically each day. Pupils know that they are unique and precious to God and confidently articulate how they are loved, respected and supported as members of the school and parish family. From the earliest years, pupils are encouraged to become active participants in their faith journey and respond enthusiastically to opportunities to live out the Gospel values in practical ways. Consequently, pupils make a significant contribution to the life of the school, parish and wider community. They understand clearly that they are called to serve others and speak passionately about their responsibility to care for God's creation. One Year 3 pupil explained that 'we are trusted to look after God's world like Pope Francis told us in Laudato Si'.' Pupils embrace leadership roles, including Laudato Si' leaders and Caritas ambassadors, with pride, maturity and a strong sense of responsibility. They are exemplary role models for one another and demonstrate exceptional behaviour in and around school. Relationships are characterised by kindness, respect and compassion. Pupils show a deep understanding of the school's Catholic mission and confidently explain how their faith influences their actions, decisions and relationships with others.

At St Anne's, the provision for Catholic life and mission is exceptional because leaders and staff have created a deeply nurturing environment where every pupil feels welcomed, included and valued. Staff go above and beyond to support pupils and families, demonstrating genuine care that extends beyond the academic and contributes significantly to the wellbeing of the whole community. The school's culture of welcome embraces all ethnicities, cultures and beliefs, ensuring that every member of the community experiences dignity and belonging. Leaders prioritise support for vulnerable pupils and families through highly effective pastoral care and strong partnerships with external agencies, parish groups and charitable organisations. The school's Catholic identity is visible throughout the learning environment, with thoughtfully designed displays, prayer spaces and celebration areas that inspire reflection and promote pupils' spiritual development. Experiences are carefully planned to help pupils think deeply about their place in the world and their responsibility to others. Pupils enthusiastically support charities including Cafod, Mary's Meals, St Joseph's Penny and the Bread and Butter Thing, demonstrating a genuine commitment to social justice and the common good. The relationships, sex and health education programme is carefully planned, fully compliant with diocesan and statutory requirements and highly responsive to pupils' needs and local context. Staff benefit from high-quality professional development, enabling provision to remain consistently strong.

Leadership of Catholic life and mission at St Anne's is inspirational and highly effective. The headteacher is unwavering in her commitment to ensuring that the Catholic faith permeates every aspect of school life and is a visible guardian of the school's mission and values. She is exceptionally well supported by governors, senior leaders, subject leaders and the parish priest, all of whom share a deep commitment to the Church's mission in education. Together, they are a source of inspiration for the whole community and lead by example through their witness, integrity and dedication. Mission statement review days provide meaningful opportunities for all members of the community to contribute to the ongoing development of the school's mission and to reflect on how faith and values are lived out in practice. Staff feel highly valued and supported through strong induction, pastoral care and extensive professional development opportunities that enable them to contribute confidently to the Catholic life and mission of the school. Self-evaluation is detailed, accurate and sharply focused on continual improvement. Governors provide both challenge and support and have a thorough understanding of the school's strengths and priorities. The chair of governors stated that, 'The Catholic curriculum at St Anne's is not just a subject but who we are.' The knowledgeable subject leader engages proactively with the diocese and partner schools to strengthen collaboration, share best practice and ensure continual development across the school community.

Leadership

How well leaders and governors promote, monitor and evaluate the provision for religious education

Pupils are developing excellent knowledge, skills and understanding in religious education in accordance with the requirements of the new Religious Education Directory. They make consistently strong progress and attainment is in line with, and in some classes above, that seen in other core subjects. From the Early Years to Year 6, pupils confidently recap and recall prior learning, enabling them to know more and remember more over time. Pupils are religiously literate and engage thoughtfully with scripture, ethics and spirituality. They speak articulately about their learning and make meaningful links between religious teaching and the way faith is lived out within the home, school and parish community. Pupils enjoy religious education and approach lessons with enthusiasm because learning is creative, purposeful and challenging. Work in books is consistently of a high standard and demonstrates pride, reflection and secure understanding. Behaviour in lessons is exemplary because pupils are highly motivated and eager to succeed. Pupils understand how well they are achieving and know the steps needed to improve further. Their work is celebrated regularly and valued highly by staff and peers alike.

Teachers across the school are highly committed to religious education and understand the important contribution it makes to pupils' spiritual and moral development. Strong subject knowledge and secure teaching expertise enable staff to deliver lessons with confidence and clarity. High expectations, carefully sequenced learning and regular opportunities for retrieval help pupils consolidate knowledge, particularly in relation to scripture and key vocabulary. During the inspection, all classes were learning about Pentecost and there was a clear progression in knowledge, vocabulary and skills from Reception to Year 6. Teachers model vocabulary effectively and pupils use new terminology accurately in discussion and written work. Skilful questioning and thoughtful adaptations ensure all pupils achieve well. Pupils with special educational needs and those with English as an additional language are supported effectively so they can access the curriculum and achieve outcomes comparable to those in other subjects. Positive relationships underpin learning throughout the school. Feedback, encouragement and challenge help pupils understand how to improve and build confidence in their learning. Teaching assistants are deployed effectively and make a valuable contribution to pupils' progress and engagement in lessons.

Leaders and governors ensure that the religious education curriculum fully meets the expectations of the new Religious Education Directory. Religious education and Catholic social teaching are central to the school's vision and underpin the wider curriculum and strategic priorities. The Directory has been introduced thoughtfully from the Early Years to Year 6, ensuring clear progression in knowledge, understanding and skills. Leaders have prioritised professional development, supported strongly by the knowledgeable and highly effective subject leader, whose expertise has had a significant impact on the quality of provision across the school. Staff benefit from regular training, team teaching, coaching and collaborative opportunities, which ensure confidence and consistency in delivery. Monitoring is rigorous and includes lesson visits, work scrutiny and pupil discussions. As a result, leaders have an accurate understanding of strengths and priorities and provide targeted support where needed. Governors are ambitious for the school and well informed about standards in religious education through reports, monitoring information and first-hand involvement in school life. They provide effective challenge and support while remaining fully committed to celebrating the achievements of pupils and staff.

How well leaders and governors promote, monitor and evaluate the provision for collective worship

Pupils at St Anne's participate fully in the rich range of prayer and liturgical experiences provided by the school. They engage enthusiastically in prayer and worship, sing joyfully and reflect reverently in the known presence of God. Pupils demonstrate a secure understanding of the Church's liturgical year and recognise the importance of preparing for key feasts, seasons and celebrations. A carefully planned progression enables pupils to become increasingly confident leaders of prayer and liturgy as they move through the school. From the Early Years, where children help prepare focus tables, to Years 5 and 6, where pupils independently plan and lead celebration of the word, pupils participate with confidence, maturity and increasing independence. During the inspection, pupils led and participated fully in a whole-school Mass focused on Pentecost. Singing was uplifting and pupils confidently shared prayers they had written themselves. Pupils develop a secure understanding of traditional prayers, liturgical responses and appropriate forms of worship. They are increasingly familiar with a wider range of prayer styles, including meditation, silent reflection and the use of music and art. Pupils value these experiences and speak confidently about how prayer supports them in their daily lives and relationships.

Prayer, liturgy and worship are central to daily life at St Anne's and are embedded naturally across the school community. Staff and pupils are equipped with the resources, knowledge and confidence needed to plan and lead meaningful prayer experiences. One parent commented that 'this school enables my child to be closer to God', reflecting the strong impact of the school's prayer life on families. Staff demonstrate deep commitment to the spiritual life of the school and are supported effectively through strong partnerships between home, school and parish. Senior leaders and staff are exemplary role models in the planning and delivery of prayer and liturgy, enabling pupils to develop confidence in leading celebration of the word independently. Professional development has ensured consistency and high expectations across the school. Pupils demonstrate a secure understanding of the four-part liturgical structure and speak confidently about its purpose. One pupil explained, 'At the go forth, we put God's Word into action.' Prayer is valued as an integral part of the life of the community and is woven meaningfully into meetings, training and everyday experiences. Relationships throughout the school reflect the values promoted through prayer, liturgy and worship, creating a calm, reflective and joyful atmosphere.

Leaders and governors ensure that prayer and liturgy are given the highest priority and underpin the Catholic life and mission of the school. A clear and comprehensive policy for prayer and liturgy is understood by staff and implemented consistently across all phases. Leaders have established a clear progression in pupils' spiritual development through a carefully planned annual plan of provision aligned closely to the Prayer and Liturgy Directory. The liturgical calendar reflects the seasons and feasts of the Church while also allowing flexibility for school celebrations and spontaneous opportunities for prayer. Staff value the school's strong prayer life, with one member of staff commenting that 'there is so much joy in assemblies and prayer times'. Retreat opportunities, mission statement review weeks and regular professional development ensure that all members of the community continue to grow spiritually and contribute actively to the Catholic mission of the school. High-quality displays and thoughtfully designed prayer spaces, both indoors and outdoors, support reflection and spontaneous prayer. During the inspection, pupils from across the school gathered voluntarily for the Rosary in the peace garden. Leaders have created a culture where prayer, liturgy and worship are authentic, inclusive and central to the vocation of this Catholic school.
