Consolidation

"We have a simple structure with just three legal entities, but two different currencies make things more complex. Joiin has improved significantly in recent months, especially with the revised reporting feature, which is far more flexible than before. Once month-end is closed, I can quickly produce consolidated accounts in both currencies. It would be great to have even more flexibility to replace reports still being produced in Excel, such as a direct cash flow statement."

Intercompany

"The BRAG feature is a lifesaver during the month, eliminating the need to switch between Xero entities to reconcile intercompany payments (and avoiding those mid-task distractions). Balancer makes it easy to revalue our FX intercompany balances in a single click. I've also trialled the new Prepayments and Deferred Revenue features and am excited to incorporate them into our month-end processes. I can't fault Mayday at all."

S FX

"The newest addition to our tech stack, we've recently started using Airwallex to receive and pay in foreign currencies, saving on FX fees while also benefiting from natural hedging."

PROJECTWORKS

Timesheets, Expense Claims & Leave Management

"We're big advocates of putting ourselves in our customers' shoes, so we use Projectworks, our own product wherever possible."

Recurring Revenue

"As a SaaS business, BeanBox is a handy tool that lets us easily see our forecasted recurring revenue based on the repeating invoices set up in Xero."

Payments

"Stripe enables our customers to pay by credit card, set up autopay, and gives us one-click reconciliation in the bank rec for multiple payments."

Payroll

"We have payroll in 4 jurisdictions and have added payroll systems like Gusto, iPayroll, CloudPayroll and Remote.com on an ad-hoc basis to date. While each of these systems integrate with Xero, a big project for us this year is transferring over to a fully integrated HRIS like Rippling where we can have all global employees on one system."
